CONGRESS PLANS FEDERAL ECONOMY

Appointment of Budget Committee First Step Toward Obeying Taft Order to Cut Expenses.

METHODS OF PAST POOR.

Much Money Spent for Things Not Needed, While Many Necessities Were Not Provided For.

BY RAYMOND.

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—Both in the departments and in congress a valiant effort in the direction of economy in government expenditures is being made. President Taft started the ball rolling by directing the department chiefs to make a personal cut in their estimates for the coming year, and this has been followed by steps taken in congress with the same end in view.

It always has been the habit for the heads of departments to make estimates considerably in excess of the amounts they expected to receive in the way of appropriations, and it has been equally the habit of congress to cut down those estimates, no matter whether they were good, bad, or indifferent.

Now President Taft has directed the department chiefs to cut out of their estimates enough money to wipe out the deficit. If congress follows its usual custom these estimates again will be cut down when the appropriations are made next year, and the result will be a comfortable balance on the right side of the ledger with which Secretary MacVeagh will have to deal after the next fiscal year. It is a great pity that congress already has made the appropriations for the year beginning on July 1, so that the spirit of economy cannot have effect for a considerable time to come.

Reductions Urged by Aldrich.

In the senate today Mr. Aldrich, as chairman of the committee on finance, found time to introduce a comprehensive resolution, the chief purpose of which was to be the cutting down of appropriations. Some little time ago the senate agreed upon a budget committee whose duty it was to be to make the appropriations for the government on the basis of the expected revenue.

In previous years the custom has been for each chairman of an important committee to secure every dollar from the public treasury which the senate could be induced to vote. There was rivalry between the different committees and each endeavored to have large appropriations. The result was that the committees which were first heard in the senate fared the best. Some of the most important bills always were delayed until toward the end of the session, the result being that they were deprived of the appropriations because of the extravagance earlier.

The intention now, for the first time in a generation or two, is to have concerted action, not only between the different committees but between the government departments as well. It is believed that in this way, without crippling the operations of the government in any important degree, the expenditures can be cut down and the deficit extinguished irrespective of what the new tariff bill may do to the revenue.

Great Power Given Committee.

Under the resolution submitted to the senate today the budget committee is directed to make exhaustive investigations regarding the expenditures of the government. It is to be given the authority to send for persons and papers, administer oaths, and employ any necessary help. It will sit both during the sessions of the senate and during the recess. The scope of the resolution was such that the committee will be authorized to call before it all of the department heads and bureau chiefs.

The purpose was not so much to cut down the appropriations for any particular department as to reduce them all to a satisfactory scale. The difficulty in the past has been that the secretary of the treasury simply forwarded to congress the estimates made by himself and his colleagues. In each department there were things good enough in their way, but which readily could be omitted.

Often there was rivalry between the war and navy departments as to which could or should spend the most money. Frequently the appropriations were made for things which were not absolutely necessary or which were at the best only experimental. Additional clerks were demanded for certain work, whereas it was well known that the same work could be accomplished by working the original force a little bit harder.

Supplies Allowed to Waste.

Supplies accumulated in both of the military departments and in the treasury and postoffice far in excess of the amount actually needed, and there always was a large percentage of the goods of various kinds which were spoiled during the period of storage, entirely due to the fact that the bureau chiefs, in their anxiety to equip their own offices, overestimated the needs for such supplies.

Finally, there was total lack in the government of any coöperation between different departments, so that congress was entirely at sea in regard to the total amount of money which was to be put at the disposal of the executive officers.

For the fiscal year just ended the total estimates amounted to $766,508,272. That was an increase over the estimates for the previous year of over $75,000,000. There were permanent annual expenditures provided for by the department chiefs which increased the estimates to $1,079,449,288. The estimates for the next fiscal year are even larger.

Good Record for Last Year.

When congress took hold of the work of providing money to run the government for one year, from July 1, 1909, it was confronted with this official estimate of over a billion dollars. Every one of the department chiefs insisted that every dollar asked for was absolutely necessary.

There has been no concert of action among them, and the appropriations committees of the house and senate had no means of setting one department off against another, as any wise business man would have done when confronted with a proposition that he was spending every year more money than he received.

There was a decrease, as a matter of course, as between the appropriations and the estimates. The demands of the departments were cut down $71,061,745, which is better

BRITAIN WARNED OF PACKER TRUST

Embassy at Washington Sends Government Report as to Working Plans of Chicago Meat Houses.

SURE A COMBINE EXISTS.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—A comprehensive report on the meat industry of the United States, showing the existence of a trust and its effect on prices, has been made to the British government, as a result of an exhaustive investigation directed by the British embassy in Washington. A copy of the report has been furnished to the state department by Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador in London.

The report was valuable to the departmental committee of the English board of trade in framing its conclusions that a beef trust exists in the United States, with headquarters in Chicago, which is seeking to control the business of the world in this product. The state department will refer the report to the department of justice, which will give it consideration in connection with the proposal to prosecute the National Packing company of Chicago for violation of the Sherman antitrust law.

The representative of the British embassy who conducted the inquiry was George Young, second secretary in charge of commercial affairs, who enjoys the distinction of being a member of the Victorian order.

Young's Description of Combine.

Mr. Young has this to say of the existence of a combination on the part of the packers:

"Besides a joint interest in the stockyards, a striking indication of the possibility of a combination is found in the situation of the National Packing company. The report of the bureau of corporations, made in 1905, mentioned the genesis of the National Packing company as being connected with the failure to form a general combination. There is no doubt that an amalgamation of the leading packing firms was contemplated in 1902, but failed owing partly to the financial stringency at that time, and partly to the difficulties as regards the price at which the component firms valued their business.

"A capitalization of $500,000,000 was mentioned, and the flotation was to have been financed by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. Schwarzschild & Sulzberger were said to have contributed to the collapse of the enterprise by demanding too high a price. The National Packing company was the shift to which recourse was had in consequence of this failure. This stock never has been on the market, and is practically all held by the directors and persons interested in the Armour, Swift, and Morris companies.

Tells of National Company.

"If the object of the National Packing company was merely to effect operative economies it would have been better done by merging the subsidiary companies with the concerns controlling them than by forming a new controlling firm, such as this company is. But if its real object was to facilitate combinations it would effect this in three different ways: by facilitating the acquirement of outside concerns, which it has undoubtedly done; by facilitating the elimination of competition between the leading firms, who are jointly interested in it, which it obviously must do, as competition by one of the jointly interested parties against another would prejudice its own interest in the joint concern; and by affording a convenient opportunity for the principals to meet and arrange prices or other questions regarding the combination.

"There is reason to believe that the principal independent firm, Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, continues to act independently in spite of the repeated rumors that its stock is controlled by the trust or that it will be shortly absorbed by it. Such a rumor was recently denied on the ground that the majority of the stockholders of the company had formed a voting trust to prevent rival interests from acquiring control of it, and that this trust has held a large enough percentage of stock to prevent any change in the control through the buying up of scattered holdings."

Result of Long Inquiry.

Mr. Young's report constitutes the result of an exhaustive inquiry of conditions which have developed since the bureau of corporations published the report of its inquiry in 1905.

In examining the grounds for laying the responsibility of the present high prices on the organization of the meat industry in the United States, he considered first what influence was exercised by the beef trust on the production or consumption of meat in the United States. He also looked into the question as to whether high prices could be attributable to a natural reduction of the supply of raw material. Incidentally, he says cattle can no longer be considered as raw material, but since the development of the feeding industry have become a manufacture of which the price is dependent on the cost of fodder, more especially maize; on the value of grazing land, on the cheapness of money, and on various other factors.

Such supplementary evidence as Mr. Young collected subsequent to 1905 tends, he says, to confirm the view that there has been permanent, progressive appreciation of the meat prices due to economic causes connected with the increased population and decrease of the grazing capacity of land. Further evidence collected in connection with the abnormal appreciation of last fall tends to show this may be attributed to the scarcity of certain crops and to stringency of capital.

Why Trade Is Concentrated.

As to the "effect on meat prices of the trust," to quote one of Mr. Young's subheads, the report states that the concentration of the industry in certain towns of the middle west, notably Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, and St. Joseph, can be sufficiently explained by the obvious economic advantages, such as the economy in expense of transportation, in the waste of by-products, and in the loss from the absence of a permanent market.

The report of the bureau of corporations showed the annual return of the packing companies on the capital invested was not excessive. This report was received with much incredulity, but Mr. Young observes

Y. M. C. A. TORN BY QUARREL

TWO RESIGN; TWO LOSE JOBS

Policies of Former Worker Are Assailed as "Old Fashioned."

Two state departmental secretaries of the Young Men's Christian association have resigned and two more have been summarily discharged from their positions by the Illinois Y. M. C. A. executive board as a result of a quarrel in which the four were involved.

Following the removal of two men from the heads of the railroad and the boys' departments a general call was issued to association secretaries of the state to meet in Bloomington, Ill., on Wednesday of this week.

The call was sent out by friends of the deposed secretaries, and with it went the intimation that, unless their reinstatement was secured, an attempt would be made to split the Illinois Y. M. C. A. or to reorganize it completely.

The crisis of trouble said to have been brewing in the state organization for the last six months came at the close of last week, when the state committee met and voted for the discharge of A. M. Bruner, head of the state railroad department, and L. L. McDonald, head of the boys' department.

Brown's Policy Is Assailed.

Both men are residents of Elgin, but have their departmental offices in the Association building, 153 La Salle street.

Following the action of the state committee it was announced that I. F. Brown, state secretary of the Y. M. C. A., had resigned a position he has held continuously for thirty years, and that the same action had been taken by L. A. Bowman, assistant state secretary.

Charges of insubordination and disloyalty were filed before the state committee by I. F. Brown against Bruner and McDonald. The latter in turn accused the state secretary with antiquated policies and old fashioned methods, and the railroad head charged that this was responsible for lack of progress in certain lines of state effort.

Jealousy Back of Quarrel.

Association men who are supporting the state executive committee in the quarrel and indorsing its position in discharging the two men from the service claim that Bruner has been anxious to become state secretary, the position paying a salary of $4,000 per year, whereas that of railroad secretary nets only $2,000.

L. A. Bowman, assistant state secretary, whose home is in Oak Park, said last night:

"These men were discharged for disloyalty to their superior officers. Bruner practically assumed the functions of the state secretary.

"The railroad head has had two secretaries, amenable to himself alone. Recently these assistants were assigned to the office of the state secretary. Bruner objected and forced the men to do work other than they were ordered to do."

Following directly on the discharge of Bruner and McDonald, friends inaugurated the movement for reinstatement, aiming to force this on a threat to split the state organization.

That Bruner and McDonald have been unjustly treated was charged by an association man last night.

"Neither of the men has been in the employ of the state committee long, but both have shown themselves aggressive and earnest workers," was stated. "But they have run up against prejudice and lack of precedent for their innovations and have accomplished what they have under the most trying circumstances."

Call Sent to Schumaker.

With four departmental heads away from their desks the state organization is at present in a chaotic condition. The state executive committee has issued a call to K. A. Schumaker, state secretary of Kansas, to accept the position in Illinois made vacant by the resignation of I. F. Brown. Schumaker formerly was assistant state secretary in Illinois.

WAYMAN ATTACK ENRAGES MADDEN

'HOW DID YOU GET AUTO?'

State's Attorney Asks Question in Trying to Show Extortion; Aids Testify and End Is Near.

The Madden case may go to the jury today. "Skinny" Madden himself, as well as his codefendants, Boyle and Pouchot, was placed on the witness stand yesterday in the trial before Judge McSurely. With the testimony of these three men concluded the defense announced it had only one more witness.

State's Attorney Wayman said his rebuttal would consume an hour. It is probable the arguments of both the state and the defense will be finished soon enough to permit of the court's instructions prior to adjournment of the afternoon session.

Madden, Boyle, and Pouchot each denied having been connected with any conspiracy, or that they ever had received money from any one in the strike on the Joseph Klicka building in the fall of 1908.

Crowd in Jam to See Madden.

The courtroom was crowded at the day's sessions in anticipation of the appearance of the defendants on the witness stand. When Attorney Brady announced to Judge McSurely that they would be called, men and women shifted their seats and attempted to crowd to the railing in order to get a better view of the witness chair. Throughout the day bailiffs were compelled to rap for order.

All three defendants displayed uneasiness on the witness stand, although the testimony brought out by the examination of attorneys for both sides was, in the main, favorable to their cause.

Pouchot took the chair near the close of the morning session. He detailed numerous conversations and conferences at which the Klicka strike had been discussed, supporting the claim of the defense that this strike was not out of the ordinary in any way, that it had been called for legitimate purposes, and was settled for the same reason.

Madden Faces Wayman Volleys.

The tense feeling between the state and the defense became apparent in the afternoon when Madden himself took the stand. The labor "czar" wore the olive green suit he has been dressed in every day of the trial. His face was paler than usual and he moved uneasily from one side of his chair to the other.

State's Attorney Wayman at once began plying him with questions in a loud tone of voice and Madden met the interrogations with replies just as emphatically spoken. Frequently Madden would attempt to give reasons for his replies, but Wayman would draw him out with a rapid volley of questions. At times both prosecutor and witness were talking at the tops of their voices.

Madden became even more excited, and, leaning forward in his chair, snapped back replies when the prosecutor asked such questions as this:

"How did you get your big automobile and the money to spend?"

Finally Attorney Brady leaped to his feet.

"Your honor, I object to the yelling the attorney for the state is doing," he cried.

"Objection is overruled, but don't yell," said Judge McSurely.

Shakes Hands at Prosecutor.

The examination took a modified tone for a few minutes and then State's Attorney Wayman touched on the fact that Madden had testified as to a conference with Andres

HOLD MIRROR UP TO FACULTY

Senior Class Students at U. of C. Criticise Instructors.

QUESTIONED BY COMMITTEE.

Attempt to Regulate Studies and Honesty in Examinations.

If expectations are realized some new and startling truths about themselves will be revealed to instructors in the University of Chicago.

Slips have been issued by the committee of education to the senior college students asking them confidentially just how they feel about their work, their instructors, and several other things. Now that returns are beginning to come in the faculty is becoming keenly interested.

"Which study did you have to devote most time to?" is one of the questions, followed by the complementary one of which demanded least time.

"Are there any to which you give no time at all, and which are the ones from which you got the least and the most good?"

These are others of the questions admitting of replies more or less personal.

Some of the instructors are said to figure dramatically in the written replies of the students, Dean George E. Vincent being one whose work is regarded as the reverse of simple, or what might be known as a "spring" course, comprising light literature. But all of the criticisms of his work bear the modifying comment, "we get a great deal out of them and they are well worth while."

"Works a Man Pretty Hard."

Prof. James Westfall Thompson of the department of history is another who draws the frequent comment of "working a man pretty hard." "There are certain questions that a fellow's got to know before he gets past Prof. Thompson," comments one student, "no matter whether he contracts nervous prostration while learning them or neglects every course to get them beaten into his head. One is the date when the Visigoths entered the empire, the other is the fact that Peter the Hermit did not start the crusades, and there are others 'fiercer' still to memorize."

As a statistic, the undergraduates have the chance to produce on this conscientious professor the fact that in a compulsory course in mediæval history he "flunked" 86 students in a total of 126.

Robert Herrick, novelist and instructor in English composition, is reported to give his students "so much work in one course that it takes all the time for their three classes." Prof. Starr, on the other hand, is one of those upon whom numbers comment as giving them information without the necessity of work.

The purpose of the slips is to obtain information for the faculty from the student body which will assist in regulating more intelligently the studies of the undergraduates and more particularly to establish some effective means for controlling any tendency to cheat in examinations.

Plan to Regulate Studies.

Most of the slips are in the hands of a committee of three, which will mark the gradings of the students responding on the slips, remove the names, and turn them over to the faculty.

Because the university never has been able to command perfect fairness in examinations this phase perhaps is viewed with greatest interest. The governing body of the students (senior and junior councils) has suggested to the faculty that a jury be established to try those found guilty of cheating. It is proposed that this jury be composed both of students and members of the faculty.

"Do you consider that dishonesty in class or examination work is common?" is one of the questions on the slips. "What courses seem to afford greatest temptations to cheat?"

The replies seem to indicate that most of the students consider the practice to be common, more particularly where specific answers to questions are demanded, mathematics, for instance.

It is believed the faculty will establish the jury.

TODAY MAY MAKE LORIMER SENATOR

DENEEN'S STAND A WORRY

Governor Thought to Have Advised Against a Bipartisan Fight; Browne and Sullivan Hold Key.

BY C. S. R.

Springfield, Ill., May 24.—[Special.]—William Lorimer and Albert J. Hopkins are on the mat tonight fighting vigorously and with complete disregard for the talk of the neighbors for enough votes to land the senatorship tomorrow. Lorimer is using every argument which can be presented to the minority side to win over enough Democratic votes to add to his Republicans and make a total large enough to secure Mr. Hopkins' seat.

Mr. Lorimer, in his talks with Republican members of the legislature, used the statement that he had received direct word from Washington indorsing his candidacy. He informed the legislators that President Taft had sent word out here that he preferred Mr. Lorimer, no matter how he was elected, to Mr. Hopkins, and that his information was to be given to Gov. Deneen.

Further, it was stated that President Taft had indicated that he believed Mr. Lorimer would be the most effective senator who could be chosen from among the men available and in the running.

The statement was used effectively among Republican members who were hesitating to vote for a Republican who depended for his election on the support of Democrats.

Today May See the Finish.

It is not an improbability that by tomorrow evening the bland and childlike congressman will be an equally bland and childlike senator. This is a dangerous prediction, because it is dependent on events which will not be fully ripened until morning. If they do not ripen, the prediction will look sickly because Mr. Lorimer is not likely to make even the semblance of an attempt on the senatorship unless he has counted enough votes in advance.

Representative Lee O'Neil Browne and Roger C. Sullivan hold the key to the solution in their hands. Their consent to another bipartisan alliance will make Lorimer senator.

Browne has been asked to turn his voting strength on the minority side over to Lorimer and has replied that if all Republicans suggested the congressman suits his ideas best, but that before he starts on any such program he wants to know that it will be successful. Furthermore, he does not care particularly to be engaged with the Sullivan Democrats in any such endeavors.

He has been informed variously by various representatives of the Lorimer cause that the congressman has thirty-two, thirty-seven, thirty-nine, forty-five, and even fifty Republican votes, and at a late hour tonight Browne was asking for a little more definite and more specific information.

Sullivan to Withhold Aid?

Roger C. Sullivan was reported to have been persuaded that it was bad politics for the Democrats to pitch themselves into Republican quarrels, and to have decided for this reason, and further because of his friendship for Mayor F. A. Busse, whose political prospects could not be helped by the election of Lorimer, not to aid and abet the Lorimer endeavors.

The reported attitude of Mr. Sullivan does not square with the activities of the Sullivan Democrats tonight. They are endeavoring to line up solidly for Lorimer, and are said to have succeeded in bringing all but seven members of the Tippit faction into camp for Lorimer's purpose tomorrow.

The mere fact that the Sullivan men are active for the congressman may drive the Browne Democrats away from him. This was the position taken by Mr. Browne himself, he saying that the one thing which made it distasteful to help elect Lorimer was the participation of the Sullivan Democrats in the same effort.

It is pretty generally conceded that the bland and childlike congressman is within a few votes of the necessary number to elect and these can be secured before morning if some "unfortunate" circumstance does not step on the plans.

Deneen Fears Bi-Partisan War.

Gov. Deneen is unexpectedly showing perturbation over the impending election of a Republican candidate by Democratic votes. The governor is not opposed to Lorimer's election if it can be secured by the votes of Republicans, but he has called several members of the legislature into his office tonight in an effort to show them what he considers would be the ruinous consequences of a bipartisan election, viewed from a Republican standpoint.

Mr. Deneen has been presumed to be winking at the bipartisan organization in behalf of Lorimer, although he was badly stung by the use of such a combination in the election of Shurtleff. He has been presumed to be willing to see Mr. Lorimer take Mr. Hopkins' seat, no matter how he got it, providing the state administration were not brought into the affair.

Lorimer and Deneen had a talk together this evening, and it was afterwards that the governor began sending for some of the legislators for whom he is regarded as personally responsible politically.

Democratic leaders, learning the governor was taking a hand in the matter, or at least appeared to be working against the use of Democrats for Lorimer, undertook at once to discover how far his influence would be felt in taking Republican votes away from the congressman.

Lorimer Must Prove Strength.

They do not want to fail if they deliver votes to a Republican. They know that no Democrat has the slightest chance of success and they are not unwilling to elect a Republican, but they do not want to deliver their votes and then have the effort fail. If all they can do is to stub their toes in walking across to the majority side of the house again they prefer to remain at home.

If Mr. Lorimer, between now and noon tomorrow, can show the Democrats that their strength, added to the Republican votes he can make stick, will elect him, he is likely to have his title deeds to Hopkins' possessions in the United States senate signed by night.

The Republicans are in a quandary. If they could feel assured that they could vote with Democrats for the election of a Republican senator other than Hopkins and not have the hide taken off of them by their constituents they would come across in sufficient numbers to turn the trick.

They are a bit afraid or pretend to be. The dyed in the wool Shurtleff and Lorimer men do not care, but the members of the "Band of Hope" who have been voting against Hopkins have susceptibilities for which they have a tender regard. If any one would go bond in security for their immunity from criticism and attack after they had given aid and comfort to the proposed bi-partisan senatorial alliance, they would be willing to take a chance.

In spite of all the embarrassments in which the program is said to be situated tonight it is so far determined to go ahead with it that all the absent members of the legislature who can be influenced by the men in charge of the Lorimer movement have been ordered by the gentleman to be in their seats tomorrow for the roll call.

The effort may come to nothing, but all the votes which can be depended on will be present when the joint assembly meets. This includes Democrats as well as Republicans. The bi-partisan plan has been deevloped far enough to warrant the Democratic leaders in sending for their absent followers and requesting them to be present without fail.

Hopkins Is Not Dismayed.

Mr. Hopkins is convinced that Lorimer must make his effort tomorrow or abandon all hope. He is hopeful that the effort will be made and be a failure, believing that nothing will be heard of bipartisanship so far as the senatorship is concerned. One attempt at election by the use of Republicans and Democrats combined will be the last one, in his opinion.

He and his friends have been doing everything in their power to keep Lorimer from landing enough Democrats.

Lorimer's chances of success were not helped any by the actions of the northwest side "Helping Hand association," the members of which are in Springfield. They called a caucus of the northwest side members for shortly after midnight. Such men as Joseph Haas, John Devine, and Congressman Fred Lundin came out openly in statements that no aid would be given to Lorimer.

It is understood that the southern Illinois Republicans have lined up for the Chicago congressman. United States District Attorney William Trautmann of East St. Louis was in conference with Lorimer, and is said to have told him that all but two or three of the Republican members from the southern part of the state would vote for him.

Lorimer Claims 61 Democrats.

The latest figures from the Lorimer side estimate that thirty-four Browne Democrats, nineteen Tippit Democrats, and eight Democratic senators will vote for Lorimer in the morning. Senator Hopkins concedes Lorimer thirty Republican votes. The Lorimer claim runs as high as fifty.

Senator C. R. Jandus, the senate minority leader, said that eight Democratic votes for Lorimer would be cast from the upper branch of the legislature. The Hopkins lieutenants say that there will be no attempt to run up the Hopkins vote unless Lorimer starts openly after the prize.

Hopkins himself says his own election is assured either tomorrow or Wednesday with the complete support of Gov. Deneen, this hopeful opinion being based on the supposition that the Lorimer attempt will be made and will be a failure, or that it will be found a failure in advance of an open effort.

Witness Says Buffalo Publisher Was to Get Back Money for U. S. I. Telephone Securities.

Rochester, N. Y., May 24.—[Special.]—Democratic State Committeeman Thomas W. Finucane told today on the witness stand how William J. ["Fingy"] Conners came to have stock in the U. S. I. Telephone company of a par value of $2,000,000. It was during an examination of the company's directors held to obtain information on which to base suits for recovering investments that the disclosure was made. It appeared much of the stock has been given away. John C. Milburn has been engaged to defend the directors when their trials are held.

"Did you deliver to W. J. Conners of Buffalo $2,000,000 in bonus stock?" was asked of Mr. Finucane.

"I did not, but Mr. Finn did, at my order," he replied.

"Did he pay for it in money?"

"No, not in money."

"Then why did he get $2,000,000 in bonus stock?"

"He is an influential man, owning newspapers in Buffalo. The time payment on the stock was postponed until it became necessary. He was to have his money back by agreement."

"And he got the stock without paying any money?"

"Yes."

"And he has not returned the stock?"

"He has not."

SMITH'S FINAL PLEA JUNE 1.

Former Judge Faces Formidable Evidence That He Profited in Bank of America Crash.

Former Judge Abner Smith, under sentence to the penitentiary for complicity in the wrecking of the Bank of America three years ago, is to appear before the state board of pardons at Springfield next Tuesday, June 1, to make his final plea for clemency.

Notice to this effect was received yesterday from Springfield by Attorneys Darrow, Masters and Wilson, who have prepared a formidable statement for the purpose of indicating that the former judge profited financially by the wrecking of the bank.

Mr. Smith, who spent the afternoon at the office of his brother at 78 La Salle street, appeared to be in better spirits after he heard the news. All the papers he has prepared in his own defense are on file at Springfield.

Rabbi M. Wolf, Rabbi Nathan Budzinski, Rabbi Sol. H. Bauer, Dr. B. H. Breakstone and Judge Julian H. Mack also spoke of the plans to raise $75,000 for the building.

CALL TO CAPITAL DISTURBS JUDGES

PARTY HEADS HURRY OUT

"Catch Trains" for Springfield, Where Senatorial Battle Is About to Reopen.

With party wheelhorses chafing to be off to the senatorial circus at Springfield and some of them actually breaking away to catch trains in the intervals between introductions the Republican judicial candidates last night entered upon the final two weeks of their campaign at a meeting in Colonial hall, Indiana avenue and Thirty-first street. Chauncey Dewey introduced Charles Alling Jr. as master of ceremonies, and Mr. Alling distributed verbal bouquets to his fellow candidates after assisting in hoisting them to the top of a table which served as a rostrum.

All the candidates explained carefully that they were "muzzled" so that the audience would not make the mistake of supposing that the five minute admonitories to "get out and vote the ticket" were definable as speeches. The candidates said they were not making speeches, and the audience took their word for it. The audience missed Charles W. Vail, Mr. Dewey, and others soon after the meeting started, and it was stated that the call to Springfield was sounding as loudly in the First and Second wards as elsewhere.

Kickham Scanlan, as usual, successfully sustained his reputation for finding a "tie that binds" in every ward in Chicago by telling his hearers of a six months' session with lemon cream pie and wheat cakes in the old Dake bakery after he was out of college.

Put Vim in Lorimer Boom.

Earlier in the day Republican leaders favorable to William Lorimer, congressman of the Sixth district, for senator, got together, and, according to report, prepared to "boost" their favorite at Springfield with all the vim they can muster. Mr. Dewey's departure for Springfield in the evening was looked upon as significant in this regard, it being considered that Senators Charles L. Billings and Samuel A. Ettelson are two of those that Mr. Dewey counts on holding in line for Lorimer.

Plans for political activity in Chicago tonight include Republican meetings at Lower Lincoln Turner hall, Sheffield avenue and Diversey boulevard, at 8 o'clock, and Ashland hall, Ashland avenue and Addison street, at 9 o'clock.

Next Saturday a special train over the Illinois Central from Randolph street, Sixty-third street and Kensington, will carry the Republican judicial candidates and the spellbinders to Blue Island, where a big meeting has been planned.

Democratic Captains Meet.

Democratic precinct captains of the Twenty-first ward met in North Side Turner hall in the evening to get their final instructions on the coming election.

It had been announced by Ward Vice Chairman Jacob H. Hopkins, who presided, that the judicial candidates would not indulge in politics, and none of the incumbents did, and the aspirants referred to politics sparingly, with one exception. The exception was Richard E. Burke, a late arrival, who cast a little gloom over the gathering by admitting that the Republican ticket had candidates just as good as the Democrats.

Among the judges present were Lockwood Honoré, Edward O. Brown, Frank Baker, Thomas G Windes, Richard W. Clifford, and Julian W. Mack.

Fifty business men, admirers of John P. McGoorty, Democratic candidate for judge of the Circuit court, gave a complimentary dinner to him and organized the Nonpartisan Business Men's McGoorty club at the Illinois Athletic club last night. The dinner was a private affair and informal addresses complimentary to Mr. McGoorty were delivered.

SAY ONLY "DRYS" NEED APPLY.

Cumberland Presbyterians Believe Their Votes Should Go to Oppose Liquor Licenses.

Bentonville, Ark., May 24.—Not only did the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church declare its adherence to the principles of prohibition today but went a step further.

Resolutions declaring that "no person or set of men who favor the license or sale of liquor has the right to expect or receive the votes of Christian men, and any candidate for office who declines to speak openly against the traffic deserves not, and should not, receive our support," were adopted.

"We have not the control of men's mouths nor can we hope to gain that control," the resolutions declare further, "but by our prayerful united efforts it is possible and probable that we can control this traffic before it reaches the mouths of our future and many of our present generation."

BOY SURPRISES NEGRO BURGLAR

Knocked Unconscious and Later Rescued by Firemen When House Is Discovered in Flames.

John Adams, 18 years old, surprised a negro burglar in the kitchen of his brother's home last evening and while attempting to drive out the intruder was knocked unconscious.

A few minutes later the house, which is at 1023 Emerson street, was found to be on fire and the boy was rescued by firemen.

Six men who are said to have made their headquarters in a house on the north shore were arrested during the day. One was charged with being concerned in an attack on Jacob Thorson, a trolley car conductor, and he is said to have implicated the other men. They gave their names as Stanley Rodzick, Paul Stepek, Thomas Barry, Joseph Lesnik, Stanley Hildman, and Frank O'Neall.

Chief Executive Unable to Get Into Indianapolis Masonic Temple at Final Dedicatory Exercises.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 24.—So great was the crowd that assembled at the new Masonic temple tonight for the closing exercises of the dedication day that Gov. Marshall, who was on the program for an address, was unable to get into the auditorium, and consequently did not speak.

The governor telephoned from a nearby drug store, telling the committee in charge of the dedication his plight.

A director of the lodge was sent to escort the state's chief executive to the stage, but again the crowd caused delay, and when the director reached the drug store Gov. Marshall had gone home.

Illinois Jurist Dead at Galesburg.

DEATH PRIMARY ACT FACTOR?

Scott's Demise May Tie Supreme Bench on Decision.

STATE FUNERAL IS PLANNED

Passing of Illinois Judge Necessitates Special Election.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., May 24.—[Special.]—The death of Supreme Court Justice Guy C. Scott at Galesburg this morning was a distinct shock to the returning members of the legislature and to the state officials. Aside from the sorrow felt by his friends, including practically every member of the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of the state government, Justice Scott's death is likely to have a decisive influence in legislative matters.

Preparations are being made for a state funeral, although the arrangements are tentative. It is probable Gov. Deneen, the state officers, and numerous legislators will go to Aledo, the home of the justice, for the burial services.

The house of representatives adjourned this afternoon as a mark of respect to the dead jurist after eulogies were spoken by Representatives Chiperfield of Fulton, Donahue of McLean, and Huston of Hancock.

Tie on Primary Act Decision?

There was much speculation as to what may be the effect of Justice Scott's death as to the primary law decision. It has been the belief for some time that the seven members of the court had been seriously divided over the constitutionality of the primary act which has been brought before the court for review in connection with the primary fraud cases in the Healy-Wayman election contest from Chicago.

It is the gossip that the court, prior to Justice Scott's death, stood four to three in favor of declaring unconstitutional the primary law.

This is merely gossip, but, upon it as a basis, it was held today in Springfield that the court is now a tie upon the primary law, and that in any event a decision is not now expected until a successor to Justice Scott shall have been elected and qualified.

As to the general assembly, the point was raised that the haste to get a sine die adjournment has been due to the fact that the legislative leaders had no desire to be in session should the Supreme court return next week and hand down a decision, which would have forced upon them the unpleasant duty of starting anew upon the enactment of a fresh primary law.

Necessitates a Special Election.

Justice Scott's demise necessitates a special election and a special primary, to be called by Gov. Deneen. The special election probably will be held ninety days after the call. Political leaders from the district said Judge Robert J. Grier of Monmouth may be the Republican candidate to succeed Scott, with the probability that Judge Harry Higbee of Pittsfield will be put forward by the Democrats. Scott's term would have expired in 1912.

The justice died at 7:20 o'clock in Galesburg hospital. Gangrenous appendicitis caused spreading peritonitis and consequent exhaustion which did not permit him to rally.

On May 13, apparently in the best of health, Judge Scott attended a banquet of the Rock Island Bar association in Moline. On May 16 he was taken suddenly with appendicitis. Last Tuesday Dr. J. F. Percy of Galesburg took charge of the case, but did not attempt an operation owing to the serious conditions he found. On Friday evening the judge was taken to the Galesburg hospital and the next morning an operation was attempted. Without removing the appendix, which it was felt might prove fatal, the physicians placed drainage tubes in the opening after removing much pus. Judge Scott came out of the operation in good condition and during the day seemed to improve. Saturday night he did not rest well.

Sunday afternoon he began to have flighty spells and did not rally as expected. The change for the worse came this morning at 8:40 o'clock, after which he became unconscious. Mrs. Scott and their daughter were at his side when death came. The funeral will be held Friday at Aledo.

SKETCH OF HIS CAREER.

Judge Guy C. Scott was born on Aug. 14, 1863, in Henderson county, Ill., and grew to manhood on an Illinois farm. He attended the common schools and then went to Knox college at Galesburg. He was admitted to the bar on Sept. 24, 1886. He opened a law office in Aledo, Mercer county, Ill., where he resided until death and where he practiced his profession until his election to the bench.

In 1897 he was the Democratic candidate for Circuit judge of the Fourteenth circuit, but was defeated. In June, 1903, he was elected from the Fourth district, judge of the Supreme court of Illinois, and in June, 1906, became chief justice of that court. He was the youngest judge on the bench.

Scott was a delegate to the Democratic national convention in 1892 and for four years was chairman of the Mercer county Democratic committee. He served one term as a member of the Democratic state committee.

While practicing law Scott was at different times associated with John C. Pepper, George A. Cooke, and James M. Brock. That he ranked high in the estimation of his townsmen was evidenced by the fact that while Aledo is a Republican stronghold, Scott was three times its mayor.

June seems to have been a propitious month for Judge Scott, for in addition to becoming a supreme judge and a chief supreme judge in that month, he was married in that month. On June 11, 1891, he wedded Miss Jessie Irvin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Irvin of Aledo. To them was born a daughter, Miss Kathryn, who is now 14 years old.

LOOKS MORE ROSY FOR BOND BILLS.

CHICAGO BOOSTERS ALERT

City's Deputations Arrive on Scene and Begin to Make Hay.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., May 24.—[Special.]—The house organization proposes to stand for the bond bills and to eliminate the Chicago restriction demands from downstate sources as a factor in their consideration provided the senate will work out an agreeable plan for a referendum bill which can be passed through the general assembly before the legislature quits business.

This information came directly from the inner circles of the house organization tonight and as a consequence it is believed the bond bills are in much safer circumstances than appeared possible last night.

This belief is premised upon the theory that the senate has not become wholly unmanageable and that safe and sane discussion with a few of the senators who have been wabbling will be sufficient to convince them that the bond bills and the collateral referendum bill should become laws.

House Conscience Not Factor.

The house has passed the bond bills so that those measures as such are not upon the house conscience. Warlike attitude of the house organization as to the referendum bill, which is not yet introduced, means the end of the bond bills, as everybody who is informed believes, so that the word from the front that the house leaders wish to have the issue pushed through on its merits is a substantial word of cheer.

The Chicago friends of the bond bills arrived late tonight. They were preceded by substantial delegations from down state cities who demonstrate a thorough interest in the measures and who are here ready to declare that a blow at the bond bills will hurt the down state cities more than it will Chicago. For this battle at least the down state city officials will join hands with Chicago and it is almost certain that the influence will be substantially felt immediately in the consideration of the bills themselves and the correlated issues.

Chicago's Position Stated.

"Hurt Chicago and you hurt us," is the talk of the representatives of the smaller municipalities and they are doing most effective work in heading off the cry of the politicians that Chicago is about to become the dominating unit in state politics, which, after all, is the obstruction in the down state windpipe.

From what Speaker Shurtleff and other leaders in the house management had to say tonight any sort of a fair referendum bill which can be prepared will be satisfactory to the house. Whatever bill is to be introduced will be completed before morning and will have the full approbation of enough interests on both sides of the capitol to assure the bill's passage in both senate and house. If this can be arranged with agreement on all sides the bond bills should have comparatively little trouble.

The anti-Chicago cry has decreased noticeably since the arrival of the representatives of the down state cities with their plea for favorable action.

Lack of Quorum in House.

The house had a desperate time in transacting business during the day due to lack of a quorum. The speaker had earnestly requested the presence of enough representatives, both Friday afternoon, Saturday, and this morning, to maintain a quorum which could pass the bills which choke the calendar. There was not enough until late this afternoon, and they stayed long enough to pass two minor bills and then dissolved into mist. Speaker Shurtleff admitted tonight that the failure of the members to be here for business during the last three sessions has put a serious crimp in a sine die adjournment Saturday night.

The net result of the day's work in the house was the passage of the senate's anti-San José scale bill by a vote of 79 to 0, and the passage of the senate's bill providing for the joint construction by counties of bridges which cross county boundaries.

The message of Gov. Deneen vetoing the bill providing for an examining board for chiropodists was received, and the tax levy bill was introduced. Scores of bills were advanced on the calendar, however, by unanimous consent, and all the bills which the senate has passed were reported in to the house and most of them sent to committees.

Waterways Legislation at End.

The deep waterways bill was one of the latter class. It came in this morning and was at once referred to the house committee on waterways and canals, of which Representative Smejkal is chairman. For all practical purposes the senate bill seems to be dead and it is predicted that the only action now in sight is the death of the senate bill in the Smejkal committee and an end to any effort to push the Smejkal bill now before the house. Reduced down, this means that waterways legislation at this session of the legislature is at an end and a worthy subject for a special session of the general assembly.

Holaday's uniform textbook bill was amended so as to apply to cities of 100 or less instead of 200,000 or less, and sent to third reading. The amendment takes the life out of the original bill.

Senate bill 312 compelling the superintendent of public service of Cook county to purchase all county jail supplies was sent to third reading. It becomes effective on July 1, 1910, if it is passed.

Representative Shanahan recalled the omnibus appropriation bill to second reading and amended it to provide that the governor may use the unexpended portion of the $100,000 appropriation of two years ago for continuing the Illinois Central investigation, to permit the superintendent of public instruction to publish the report of the educational commission, and to authorize the commission on occupational diseases to continue its labors at an expense of $15,000.

Church Burglar Is Fined.

Michael Moran, who was captured by two priests early Sunday morning as he was entering at the basement window of the parish house of Holy Angels' Roman Catholic church, was fined $200 and costs yesterday by Judge Stewart in Hyde Park court. The police say he is an ex-convict.

FIXING OF TAX RATE BEGINS

Difference of $1,700,000 Between House and Senate.

HURBURGH'S LIMIT 52 CENTS

Gov. Deneen's Sympathies with Upper Branch in Contest.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., May 24.—[Special.]—The big job of holding down the state tax rate was begun in earnest today with a difference of opinion involving something like $1,700,000 existing between Representative David Shanahan of the house appropriation committee and Senator Hurburgh of the senate committee.

Mr. Shanahan is inclined to believe that the state tax rate will have to be in the neighborhood of 56 or 57 cents, an increase which would be received with much displeasure, at least downstate. Mr. Hurburgh has proposed to cut the appropriations until he can hold the rate at 50 cents, or at least, not allow it to go above 52 cents.

The house contemplates the raising of $14,200,000 by taxation in the next two years and Representative Shanahan this evening introduced a revenue bill providing for it and authorizing the governor, the auditor, and the state treasurer to compute the tax rate which will be necessary to raise such a sum, and authorizing the auditor to certify the rate to the county clerks. This money is distributed as follows in the house bill:

| Revenue fund assessment of 1909 | $ 6,100,000 |
| Revenue fund assessment of 1910 | 6,100,000 |
| School fund assessment of 1909 | 1,000,000 |
| School fund assessment of 1910 | 1,000,000 |
| Totals | $14,200,000 |

Plans to Cut It to $12,500,000.

Mr. Hurburgh proposes to cut this down to $12,500,000, and by doing so hopes to hold the tax rate down to 50 cents. In the opinion of the house appropriations committee too much reliance is being placed by the senate on other methods of revenue aside from taxation, and it is the opinion of the house appropriations committee that they cannot be relied on as certainties to produce the money appropriated.

The house appropriation bills now total $19,500,000. From sources other than taxation Mr. Shanahan estimates that a total of $8,724,310 can be raised. Of this $3,500,000 must be protected as a working balance. That leaves $5,224,000 available for appropriations, which amount deducted from the $19,500,000 leaves, in round numbers, $14,200,000 to be raised by taxation.

Figures in House Estimates.

The amounts and the sources which figure in the house estimates of revenue to be derived from other sources follow:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Balance in state treasury May 1, 1909 | | $2,744,045 |
| Taxes of 1908 uncollected (estimated) | | 2,300,000 |
| Total | | $5,044,045 |
| Appropriations Forty-fifth G. A., undrawn, less probable lapses | $1,498,509 | |
| Auditor's warrants outstanding May 1, 1909 | 361,226 | —$1,859,735 |
| Balance | | $3,184,310 |
| Miscellaneous receipts for two years (estimated)— | | |
| From Illinois Central railroad | | $2,200,000 |
| From secretary of state account fees | | 850,000 |
| From insurance department | | 850,000 |
| From U. S. government for agricultural college | | 70,000 |
| From U. S. government for soldiers and sailors' home | | 320,000 |
| From inheritance tax collections | | 1,100,000 |
| From other miscellaneous sources | | 150,000 |
| Total | | $8,724,310 |
| Deduct for working balance | | 3,500,000 |

Governor with the Senate.

The governor's sympathies are with the senate in this contest and it is next to a certainty that if the two appropriation committees do not succeed in reaching a compromise which will hold down the taxes, his veto will be used to reduce the amounts allowed in the various bills when they reach him for action.

SUICIDE "FAKED" BY SLAYER TO AVOID POSSIBLE LYNCHING

Negro Who Had Shot Woman Covers Self with Blood When Cornered—Injuries Are Not Serious.

Lima, O., May 25.—[Special.]—Surrounded by police after a long chase, John W. Beam, a negro lawyer, "faked" suicide to avoid lynching which he feared. He was accused of murdering Mrs. Estella M. Diltz, a widow, who was shot last night at her home as she opened the front door in response to pounding upon the door.

At the hospital where Beam was taken it was learned that his injuries are slight. He apparently rubbed blood in his hair and upon his face to simulate serious injury.

Rumors that a mob was forming with the intention of lynching Beam caused Sheriff Van Gunten to remove his prisoner from the city hospital to the county jail tonight. Beam was escorted to jail under a heavy guard.

Dr. U. S. Beam, a brother of the prisoner and a wealthy citizen of Lima, closed his office and left for his old home in Kentucky today. Colored people urged him to leave, as they feared he might be lynched if he remained. Dr. Beam's wife is a white woman, and this aided in infuriating the residents against him.

A search of Beam's papers in his office today indicated Beam was in love with the widow. A letter addressed to his wife, in endearing terms, was found in which Beam told of his love for Mrs. Diltz, which had extended over two years. In concluding the letter directs: "Have Estella and myself buried side by side that we may arise together."

Sharpshooter Shot; Open Verdict.

SIX IN CONTEMPT OF HIGHEST COURT

Tennessee Sheriff and Others Found Guilty of Conspiracy to Lynch Negro.

DECISION A RARE ONE.

Case Practically First of Kind; Punishment to Be Assessed Next Tuesday.

Washington, D. C., May 24.—For the first time in so serious a case the Supreme court of the United States will on next Tuesday undertake to mete out punishment for the crime of contempt of the court itself, and the importance of the occasion will be enhanced by the number of defendants.

The proceeding will take place in connection with the cases of ex-Sheriff Shipp and Deputy Sheriff Gibson of Hamilton county, Tenn., and of four other residents of that county named, respectively, Williams, Nolan, Padgett, and May.

These men were today declared by the court to be guilty of an act of contempt in combining in 1905 in a conspiracy to lynch a negro named Johnson, who had been sentenced to death by the local courts on the charge of rape, and in whose case the Supreme court had interfered to the extent of granting an appeal which had the effect of a supersedeas.

On the night following the announcement of the court's action Johnson was taken out of the jail in Chattanooga by a mob and lynched. There was no resistance on the part of the jail authorities and Shipp and a number of his deputies, as well as about twenty citizens, were proceeded against on the charge of contempt of the federal court.

Six Defendants to Be Held.

The case has been pending since, and the number of defendants was from time to time reduced to nine. Of these nine three were found guiltless, while the other six were ordered to be brought into court next Tuesday for sentence. They will be taken into custody immediately and will appear in court in charge of Marshal Wright. The sentence may be either fine or imprisonment, or both.

The case is regarded as of exceptional interest because it is practically the first time that the highest court in the United States ever has undertaken to assert its dignity or to resent acts or words reflecting upon it.

Reviewing the proceedings in the case of Johnson, Chief Justice Fuller pointed out that even before the case was brought to the Supreme court there had been many threats of lynching because of the serious character of the negro's offense. Continuing he said of the proceeding on the night of the lynching:

"The assertions that mob violence was not expected and that there was no occasion for providing more than the usual guard of one man for the jail in Chattanooga are quite unreasonable and inconsistent with statements made by ex-Sheriff Shipp and his deputies that they were looking for a mob on the next day."

Thinks Court Was Defied.

In conclusion the chief justice said:

"In our opinion it does not admit of question on this record that the lamentable riot was the direct result of [illegible] to the administration of the law [illegible] court. It was not only in defiance of our mandate, but was understood to be such.

"When this court granted a stay of execution on Johnson's application it became its duty to protect him until his case should be disposed of. And when its mandate issued for his protection was defied punishment of those guilty of such attempt must be awarded"

In the dissenting opinion of Justice Peckham, which was acquiesced in by Justices White and McKenna, there was also a complete review of the case, and in this opinion the conclusion arrived at was quite contrary to that of the majority of the court. It was held by the dissenters that there was no evidence whatever connecting ex-Sheriff Shipp or his deputy with any part in the lynching conspiracy.

Decision Shocks Ex-Sheriff Shipp.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 24.—The decision of the Supreme court of the United States in the contempt case of ex-Sheriff J. F. Shipp has shocked this city greatly. The aged ex-sheriff appears stunned and his friends decline to discuss the case, preferring to wait until sentence is pronounced. The aged defendant is taking his conviction much to heart.

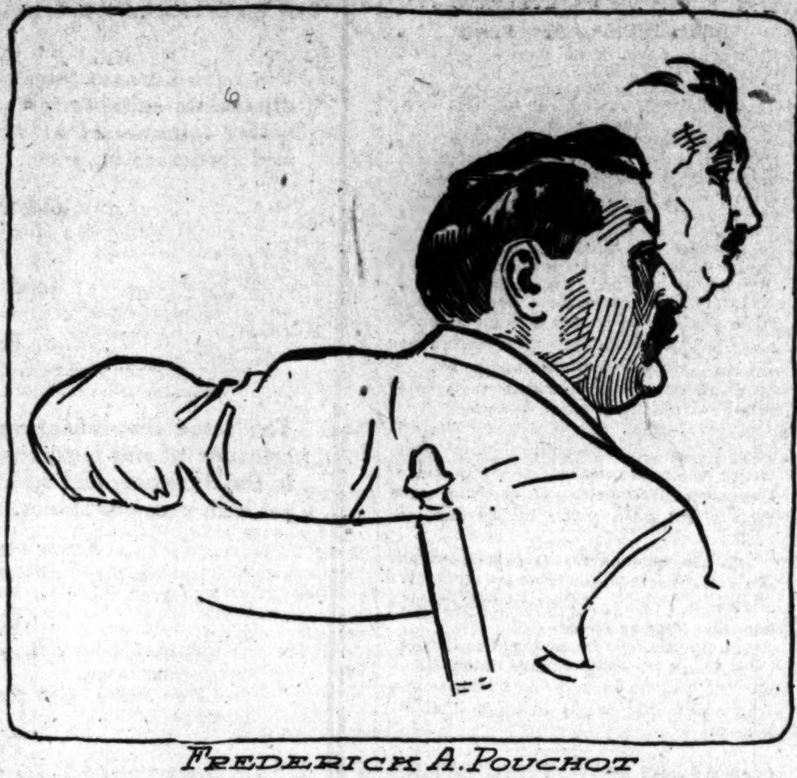
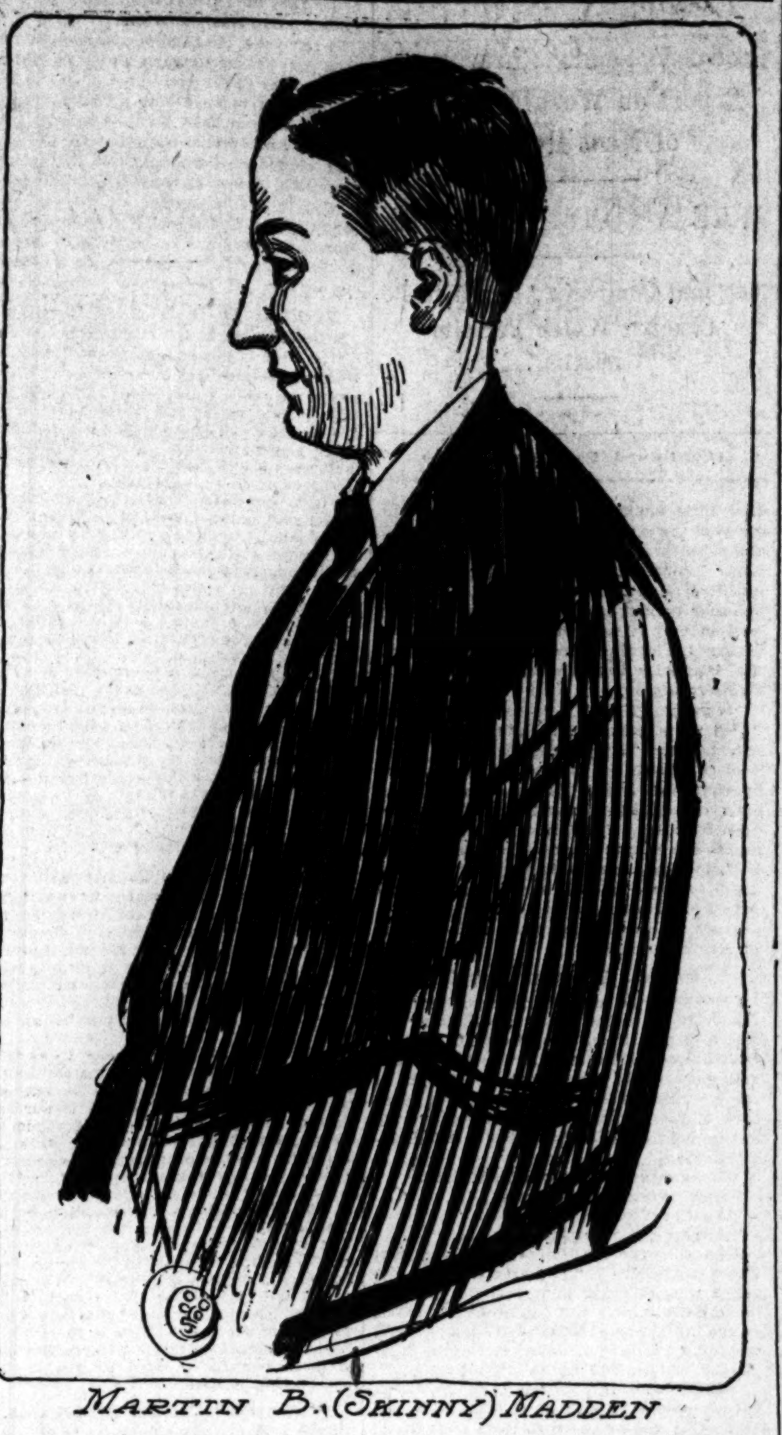
"Skinny" Madden and His Lieutenant as They Looked Under Fire by Wayman.



FREDERICK A. POUCHOT



MARTIN B. (SKINNY) MADDEN

Both Madden and Pouchot were severely cross examined by State's Attorney Wayman yesterday in the trial of the two and M. J. Boyle on the charge of conspiracy to extort money in connection with the settlement of a strike. "Skinny" in fact quite lost his temper when the prosecutor asked him how he had managed to purchase his big automobile. The labor leader shook his fist at Wayman, but the state's attorney nevertheless continued his line of questioning.

STRIKES AT PIERS AND BEACHES, TOO

GUARDS THE LAKE FRONT

Restrictions Put on Establishment of Bathing Resorts and Amusement Parks.

By unanimous vote the city council last evening authorized and requested Mayor Busse to ask the war department to recall the certificate waiving governmental objections to the construction of the lake piers projected by the Pugh Terminal company.

The establishment of private bathing beaches and amusement parks without a majority of frontage consent was forbidden by an ordinance which provides that in the future, where the adjoining property is used for residential purposes, the consent of two-thirds of the frontage for 100 feet on either side of the proposed beach or park must be obtained. The ordinance does not affect beaches and parks already established. It was passed over the objection of Ald. Dever.

Rehearing Is Not Requested.

The wording of the resolution by which action to have the Pugh pier permit revoked was taken was more explicit than had been expected. The committee on harbors, wharves, and bridges had agreed upon asking a rehearing of the company's application for the certificate with revocation as the end in view. The resolution did not mention the possibility of a rehearing.

Two other resolutions were presented, but both were sent to the harbor committee. The first was fathered by Ald. Frank W. Koraleski and demanded an investigation of the rights of the Chicago Lighterage company—a Pugh corporation. The second was introduced by Ald. Stanley H. Kunz, his associate, at the unannounced request of an attorney who has been active in harbor matters.

The object here was the cancellation of the Pugh certificate by congress with an edict that no other Chicago certificate should issue without the sanction of both houses of congress.

The resolution adopted—introduced by Chairman Foell of the harbor committee—met with no criticism except from Ald. Kunz, who insisted that it may be amended to provide for the solicitation by a committee of congressional approval for the construction of piers by the city.

Text of Pier Resolution.

The text of the resolution follows:

Whereas, The report of the Chicago harbor commission as submitted to the city council of the city of Chicago on March 1, 1909, recommends urgently the immediate construction of piers and other harbor facilities on the lake front between the mouth of the Chicago river and Chicago avenue, and,

Whereas, The council committee on harbors, wharves, and bridges to whom that report was referred, and the special harbor commissioner appointed by the mayor in pursuance thereof are now actually engaged in necessary preliminary work in connection with the carrying out of the recommendations of the harbor commission in the immediate future; and,

Whereas, The best interests of the city of Chicago at this time imperatively demand that no rights be granted to any person, firm, or corporation, the assertion of which would in any way hamper, embarrass, or delay the city in carrying out the policies which are now being formulated for comprehensive harbor developments;

City's Request Disregarded.

Whereas, The war department of the United States government on Feb. 26, 1909—four days before the harbor commission's report was transmitted to the city council—in disregard of the request of the authorities of the city of Chicago that the granting of a permit be held in abeyance until the city had determined on its harbor plans, issued to the Chicago Dock and Canal company (a corporation organized by special act of the Illinois legislature in 1857, claiming the right under its charter to construct piers and wharves on the submerged lands of Lake Michigan) a permit to construct three piers immediately north of the mouth of the Chicago river, each projecting into the lake a distance of 2,500 feet; and,

Whereas, It is highly improbable that the federal authorities would grant a permit to the city of Chicago for harbor development at the same location, should application be made therefor, so long as the permit to the Chicago Dock and Canal company is outstanding; now, therefore be it

Resolved, That his honor the mayor be and he is hereby authorized and respectfully requested to ask the war department of the United States government to revoke said permit to the Chicago Dock and Canal company in order that the city of Chicago may in no wise be hindered in carrying out fully and promptly the harbor plans and policies now being formulated, as soon as they can be definitely determined.

Objection to Kunz's Project.

The resolutions presented by Ald. Kunz were not for adoption by the council. He asked that a committee be appointed to take them to Washington with a plan of having them adopted by the house of representatives and concurred in by the senate. Success of the plan would require the secretary of war to erase all records of the certificate to the Pugh company and instruct him to issue no other permits without congressional action. Several aldermen, however, thought an effort to "go over the head" of the secretary of war in such a manner would be unwise.

"To say the least," objected Ald. Bernard W. Snow, "the language of these resolutions is drastic, and the method of procedure suggested is extreme; but, above those objections, there is the fact that this session of congress is called for a specific purpose, and this matter could not be taken up. I move it go to the harbor committee."

Ald. Kunz moved as a substitute that the rules be suspended and his motion passed. Ald. Cullerton protested that the adoption of the committee's resolutions constituted sufficient action by the city; but Ald. Kunz insisted on a roll call and he was defeated—42 to 22. The sponsor then asked that they be sent to the harbor committee.

Ald. Koraleski's resolution that the corporation counsel be instructed to investigate the validity of the lease of the Chicago Lighterage company on the stub ends of ten north side streets and the rights of the company to do business in Illinois met with no comment.

Women Applaud Council Action.

Action by the council on the bathing beach ordinance was watched with interest by a delegation from the Windsor Park Woman's club, headed by the wife of Ald. Jones, and they manifested their approval when the ordinance was passed by such loud applause that Mayor Busse had to order the officers to maintain order.

Inferentially the ordinance aims a blow at the bathing beach at Wilson avenue, against which residents in the vicinity have been complaining and which has been permitted to exist by sufferance, no license having been granted. The ordinance does not affect bathing beaches already licensed by the city, neither does a similar ordinance providing for the same amount of frontage consent for the establishment of an amusement park interfere with amusement parks that are now in operation.

Ald. Dever's objection to the bathing beach ordinance was based on the ground that it practically places it in the hands of a few property owners to restrict the use of the beach for bathing purposes.

City's Rights Not Forfeited.

Ald. Dunn, who introduced the ordinance, explained that there was nothing in the ordinance restricting the right of the city to establish and maintain municipal bathing beaches, a policy which he declared was recommended by nearly every one.

"The lake front is the only natural playground that this city has," said Ald. Dever. "Already the Illinois Central and the Illinois Steel company have taken more than their share of the twenty-five miles of lake frontage, and the Lincoln park board has limited bathing within the confines of its control to a small area.

"The effect of this ordinance, it seems to me, is to restrict the bathing facilities of the people of Chicago, and I believe that is the wrong way to go about the settlement of this problem. We haven't worked out the solution of this problem, we have simply solved a protest. I grant you that some of the private bathing beaches have been a nuisance, but not all of them, and certainly the city has not provided anywhere near adequate facilities in the municipal bathing beaches to care for the great population.

Passes Over Dever's Protest.

"I sympathize with the people who have built elegant homes along the lake front, but I contend that the good of the people is of more importance than that of a few property owners, and this ordinance simply means that the control of the lake front will be placed in the hands of the few."

Ald. Dunn in reply, said: "The particular bathing beach which this ordinance is aimed at is within sight of the municipal bathing beach at South Chicago, a beach 700 feet long, and with 300 feet adjoining which can be added. There is nothing in the ordinance to prohibit the establishment of municipal bathing beaches, which everybody is agreed should be done, and I believe that the property owners should be given protection from the nuisances committed at the noisy private beaches."

The ordinance and that providing for property consent for amusement parks passed by large majorities.

The protest of the loop protective committee against the granting of any further privileges to the Union Loop company to make alterations in its structure was transmitted to the council by Mayor Busse, and sent to the committee on local transportation.

New Examining Plumbers.

The mayor also sent to the council the appointment of Charles J. Herbert to be a member of the board of examining plumbers, and of William F. Petrie as journeyman plumber. These men had been recommended to the mayor by the Chicago Master Plumbers' association and local union 130 of journeyman plumbers, and their appointment was confirmed.

A. J. Sidder, who several times has called the attention of the city to what he declared to be the failure on the part of the Commonwealth Edison company to pay the full amount of compensation to the city, having failed to get an alderman to present the protest to the council, sent in a communication asking the council to adopt a resolution calling for an audit of the books of the company. The matter was referred to the committee on gas, oil, and electric light.

City May Issue More Bonds.

In order that the city may have bonds outstanding to the full limit of its capacity, Ald. Snow, chairman of the finance committee, had passed an ordinance authorizing $1,300,000 of bonds for corporate improvements and $200,000 for judgment refunding. Bonds for this amount have been retired, which gives the city the right to reissue them.

Owing to the celebration of Memorial day next Monday, the council fixed the date of the next session for Tuesday, June 1.

The name of Ald. Arthur W. Fulton was added to the official roster of the judiciary committee.

In accordance with a resolution presented by Ald. Stewart, Mayor Busse appointed a committee composed of Ald. Stewart, Foreman, Dixon, Reinberg, Zimmer, and Conlon to request the directors of the world's fair to turn over to the city the unclaimed $44,000 which they have in the treasury, to be used on the John Worthy school.

An order was passed instructing the track elevation department to prepare an ordinance for the elevation of the tracks of the Northwestern elevated north of Wilson avenue, and Ald. Lipps presented the report of the track elevation committee recommending the passage of the ordinance compelling the Oak Park elevated road to elevate its tracks through Austin.

TWO MEN STABBED IN FIGHT AT DOOR OF POLICE STATION.

John W. Spiekler, Attacked by Thomas McDonald and John E. Strong, Slashes Both with a Knife.

On the sidewalk in front of Police Inspector Wheeler's office at the Harrison street station yesterday afternoon two men attacked another, and the latter wielded a knife in defending himself. As a result of the fight Thomas McDonald, 582 Jackson boulevard, is at the county hospital suffering from four stab wounds, and John E. Strong, 2223 Wabash avenue, who was stabbed in the wrist, is locked up at Harrison street.

John W. Spiekler, 208 Chicago avenue, who did the stabbing, also is locked up at the Harrison street station. He was terribly beaten by McDonald and Strong before policemen, who ran to his assistance, rescued him.

Spiekler was leaving the station after having been released on bond when he was attacked. He had been arrested with Michael Ryan, with whom he had a quarrel on a street car. Spiekler said Ryan, with McDonald and Strong, followed him from the saloon of Mont Tennes, 123 Clark street, and Ryan attacked him in the car without provocation.

McDonald and Strong were waiting outside the station when Spiekler started homeward. He says they beat him with brass knuckles.

Spiekler was a sheet writer for Mont Tennes before the police put the lid on bookmaking.

Too Much Mother-in-Law Alleged.

James Dollis Kendall, a commercial traveler, in a cross bill against Inda Elizabeth Kendall's suit for divorce, alleges that his wife is seeking a divorce to satisfy her mother, Mrs. Mary Warren, 487 Fifty-fourth place, who recently fell heir to an estate valued at $200,000 and who, he asserts, wants her daughter "to marry into society." They married in 1894 and lived together three years.

over settling of the strike when he already knew the strike had been settled.

"You knew the strike had been settled, didn't you?"

"Yes, but——"

"Well, then, what did you talk about settling it for?"

Madden, who was white with anger at this time, reached out over the stenographers' table and shook his hands at the prosecutor.

"You knew everything was going to be settled," continued Mr. Wayman. "If you decided to go across the street that's pretty good reason that you would be on the other side, isn't it?"

"No," Madden retorted. "Somebody might knock me in the head before I got across."

"What made you think of somebody knocking somebody in the head?" Wayman asked.

Attorney Brady jumped to his feet again and objected. The court ordered the passage at arms stricken from the record.

His Direct Examination.

It was early in the afternoon when Madden was called to the stand and his direct examination, conducted by his attorney, Mr. Brady, was begun.

"Yes."

"When did you first hear of trouble there?"

"Several times I received complaints."

"About when was that?"

"About Labor day, to the best of my memory. I was told that Atkins, Young & Allen had a contract for some of the work and that the work was being done by nonunion men. Charles Rau, the business agent for the steam fitters' union, complained to me that he had not been given the proper assistance and that I should see that a committee was appointed to look after the job. I told him I was aware that the nonunion firm had some work on the building, but that inasmuch as the work had not been begun we could not do anything."

Madden Receives Andres.

"Who was with you when you saw Andres in Powers & Gilbert's saloon?"

"O, there was a number of my friends up there. Andres tapped me on the shoulder and said, 'How are you?' He asked me if I had straightened out the matter and I told him that everything had been fixed up, except the sheet metal work and that that was up to Pouchot. He asked me if that was settled and I told him no."

"When did you first hear that the sheet metal workers' difficulty was settled?"

"I received the information the next day and called up Christensen and told him to order the men back to work."

"How long did Andres stay?"

"About ten minutes."

"Did you have any drinks?"

"Yes. They all had something, but I wasn't drinking at the time."

"Did you conspire, combine, and confederate with others to obtain money from the Joseph Klicka company?"

"No, sir."

"Did you conspire with Boyle and Pouchot to get money from the Joseph Klicka company, Emil Klicka, or anybody else?"

"No, sir."

"Skinny's" Ordeal Begins.

On cross examination Madden was interrogated by Mr. Wayman as to his dealings with Klicka.

"Where did you first meet Klicka?"

"In Powers & Gilbert's saloon."

"When you met Frazer did you say, 'You know what is wanted'?"

"No, sir."

He told of different conversations with Klicka, but insisted that there was no discussion as to the payment of money to settle the strike.

"Where did you discuss the matter later?"

"In our clubrooms—Powers & Gilbert's saloon."

"What was Boyle's grievance?"

"Same as mine. We didn't propose to stand for contractors having their work done in part by nonunion men."

"Who did you talk to about settlement?"

"Klicka was the man to see."

Would Not Listen to Andres.

The witness told of a conversation between Klicka and Boyle, and said he saw both men later.

"You also met Andres later, didn't you?"

"Yes. The first time he wanted to settle the strike, and I wouldn't talk with him because he didn't show his credentials."

"Later you talked with Andres?"

"Yes, sir."

"What was said?"

"He wanted to talk settlement and I would not listen to him."

In answer to a question Madden said:

"Andres wanted to hire some union men, and wanted to do the rest of the work—the inside of the building—with nonunion men. To this I objected."

"What information did you get from Andres on Nov. 18 you had not previously acquired?"

"Practically nothing."

Madden was white, his fists were clinched, he was nervous, and plainly irritated by the prosecutor's questions.

Attorney Brady said:

"I object to the prosecutor yelling at the witness."

"He must not yell," said the court.

"The strike might have been settled earlier?" asked Mr. Wayman.

"Pouchot had no authority," said Madden.

"Then Andres never told you anything you hadn't previously known?"

"Andres never did tell me anything I didn't know."

Denies College Inn Story.

Madden said he was out driving the afternoon of Nov. 16, but denied having given a dinner that evening to friends at the College Inn.

"Who was in the saloon when you got there that evening?"

"Laborers."

"What is your salary as president of the Associated Building Trades?"

Counsel objected and the objection was sustained.

"When did you come to Chicago?"

"March 5, 1892."

"What is your business?"

"President of the Associated Building Trades."

"What else?"

"Cigar business."

"When did you buy your automobile?"

Attorney Brady objected to the question.

"I object to the insults heaped upon the witness by the prosecutor," said he.

"The objection may stand," ruled the court. That closed the questioning of Madden.

Pouchot a Witness.

Pouchot was on the stand earlier in the day, and Boyle followed Madden. During Pouchot's direct examination he admitted that he had called out the sheet metal workers employed on the Klicka job. He denied emphatically, however, that he subsequently received any money for aiding in the settlement of the strike.

In cross examination he was asked by Mr. Wayman:

"Did Andres tell you that if you had as much sense as his fellows out in Frisco you could make a lot of money?" asked Mr. Brady on redirect.

"Yes."

"Did he also tell you that his business was worth $1,000 a month to him, and that he would trade places with you and make more money?"

"Yes."

"Did he also say that out in Frisco they would put one man in a light room and he would hand it to a man in a dark room so he would not know to whom he gave it?"

"Yes, sir."

Boyle, Too, Describes Meeting.

When Boyle took the witness stand late in the afternoon he testified as to trouble between the electrical union and the Klicka plant. He said the electrical workers had struck under his orders because Klicka had been slow in letting his electrical contract to a man who employed union labor.

Boyle admitted he had discussed settling the strike in the little room under the staircase in Powers & Gilbert's saloon with Emil Klicka. He said the latter offered him $1,500 to call off the strike, but that he had not accepted it and that he had taken no money in connection with the Klicka affair.

Woman Witness Barred.

Rose McGinnis, 787 Kenmore avenue, was the only woman witness who has appeared in the case thus far. She took the stand during the day to testify as to the reputation of the state's chief witness, George Andres, who previously testified that Madden had taken $1,000 from him to call off the strike on the Klicka plant. The girl answered but two questions, when Mr. Wayman entered an objection to her appearance which the court sustained. She had testified that she knew of Andres' reputation only through hearsay.

Mr. Wayman said during the day that the matter of bringing before the grand jury men charged with attempts to influence the Madden jury would not be taken up for several days. Ernest Krulewitch, one of the men subpoenaed, was closeted with the prosecutor prior to the morning session.

The state in its rebuttal today will call Andres to the stand again.

KICKS A CRIPPLED NEWSBOY

Division Man for Afternoon Paper Menaced by Crowd.

VICTIM'S DEATH IS FEARED.

Police Reserves Called to Save Helpless Lad's Assailant.

An assault by a husky "division man" for an afternoon paper upon a crippled newsboy at the corner of Kedzie avenue and Madison street yesterday evening incited a crowd to threats of violence.

Charles Kenney, the victim, lay unconscious at a late hour last night, while Capt. S. K. Healy of the Warren avenue police station was refusing bail for Thad Stephens, his assailant, because of the probability of the assault turning into murder.

The attack, which was said by witnesses to have been unprovoked, was made at about 5 o'clock when many people were congregated at the transfer point. Two men are said to have driven in a circulation wagon of the afternoon paper to the corner where Kenney was standing. One of them jumped to the ground and after a few words with the boy struck him in the face, knocking him flat on the pavement. As the cripple lay there his assailant delivered a kick in the head from which it is feared the boy will die.

Woman First to Interfere.

A woman who saw the attack rushed at Stephens in a rage and slapped him in the face. A large crowd instantly gathered and made threats against his life.

The excitement was so great that the first policemen on the scene sent in an emergency call and three patrol wagons responded. Many followed one wagon to the police station with the prisoner and many others followed the other to the residence of the boy's sister at 1038 Warren avenue, where the victim was taken. At a late hour Dr. T. D. Laftry, 87 South Kedzie avenue, said that he could not tell whether or not the boy would live.

Attempts to secure bail for Stephens were unavailing.

Earning Way Through School.

Kenney is 20 years old, and has been earning his way through Lewis institute by selling papers morning and evening. He has made many friends and worked up considerable trade at his stand. But it is said that he was not pushing the sale of one evening paper sufficiently and therefore the "division man" went out to stimulate him. And now Kenney is hovering between life and death.

TWO COLLECTORS NOW ARE MISSING

CLEW IN PORTER CASE?

Police See Significance in Fact Second Prudential Employe Has Quit Office.

Another insurance collector has disappeared. Police investigation of the case of Benjamin W. Porter, who has been missing since last Thursday, disclosed last night that Thomas McNamara, 52 De Kalb street, also is missing. Both men were employed by the Prudential Life Insurance company.

The clews found indicated that Porter had been robbed of more than $200 and possibly murdered. McNamara disappeared Saturday and it was said in the evening that nothing is wrong with his accounts with the company.

Additional proof, according to his relatives, that Porter was murdered was discovered late in the day by Capt. L. B. Ludwig, father-in-law of the missing man, who conducted a personal investigation in Jackson park, when he found a pool of blood 200 feet from the Sixty-third street entrance to the park. This was a short distance from where Porter's blood stained purse was picked up Friday. The same day his employers received a poorly written note purporting to be from one of the men who attacked Porter and containing checks which the latter had collected.

Police Suspect Collusion.

Inspector Hunt was notified in the evening of the disappearance of McNamara, who has been employed for three years by the Prudential Life Insurance company. He has not returned to his residence since last Saturday and the police theory is that possibly collusion existed between the two men.

McNamara, the police learned, arose early on Saturday and after kissing his daughter, Mrs. Charles Hipman, goodby went to the offices of the insurance company, 241 Wood street. There he drew his weekly salary and has not been seen since by his friends. His accounts with the company were straight, according to his son-in-law, Charles Hipman, who visited the officials in a search for his relative.

Inspector Hunt sent detectives to the McNamara residence to compare his handwriting with that of the letter received following Porter's disappearance. The police hinted that the two men may have been acquainted and that a compact possibly was formed before they left their positions. McNamara, the police say, may have been the author of the letter written telling of the attack on Porter and that Porter himself was in the plot.

Medium Says "Alive, but Hurt."

"Benjamin Porter is alive, but unconscious, and badly injured," Mrs. James, a trance medium of 7932 Kingston avenue, told Porter's wife and her father, Capt. L. C. Ludwig, at her residence, during the day. In company with Mrs. D. L. Gibson, a neighbor, they listened to the medium while she asserted the spirits were talking.

"He is being held in a basement near Jackson park," the medium continued. "I don't know whether he was robbed or not. He will be thrown into the lagoon in the park."

Capt. Ludwig and Mrs. Gibson went to the park and made a search of the cellars of the old life saving station and other basements in the neighborhood without finding anything that would indicate that Porter had been there. But when they visited the spot at the edge of the park, near Sixty-third street, where Porter's blood stained pocketbook was found, Teddy, a fox terrier owned by Porter, which accompanied them, grew wildly excited and sniffed the bushes and ground. On examining the leaves of the shrubbery, Capt. Ludwig found dark spots resembling blood stains. After sniffing the ground the dog started toward the lagoon, several hundred feet east, but gave up the trail after coming to a baseball ground which intervenes.

Drag Lagoon for the Body.

Police Inspector Nicholas Hunt issued orders to have the lagoon dragged for Porter's body.

Persons were found during the day who saw Porter after 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, when he left the hardware store of his cousin, Grant W. Porter, in Sixty-third street. They are J. Mermesheimer, a music teacher, and his wife, 6043 Madison avenue. Porter went to their residence shortly after 2 o'clock and made a collection of $1.80.

Porter was due at the office of the insurance company, 555 West Sixty-third street, at 3 o'clock. He never reached there.

The insurance company officials do not believe that he was attacked by the two men who, he told, had followed him earlier in the week.

HIT BY CYRUS M'CORMICK'S CAR.

Man Steps in Front of Automobile Operated by Son of Harvester President.

An automobile owned by Cyrus H. McCormick, president of the International Harvester company, and operated by his son, George McCormick, 17 years old, struck and injured E. Suta at North Clark and Kinzie streets yesterday.

Suta's injuries are slight. The man, who is a laborer, walked in front of the machine and was thrown to the pavement. He is 55 years old.

An effort to be on time for a ball game at the south side ball park May 11 cost David Lewinsohn, saloonkeeper, $7.75 in Judge Fry's court. It was alleged he had violated the automobile speed limit.

NO FREE LUMBER; SENATE ON RECORD

PARTY LINES ARE BROKEN

Dolliver Furnishes Surprise of Day by Standing with Anti-Radicals.

Washington, D. C., May 24.—No single piece of lumber was ever used more effectually as a seesaw by children than was the great lumber industry today by the United States senate.

The lumber schedule of the tariff bill was under consideration almost the entire day, with Senators Root, Heyburn, Borah, and Dolliver contending on the one hand for a protection for the industry, and Senators Clapp, Burkett, and McCumber arguing as strongly against that policy.

The day closed with more than a two-thirds vote against Senator McCumber's free lumber amendment, the ballot showing 25 for and 56 against. Of the twenty-five affirmative votes fifteen were cast by Republican senators and ten by Democratic senators, as follows:

REPUBLICANS.

Beveridge, Bristow, Brown, Burkett, Burton, Clapp, Crawford, Cummins, Curtis, Dupont, Gamble, Johnson, La Follette, McCumber, Nelson.

DEMOCRATS.

Dolliver Against Free Lumber.

The surprise of the day was the attitude of Senator Dolliver, who heretofore has stood with the "progressives" throughout the tariff fight. He today took positive position against the radical demand for free lumber, but expressed the opinion that the industry would not suffer from a reduction of the Dingley rates.

Senator Root opened the day's proceedings with an argument in favor of a differential on dressed lumber.

Senators Borah and Heyburn of Idaho contended for the highest duty on lumber, and Mr. Borah entered upon an argument to show that the policy of protection is "a system" and cannot be maintained if there are to be constant exceptions to it as is desired in the interest of free lumber.

On the other hand, Senators Clapp and Burkett argued that lumber can be produced as cheaply in Canada as in the United States, and contended that the lumber industry of this country would not be endangered by the free admission of the Canadian product. Incidentally Senator Clapp paid a tribute to the Canadian government, saying it was equal to the best.

Bailey Not Bound by Platform.

During the day Senator Heyburn spoke of the Republican platform of the last campaign in a way that brought down some criticism on his head, and Senator Bailey declared that he did not propose to be bound by the platform adopted by the Democrats at Denver. Mr. Bailey expressed the opinion that enactment of the pending tariff bill would see the disintegration of the Republican party.

Early in the day Senator Owen attacked the present tariff on sugar, saying it led to frauds by a "trust."

DICKINSON BAGS A 'GATOR.

Secretary of War Carries Off Marksmanship Honors in Hunt in Panama.

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—Secretary of War Dickinson proved himself the best marksman of the party which recently accompanied him to Panama by killing a ten foot alligator with jaws big enough to bite a man in two. An alligator hunt was arranged for the secretary of war a few days after he reached Panama. The party journeyed twenty-five miles by tug down the coast to the mouth of Cheto river and eight miles up that stream in small boats to the lair of alligators and crocodiles. Several of the party fired at the alligator which eventually became the booty of Secretary Dickinson, but their bullets seemed to inflict little harm. Taking careful aim the secretary made a thirty-five yard shot and bagged his game. It was the only alligator taken.

TAFT CAUGHT STEALING POSIES

President and Capt. Butt Face Calaboose When Found in "Uncle Jimmy" Wilson's Flower Bed.

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—President Taft and his aid, Capt. Archie Butt, were for a few moments in danger of taking a trip to the calaboose. An irate keeper of "Uncle Jimmie" Wilson's flower beds on the grounds of the department of agriculture caught them picking the flowers.

When the guardian of the grounds appeared he did not recognize the president and began to call him. The president cleverly turned the hue and cry against Capt. Butt and joined the watchman in giving him a lecture. When the watchman discovered who the large man was he stopped his talk.

The president confessed the incident to the secretary of agriculture today and commended the latter's watchman service.

ALDERMEN GO TO INVITE TAFT.

President Will Be Asked to Make Principal Address at Laying of City Hall Corner Stone.

While the city hall committee decided yesterday to send a delegation to Washington today to invite President Taft to make the principal address at the laying of the cornerstone of the new city hall, Ald. Taylor, the chairman, afterward announced that these plans had been changed. It was stated that Congressman Boutell had arranged for an audience with the president, but Ald. Taylor said the committee might not leave for several days. President Taft will be urged to set a date between June 19 and 30 for his visit if he accepts the invitation.

PHILIPPINE BILL IS PASSED.

Republicans in House Take Matters Into Own Hands and Rush the Measure Through.

Washington, D. C., May 24.—The Republicans of the house today again took matters in their own hands, and with a sudden show of strength passed the Philippine tariff bill, the consideration of which had been concluded two weeks ago.

work than has ever before been done. For the next fiscal year the record is not likely to be so good, the appropriations committee of the house having been too busy with efforts to cripple the administration of Roosevelt to attend carefully to its legitimate work.

Extravagance Cause of Deficit.

Every report made by the treasury department tends to show that the existing deficit is due rather to extravagance than to any failure of the Dingley law to provide the necessary revenue. The responsibility for this extravagance rests, first, upon the department chiefs, and, secondly, upon congress.

It has been the habit, as is shown, for congress to cut down the estimates made by the department chiefs. This is a desirable thing, but the trouble has been that the reduction in many cases has been ill advised and foolish. The necessary expenditures estimated for by the departments have been reduced and totally unnecessary things which the departments did not want have been liberally provided for, the house committee on appropriations being the chief offender in this regard.

The appropriations for one department have been swelled unduly and in other cases reductions have been made which have actually crippled the service of the government.

Congress is a lawmaking body, and has the constitutional right to withhold money from any of the departments. There is a grave question as to whether congress is acting rightly in supplying money for certain purposes without request of the executive department.

Personal Wants Hurt Nation.

It happens too frequently that some member of congress is interested personally or politically in some particular avenue of expenditure. To secure the money he thinks necessary for that purpose he persuades the appropriation committee to cut down in some other direction, the result being that when the annual budget of appropriations is made up the department chiefs frequently are confronted with a situation that they are expected to spend money which they did not ask for and did not want, and for purposes they knew to be unwise, while at the same time they were deprived of appropriations for legitimate objects of expenditure which they had asked for and which were absolutely necessary to proper conduct of the government.

It is to secure real economy and cooperation not only between the big departments, but between the executive branch of the government and congress as well that the budget committee of the senate has been organized and is to be instructed to take the necessary steps to secure an economical and yet liberal administration.

President Taft having instructed the cabinet officers to meet and compare the estimates, the senate budget committee will do the same thing in congress and endeavor, as far as it can, to correct the loose methods employed by the house committee. For this purpose the senate budget committee has been made up in such a way as to include the heads of all committees which make the regular annual demands upon the treasury, the object being to secure if possible appropriations for the year beginning July 1, 1910, which are to be made a complete estimate of the real necessities of all of the departments.

Makeup of Budget Committee.

This new budget committee of the senate is the strongest body of that kind ever organized in either house of congress. It is headed by Mr. Hale of Maine, chairman of the committee on appropriations, and includes, of course, Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, chairman of the finance committee. Then there are Warren of Wyoming, on the committee for military affairs; Perkins of California, naval affairs; Penrose of Pennsylvania, postoffices; Dolliver of Iowa, agriculture and forestry; Clapp of Minnesota, Indian affairs.

Besides them there are Senators Nelson, Minnesota; Gamble, South Dakota; Crane, Massachusetts; Carter, Montana; Bourne, Oregon; Cummins, Iowa; Burton, Ohio; Root, New York, all Republicans, and McLaurin, Mississippi; Newlands, Nevada; Owen, Oklahoma; Fletcher, Florida; and Hughes, Colorado.

BRITAIN WARNED OF PACKER TRUST

Embassy Sends Government Report on Working Plans of Meat Houses.

National Company Alleged to Be Concern Which Permits Dealing.

that little acumen was shown in the criticisms of the computations of the bureau, and the substantial accuracy of its conclusions never has been in any particular shaken. It must be admitted, however, he says, that the inquiry first established extended to one portion only of the whole subject. He describes the legal proceedings which ended in the immunity bath decision rendered by Judge Humphrey.

"It suggested itself," the report continues, "that if the government had been in a position to press the prosecution with a prospect of success the escape of the defendants in virtue of Judge Humphrey's decision on a technicality probably would not have been tolerated. That the defendants should secure a license to continue their offense, and that, too, on a plea of immunity for having given evidence on other matters, would have been a legal device that would not have given a check to an administration such as that of Mr. Roosevelt.

General Lines of Attack.

After inquiries in the various quarters into the evidence of the illegal combination collected at that time, it is possible to indicate the general lines of attack would have been followed and to some extent the weight of the blow that would have been delivered on each of these lines. Generally speaking, the government case resolves itself into four indictments:

"Of agreement as to purchase price.

"Apportionment of business.

"Allotment of markets.

"Amalgamation of interests."

Regarding the agreement as to the purchase price, Mr. Young states that the evidence was collected in interviews with the commission agents and cattlemen. Previous to the injunction of 1902 the leading packers, including the firm of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, had agreements as to local prices.

"There also is evidence," he continues, "that orders to stop such operations and to destroy the evidence of them were issued in 1902 after an injunction. There seems also to be a pretty general impression that the working of the arrangement was merely transferred from the local representatives to the central offices in Chicago. There is, moreover, some evidence as to the continuance of the meetings of local representatives."

Witnesses Talk Under Protest.

About half of those interviewed gave it as their opinion that the trust, otherwise known as the Big Six, purchased under an agreement. The fact that many gave this view reluctantly and in fear of consequences strengthens their case. The export business in live cattle is not comprised in the agreements as to the purchase prices. There is some evidence of division of bunches of cattle among the several firms after a purchase by one, but this might well be a legitimate business readjustment for value.

It seems fairly well established that a bunch of cattle bid for by a packer's agent in one market will, if transferred to another, be identified at the second market, and either boycotted or bid down. It is said that the object of this is to keep the cattle in the smaller markets, where there is less competition than at Chicago. There seems to be evidence that the packers combine to work this system known as "spotting."

In reference to the apportionment of business, Mr. Young suggests that the evidence collected as to an agreement of this character appears to render it probable, though not positively certain, for the statistics of the bureau of animal industry showing the numbers slaughtered annually by the packers since 1898, as well as the statistics of Armour & Co., in the possession of the bureau of corporations, and showing the numbers purchased by each packer since 1899, indicate the existence of an agreement for a continuous division of business on a fixed basis.

Business Is Distributed Equally.

Especially marked is the uniformity in the distribution of business during 1901, 1902, and 1903, as between Armour and Swift. Swift's proportion varied only from 56.9 per cent to 57.5 per cent during this period. Disturbances due to the great strike of 1904 seems to have upset this agreement. Morris obtained an increase in 1903, but the proportion in 1904 is the same as that for 1900-'02.

"It is impossible," Mr. Young observes, "that such uniformity of proportion of business done by each firm annually could appear year after year in all the branches—cattle, hogs, and sheep—without a systematic agreement. It seems evident there is an apportionment arrangement, not on a monthly basis, but on a system by which departures from the proper proportion in one season are corrected in the next."

The uniformity is more striking in view of the fact that Swift has seven plants in different localities, Armour & Co., five; Morris & Co., 3; and Cudahy, 3. As the receipts of stock at these centers have changed in relation to each other, the normal result would have been to alter the whole business done by each company in relation to the localities in which its establishments were situated. That it has not done so, is indicative of a readjustment by an agreement.

Changes Made to Counterbalance.

"Further, an examination of the changes in the business done at certain centers indicates that they are intended to counterbalance the changes at other centers, due either to the erection of new plants or to changes in the trade conditions. Other changes seem to have been intended merely to conceal the system of apportionment and to have no other meaning.

"No conclusion can be come to as to the inclusion in such an arrangement of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger. Their proportion of business has changed considerably during the period under observation and though this might be based on an understanding with the other firms there seems no reason to suppose that it is."

Mr. Young found considerable evidence as to the elimination of competition between the firms of the trust in the local markets. The method followed, known as "pricing out," consists, he says, in the obligation imposed on members of the combine to require prohibitive prices for their products from possible purchasers in the markets allotted to another member. There is, however, also some evidence that this secret agreement still is more secretly violated by agents of the contracting parties.

"Big Six" Control Stockyards.

Such evidence of combination as Mr. Young refers to would be much strengthened, he says, if a community of commercial interest could be proved, such as would be sufficient to counteract the natural incentive to competition. It is notorious that most of the stockyard companies at the leading western centers are largely or wholly controlled by the packers. Though no precise information is forthcoming as to the distribution of their stock, Mr. Young thinks it probable that the stockyards at South Omaha are controlled chiefly by Armour, those at Fort Worth by Swift and Armour, those at Sioux City by Armour and Cudahy, those at St. Paul by Swift.

At Kansas City the stockyards company's officers assert that they are independent, but Armour is interested in the stock. The establishments of the Fowler Packing company, under control of the National Packing company, are said to be another attempt by Armour to control the Kansas City yard. Some time ago, by a secret contract, the packers got control of the Chicago Union stockyards under the threat of establishing their own in Indiana.

As to the effect of the trust on the retail supply of meat, the report describes the growth of the business of the packing houses in this respect. It says that complaints of this competition are bitter, but nearly always on the ground that the packers undersell the local butcher. Lower prices and poorer quality are said to be the result of their intrusion into the retail business.

Retail Prices Not Fixed.

As to the effect of the trust on the retail prices, Mr. Young says it is practically impossible for this to be influential even in towns where the packers do a large business. The reaction of the retail prices to the movement of wholesale prices is so slow and weak that to influence the former through the latter to any great extent seems to be out of the question. With regard to the appreciation of retail prices, in proportion to quality, it is Mr. Young's view that much of the complaint in this connection is due to an excessive demand for particular cuts. His conclusions are in regard to retail market:

That there is and can be no control of price either generally by packers or locally by the retailers. The former have their combinations and the latter also have associations,, but they are used for improving their interests otherwise than by attempting to affect the market prices.

That rise in the price of meat for domestic use is to some extent due to exceptional appreciation of special cuts, such as steaks, due to a conventional demand out of proportion to the value of the meat. This will in time cure itself.

That the intrusion of the packers into the retail trade has tended to lower prices, and will continue to do so, if, at the same time, perhaps somewhat lowering quality.

It is further Mr. Young's opinion that the surplus animal products of the United States will not long continue to hold the position they now occupy in the markets of Great Britain.

LAMBS' 1ST GAMBOL THE ONE BEST BET

Initial Romp of All Star Cast Nets $35,000, Not to Mention the Applause.

LEW AND JOE MAKE HIT.

Thousands of "Goats" Convulsed with Merriment at Topliners' Show in New York.

New York, May 24.—[Special.]—When Victor Herbert and his symphony orchestra band swung into Broadway tonight to lead the Lambs' all star minstrel parade down to the Metropolitan Opera house, where the Lambs' all star gambol was to do its initial gamboling, the united press agents agreed that at least 200,000 people blocked the sidewalk and overflowed into the street to make work for the 200 mounted and foot policemen, who also starred their humble way.

The proudest tenor that ever broke records for high notes and salaries never crowded the Metropolitan as it was crowded when the curtain went up on an oldtime minstrel performance with Lamb De Wolf Hopper as interlocutor.

Including the standees who clustered about the corridors, it was estimated that there were 4,000 people in the house. It is estimated that the receipts reached $35,000.

Triple Sextet a Feature.

The minstrels included a triple sextet made up of Lambs George Hamlin, George L. Moore, Donald Bryan, John McClosky, Scott Welsh, Neal McCay, Charles Hopper, Richie Ling, Rapley Holmes, William Stuart, Walter Lawrence, Melville Stewart, J. B. Park, John Peachy, Frank Belcher, Eugene Cowles, De Wolf Hopper, and Joseph Miron.

There were various jests from the "bones" and "tambos," and though the taste of some of them was questionable, notably those based upon Hopper's marital affairs and the criminal court experiences of Mr. Hitchcock they furnished a deal merriment.

There really was fine singing from the really eminent tenor, George Hamlin, who sang "Then You'll remember Me." Eugene Cowles gave "Annie Laurie" most impressively, and Andrew Mack sang a song he wrote himself called "Go 'Way, Mr. Moon" that was a dainty gem of its kind. Previously Mr. Mack contributed an imitation of Caruso that set the house howling.

Evans Does Some Fine Dancing.

Nor should it be forgotten that Charlie Evans, who used to be with Evans and Hoey, showed the audience how he used to dance in "A Parlor Match." We don't see any better dancing nowadays and little as good.

Maclyn Arbuckle—Dat woman done accuse me ob alimony.

Mr. Hopper—Alimony is not a charge, sir. It is a penalty.

Arbuckle—Are you suah?

Eddie Foy, Nat M. Wills, and Edward Harrigan—O, yes, he's sure.

After the minstrel show there was a musical interlude by Victor Herbert's orchestra. Then came the trial scene of "Julius Cæsar," with De Wolf Hopper and James O'Neill as Marc Antony and Brutus. It is enough to say that Shakspeare never was so presented before. The "mob" had among its howling members David Belasco, Henry M. Blossom, A. L. Erlanger, Lew Fields, George Broadhurst—well, the press agent declared that the combined salaries of the mob would be over $50,000 in a one night stand. William Muldoon was Captain of the Guard.

Antony Speech Gets Applause.

Hopper's Marc Antony speech was liberally applauded. Nobody laughed at him despite his reputation as a comedian. Everybody took it as seriously as he meant it. James O'Neill's Brutus showed that he has by no means forgotten how to read fine lines beautifully.

Lambs Weber and Fields revived "A Game of Pool," and then came "After the Matinée," with all sorts of Lambs gamboling in matinée girl attire.

Nobody got a warmer welcome "from the heart out" than Fields and Weber. Their "pool game" was one of the first things they ever did in vaudeville, long, long before the days of the little music hall in Broadway which they made so famous. From the instant they appeared and shook hands until they walked off arm in arm, after Fields had abused Weber almost to a frazzle in his old, dear familiar manner, the audience took them again to its heart. It roared with laughter from the instant Fields remarked:

"Vell, how it iss dot you are here in Paris for your vaccination?"

Belasco Furnishes the Atmosphere.

The performance closed with George Hobart's sketch "Tuesday," in which every well known manager and author in the country was burlesqued. As a climax David Belasco dropped from the clouds to the accompaniment of the thunder of big guns to furnish "atmosphere."

Tomorrow the Lambs will give a matinée at Hartford and a night performance in Boston. On Wednesday they play in Brooklyn in the afternoon and in Philadelphia at night. Thursday they will be seen in Washington and Baltimore, Friday in Cleveland and Pittsburg, and Saturday in two performances in Chicago. They then will return to New York for a possible performance next Monday night for the actors' fund benefit.

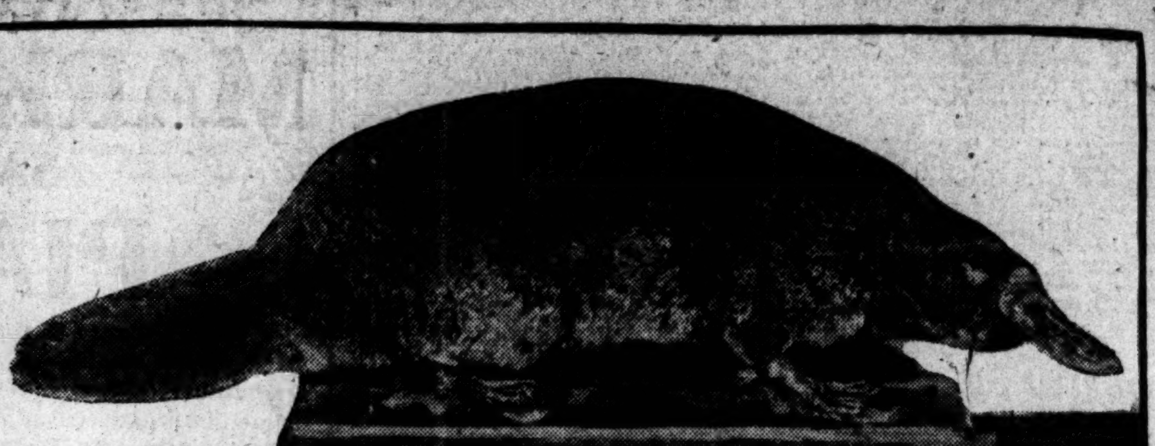
Stuffed Tasmanian Platypus to Be Presented to Field Museum.



Henry D. Baker, American consul at Hobart, Tasmania, who reached Chicago yesterday for a brief visit with his sister, has brought a collection of animals for the Lincoln park zoo and some stuffed specimens. One of the latter, which will be given to the Field museum, is a Tasmanian platypus. It has a bill like a duck's and is webfooted, but has four feet. It is a furry animal, but it lays eggs. It carries its young in a pouch. On its hind feet it has spurs which emit poison when it scratches with them. It is aquatic, haunting small rivers. Mr. Baker relates an instance of how a bushman's wife went to a creek for a pail of water, and in the pail a platypus was drawn up, which jumped out and gave the woman a dreadful shock. The platypus is supposed to eat river grasses, small fish, etc., but its diet is not well understood. Many of these animals have been captured, but none has ever lived longer than a week in captivity. They are sought after for their fur, which commands a high price, but they are now protected by the Tasmanian government.

AGENTS "HAUNT" MRS. YERKES

WIDOW 'PRISONER' IN ROOMS

Court Rules, However, That She Can Come and Go at Will.

New York, May 24.—[Special.]—If you see a man who looks like a Central office detective changing his leather boots for a pair of rubber soled "sneakers" on the doorsteps of the Charles T. Yerkes house at 864 Fifth avenue, restrain yourself. He is merely one of the receiver's men getting ready for work. In "sneakers" he can steal over the mosaic floors in the Yerkes house with hardly a sound.

But gum shoes have, on the contrary, only given Mrs. Yerkes a mere "prowly" feeling. She knows that men are there, but she can't tell where. In fact, things have reached such a state in the Yerkes house that the widow has to lock herself in her own bed chamber to enjoy homelike privacy. Her lawyer is authority for this.

The whole situation was reviewed in the Court of Appeals on an order issued by Judge Cole directing the complainants to show cause why the order for the receivership action should not be suspended.

The receiver's men have been holding forth in the Yerkes house, by shifts, since they gained entrance under the wing of an ice man on April 28. Mrs. Yerkes has declined to yield the possession of the house, contending it was not a part of her husband's estate but her own property. She has made several attempts in court to oust the receiver's men, but has succeeded in only getting them confined to the well known art gallery, which is mortgaged.

Says Privacy Is Threatened.

James Russell Soley, Mrs. Yerkes' counsel, complained today that the ordinary living rooms of the Yerkes family, including the dining room, adjoin the picture gallery, and that "the only way possible to avoid the obnoxious presence of the intruders and to preserve the privacy of domestic life is for Mrs. Yerkes to remain exclusively in her sleeping apartments with the doors locked."

"It is necessary," says Mr. Soley in an affidavit, "for members of her household to keep a constant watch upon the strangers present in the house in order to be sure that nothing is interfered with. But even under those conditions the quiet and repose of the household is disturbed at night by the movements of the receiver's agents, and the impression is conveyed that strangers are prowling about the house during the night, while their presence creates the constant apprehension among members of the household that the privacy of their rooms may be invaded."

Furthermore, as Lawyer Soley set forth, there is more tangible objection to the presence of the "gum shoe" guards. The electric light bill, it appears, has been more than doubled since the strangers took to admiring high art nightly in the Yerkes gallery.

Lawyer Soley said it is getting along about spring housecleaning time, and if valuable articles in the house are to be protected from hot weather deterioration, they ought to be taken care of by Mrs. Yerkes, as she had cared for them for fifteen years. Only a few days ago, it was said, Mrs. Yerkes herself had begun to superintend the packing of some valuable rugs for the summer, but the guards interfered and bade her stop.

Relates a "Gum Shoe" Incident.

"A gum shoe" incident was related by Howard C. Dickinson, a young lawyer employed by Mr. Soley. Mr. Dickinson says be believes that the man who changes his shoes is named Miller. The change did not take place, however, until Miller had entered the house.

"It happened this way," said Dickinson. "Immediately on the arrival of Miller he removed his ordinary leather street shoes and substituted therefor a pair of light rubber soled canvas shoes. In response to my inquiry as to a reason for the said change of footgear he stated to me in substance that it enabled him to walk about and patrol the premises during the night with the least possible noise and without attracting the attention of the inmates."

Mr. Soley asked that Judge Wood's receivership order be stayed and that the house be vacated of the receiver's agents. The Court of Appeals declined to grant the first request, but made a ruling regarding the agents.

These are to be restricted to the ground floor and art gallery, and orders were given that Mrs. Yerkes shall not be interfered with on entering or leaving the house.

THAWS ANSWERED BY LAWYER

Hartridge Says He Will Publish Stories Long Kept Secret.

DENIES TALE OF MOTHER.

Threat of Disbarment Laughed At by Man Who Sues for Fee.

New York, May 24.—[Special.]—Clifford W. Hartridge, the former Thaw lawyer who is suing for fees and disbursements, today got back at Mrs. William Thaw for the statement issued by her on Sunday in which she answered his statement of the preceding day. Harry K. Thaw also issued a statement on Monday, but Hartridge said he would pay no attention to what Thaw says, as his mother is the responsible party in the case.

The lawyer said he did not want to disclose all of his case at the present time, but within the thirty days allowed him he said he would file the bill of particulars ordered by Judge Hough in the United States Circuit court.

Mr. Hartridge said Harry Thaw's statement that "were there any truth" in Mr. Hartridge's claims he "would have him disbarred," was ridiculous, as Mr. Hartridge never said anything about bribing witnesses or any such illegal proceeding.

Text of Hartridge Statement.

Mr. Hartridge's statement follows:

"Mrs. Thaw's signed statement, as appearing in the papers, contains three things. One is, according to her, that I will fail to be paid my money which she says gives her no small satisfaction. Satisfaction at the thought of not having to pay for work done for her and her son even if it cost the horrible truth about them both being known needs no comment.

"Second, she says: 'I never have asked him to hush anything.' In a letter of Aug. 15, 1906, she says: 'My fear in regard to the Boston crank was lest he should publish such a thing as proposed. However, the opposition might induce him to do so. This is a fearful penalty of wrongdoing that is of a public nature, such as Harry has committed—notoriety—the thing that is most to be abhorred.'

Tells of Fight on Asylum.

"On or about Feb. 16, 1907, she wrote saying: 'I cannot have my whole family dragged into needless notoriety.' "

The third point of Mrs. Thaw's statement which Hartridge takes up is: " 'It is news to me that I asked him to keep my son out of Matteawan. That question was not raised from the time I met Hartridge until Delmas took charge and the trial was half over at Jerome's instigation.' "

To this the lawyer replies that it cannot be so soon forgotten that "one firm of lawyers was unsatisfactory to both the mother and son, because these two thought this firm would permit Thaw to go to Matteawan."

C. H. Sargent Gets 2 Years, His Helpmate 13 Months.

PARIS, May 24.—On the charge of having maltreated young children confined to their care, Cecil H. Sargent, an Englishman, and his American wife, who was Josephine Savin of New York, were found guilty in the Correctional court today.

Sargent was sentenced to two years' imprisonment and his wife to thirteen months. In addition a small fine was imposed on each.

Woman Attacks Mrs. Sargent.

Witnesses testified that the Sargents had beaten the children and deprived them of food. Mme. Marechal of Brussels, a witness, declared that she had confided her child to the Sargents five years ago, and until recently had not heard any tidings of it. In a burst of ungovernable fury she threw herself at the throat of Mrs. Sargent and tried to strangle her. Guards with difficulty pulled the enraged woman away.

A curious development was a claim set up by a woman from Versailles that the Marechal child was her's. Pending a solution of this the court ordered that the child be kept in the municipal orphanage.

Advertised to Adopt Children.

Sargent and his wife were arrested at Asnieres last February charged with gross ill treatment of four children they had adopted. The couple has been in the habit of inserting advertisements in English and Belgian newspapers, offering to adopt children for a money consideration.

An effort was made to have Mrs. Sargent examined as to her sanity, but after an investigation by a magistrate both of the Sargents were ordered to stand trial before the Correctional court.

Capt. Baldwin Sails Today in a New Machine from Jersey to Manhattan.

GAMESTER SHEEDY ILL.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE,
New York, May 24.

Should the weather be propitious and nothing interfere Capt. Baldwin intends to sail tomorrow from Arlington, N. J., to Manhattan and return. This feat of the captain will mark the aerial inaugural of the West Hudson Aero club's carnival, which will last until Decoration day. The machine Capt. Baldwin will sail in is absolutely new. It has never been tried anywhere, and includes many new features. In size and general description it is a duplicate of the government war dirigible No. 1, which the captain demonstrated at Fort Myer last fall. It is possible that to illustrate how a foreign airship fleet might destroy Manhattan the air sailor will drop confetti bombs from his ship.

Air Dreadnought to Be Given Test by Capt. Baldwin.

If the American aerial Dreadnought does not reach Manhattan tomorrow it will come over from the foreign shores of New Jersey on Wednesday.

"Pat" Sheedy, international gamester of the old school, art connoisseur, and man of the world, is "sitting in" at the hardest game in all his wide experience, and is playing with his usual pluck. He is fighting the game of his life against what doctors admit are long, cruel odds. His physicians tell Sheedy he is suffering from fatty degeneration of the heart and have ordered him to the country for a rest in the hope that the present crisis may be safely passed. As soon as the weather is warmer he will go to some quiet place. News of Sheedy's illness got abroad during the day and his home was besieged with friends and many inquiries came by telephone and mail.

Pat Sheedy Is Fighting for Life Against Big Odds.

Broadway saw something exciting even for Broadway tonight, when the auto of John H. Hanan, the shoe man, in which Mr. and Mrs. Hanan were going to the theater, was rammed by another auto, setting the Hanan car on fire. The Hanans, who were the only occupants of the car with the exception of the chauffeur, were unaware that the rear of the machine was in flames until Policeman Flood opened the door and advised a hasty exit.

Auto Fired in Crash; Officer Aids Woman.

Mr. Hanan complied as quickly as he could, but Mrs. Hanan didn't move. Flood noted a river of burning gasoline running underneath the steps of the car and jumped inside.

"Wrap your skirts about you as tight as you can, madam, and you'll get out all right," said Flood.

When Mrs. Hanan did so, Flood lifted her out of the auto, stepped into the burning gasoline, and carried her safely to the sidewalk. His trousers were singed.

Frank Duffy, a former Tammany district worker, convicted of registration frauds in the election of 1907, surrendered himself today and will begin serving in Sing Sing the prison term of from three and one-half to four and one-half years to which he was sentenced nearly two years ago. Duffy's case has since been pending an appeal and he has been at liberty on bail. Last week the Appellate division of the Supreme court confirmed the conviction.

Convicted Tammany Man Surrenders.

Duffy was accused of colonizing a number of negroes in upper west side tenements and causing them to be illegally registered.

Negro Held for Virginia Police.

George White, a negro who is under arrest in Evanston on charges of embezzlement following a real estate deal at his home in Staunton, Va., where he was a janitor in a bank, will be taken back on the arrival of an officer with requisition papers.

Secret History of the Civil War

IN the June number of HARPER'S MAGAZINE there appears a remarkable human document—a chapter of hitherto untold history. It narrates the adventures of Romand, one of the most daring scouts of the war—the man whom Sheridan trusted. Romand's work was done for the most part alone, within the enemy's lines, and because he wore the enemy's uniform he was in constant touch with ignominious death. The record of his experiences is more thrilling and dramatic than any fiction. It is illustrated in color by Howard Pyle.

MEN, NOT MONEY, NEED OF CHURCH.

Little Christianity in Home, Universities Worse, Says Presbyterian Educator.

SHEPHERDS ARE LACKING

Why Young Men Don't Enter Ministry Told in Epigram at Denver Meeting.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Denver, Colo., May 24.—[Special.]—Dr. Joseph W. Cochran, secretary of the Presbyterian board of education, roused great interest in the general assembly session today when he reviewed the report of the board of education.

The report was read by Dr. Edgar P. Hill of Chicago. It deplored the lack of recruits for the ministry. Ignorance among immigrants was due, said Dr. Hill, to the fact that no Protestant denomination, and surely not the Presbyterian, has taken the trouble to stir up a sufficient number of ministerial recruits to work among the people.

Dr. Cochran's address bristled with epigrams.

Grace Not Said Over Champagne.

"Grace is not usually said over champagne and lobster à la Newburg," he said. "Family altars are not raised over Persian rugs. Students for the ministry do not as a rule get their early training by running steam yachts.

"Why can't we get the young men to preach? I'll tell you. In the first place, there is but little Christianity in the home. If there is any it is gone by the time the young man is ready for an education.

"Does he go for his education to a Christian school? A Presbyterian school? No. He goes to a godless state university, and when he returns to his home town he puts religion at low ebb. And if you ministers find your churches at low ebb, know where to place the blame.

"The need in this board of education is not more money, but men. We cannot Christianize these state universities, but we can put a shepherd in charge and in this way keep these boys in the flock, although they are being educated at godless schools."

Princeton May Cause Fight.

A big fight is expected over the report on theological seminaries because of issues raised by the trouble between Francis L. Patton, president of Princeton Theological seminary, and the students of his institution.

The affair has caused a general demand for the election of younger and more progressive men as professors in the theological seminaries, involving the retirement of many of the aged men who now fill the chairs.

The movement for such a change is led by several of the Philadelphia commissioners.

Chicago is making a strong bid for the next meeting of the general assembly. Invitations from several cities have been received, but the most vigorous movement is in the interest of the lake city. In this connection a boom already has been started for the Rev. Dr. Edgar P. Hill of the McCormick Theological seminary of Chicago, as moderator.

The assembly began to rush business today and before noon had disposed of the boards of ministerial relief and the Freedmen, the leading address being by the Rev. Dr. Benjamin L. Agnew of Philadelphia.

Attempt to "Rush" Fails.

An attempt was made to force action on reports without giving time for discussion, after certain leaders had consumed their time. The Rev. Dr. Charles A. Work, former candidate on the Prohibition ticket for governor of Ohio, carried the house, amid loud applause, for a full discussion by the commissioners on the floor.

There was murmuring at the haste with which important overtures from big presbyteries were disposed of with the curt statement "no action" by the committee on bills and overtures, without reading the overtures to the assembly. A demand will be made for reconsideration.

The day ended in a big campfire held by the confederate and union veterans of the civil war. The moderator of the assembly presided and made an address, telling of his experience in the confederate army.

Civil Service Board Takes Time to Get Best Librarian.

WILSON WARNS OFFICIALS.

Controller Demands More Economy in City Departments.

Questions as to the delay in filling the place left vacant by the retirement of Frederick H. Hild as head of the public library were answered yesterday by President Elton Lower of the municipal civil service commission.

He explained that the task of finding a suitable man was regarded as one of the most important ever undertaken by the commission and that haste would not be allowed to lessen the chances of obtaining the best man procurable in the country.

Letters have been written to the leading librarians of the nation with requests for advice. The replies have been of material assistance in formulating the views of the commission as to the best method of procedure.

Another element in the delay has been a fear that criticism of the necessity of selecting a librarian by civil service methods as provided by law might have aroused distrust of the method in the minds of the comparatively few men in the country fitted for the office. This, it is believed, will pass away when the plans of the commission are made public.

Questions to Be Sent.

In all probability a list of questions will be sent to candidates for answer, but the importance attached to experience and personal characteristics will not be overclouded by the results of the written test.

Among the men with whom the commission is in communication are:

Dr. Herbert Putnam, librarian of congress.

Dr. John S. Billings, director, New York Public library.

E. H. Anderson, assistant director, New York Public library.

Henry E. Legler, secretary, Wisconsin free library commission.

"We intend to follow plans that will bring to Chicago the best librarian obtainable," said President Lower, "and are satisfied that we can do it under the provisions of the law."

Economy Urged on Chiefs.

A meeting of city department heads and officials in the office of Controller Wilson was explained as another effort of the administration for retrenchment in expenses. The men were told that $1,500,000 must be saved from the total of the annual appropriations and that more economical methods than those of the last three months must be followed.

City Purchasing Agent Coleman reported to the finance committee that "the man from Oregon" who had offered to buy the city's ten automobiles for $6,500 had declined to complete the deal and the committee authorized their sale for $6,400 to Daniel D. Healy, former occupant of several county offices.

Cable Snaps; Derrick Falls.

Laborers at the new city hall narrowly escaped death in the afternoon, when a cable broke and a fifty foot derrick fell within a few feet of them. A shout of warning caused them to fleet to safety.

Replies from the Pennsylvania, Nickel Plate, and Illinois Central concerning the elevation of tracks at Grand Crossing were received by the commissioner of track elevation, Walter J. Raymer. The Lake Shore did not answer the notice sent last week demanding an expression of their intentions. Delay has occurred because the four railroads disagreed over the division of the extra cost caused by separation of grades.

Habeas Corpus Writ Sought on Charge Judge Fry Exceeded Authority in Ordering Woman Jailed.

Judge Dupuy of the Superior court will decide tomorrow whether Municipal Judge Sheridan E. Fry usurped the authority when he committed Mrs. Peter Cohen to jail for refusing to turn over property to apply on a judgment against her husband.

Victor B. Pollock obtained a judgment of $171 against Peter Cohen. Subsequently Mrs. Cohen admitted she had $30 which she received from the rent of her property, which formerly belonged to her husband. Judge Fry ordered her sent to jail because she refused to apply the $30 to the payment of the judgment. Attorney Ben M. Schaffner is seeking her release on a writ of habeas corpus.

"A trust deed can be set aside only by a court of chancery," said Attorney Shaffner. "A Municipal court judge has no right to usurp this power. The property is in her name and no matter how she came by it, no such court judge can make her pay her husband's debts."

SHORTS HUSTLING IN WHEAT MARKET

THINGS COMING HIS WAY.

Discouraging Crop Reports from Kansas Cause Flurry Among the Traders.

As the end of May approaches, shorts in that option of wheat on the Chicago board of trade are hustling around, trying to get rid of their commitments. There is only one man to whom they can go for the wheat, and that is the same man who bought the option from them earlier in the year, James A. Patten.

The demand upon him was so great yesterday that he was able to boost the price up nearly 2 cents, thereby adding another egg to his already plethoric basket of profits. Things have been going his way since he came back from the west, and the men on the floor of the board of trade are wondering if there is anything on earth that will break the proverbial Patten luck.

Every day reports of the growing crop seem to get worse, and the climax was reached Saturday when one of the large railroad systems operating in the southwest sent out a report claiming a big shortage in Kansas. This was followed yesterday morning by a report from a well known crop expert, saying that instead of 80,000,000 bushels for Kansas the crop of that state and Oklahoma besides would hardly reach the 60,000,000 mark, unless great improvement in weather conditions takes place immediately.

Armour House Is Active.

Other options besides the May have shown signs of strength lately, and September led the market, advancing at one time 3¼ cents, and closed almost 3 cents higher than Saturday. The strength of this particular option was due to the combined purchases of Armour and Patten. The Armour house was active in the grain market, and paid particular attention to the September wheat, selling at the same time a quantity of wheat for December delivery as an offset.

On the other hand, the Patten house was a buyer of both the September and December and was seller of May and July. Close observers in the pits say Patten has been selling his May wheat to the shorts all this month, and some of them believe his sales since his return to the city two weeks ago have averaged 250,000 bushels a day. Yesterday he is said to have sold nearer 500,000. When asked if he was cleaned out of the May wheat he replied: "O, I guess there will be enough to last until the end of the month."

Patten Sets Traders Guessing.

Some of the traders seem to think Patten's manipulation in the September wheat is for the purpose of frightening would-be deliverers of wheat from making deliveries. Shorts who actually have the wheat to deliver would hesitate to let go their actual wheat if the prospects looked bright to sell it at higher prices for July or September delivery, and would rather take their loss on the May options which they are short.

An additional 30 cents was tacked on to the price of flour by northwestern millers, making the ruling prices for spring wheat flour now $7 to $7.30 a barrel. Other cereals also are seeking the skyline, May corn having sold as high as 74¾ cents, and the oats sold at 62¾ cents.

NO. 2 RED WHEAT AT $1.58.

St. Louis, Mo., May 24.—The highest price for cash wheat in the history of the St. Louis grain market was reached today, when No. 2 red was quoted at $1.58 a bushel.

Highest Price Since 1876.

O'LEARY MUST PAY HIS TAXES.

Court Decrees Gambler Owes $72 on 1907 List—Sued Also in 1905 and 1906.

Judgment for $72 was returned in Municipal Judge Dicker's court yesterday against James J. O'Leary, saloonkeeper at 4183 Halsted street, well known among gamblers.

The suit was for 1907 personal property taxes, Assistant County Attorney Behan appearing against the defendant.

Records in the county attorney's office show that O'Leary was sued for his 1905 and 1906 personal property taxes also.

A. BOOTH & CO. FINED $1,000

Judge Landis Exacts Penalty for Rebating from Assets.

Valentine Witnesses Transfer to New Fisheries Concern.

Coincident with the payment to W. J. Chalmers, receiver of A. Booth & Co., of $1,000,000 and the formal transfer of the assets of the concern to the Booth Fisheries company, a Delaware corporation, Judge Landis entered a fine against A. Booth & Co. of $1,000 for an old rebating case yesterday. If District Attorney Sims makes good his promise and collects the fine in full, the creditors will be just that much shy when they come to divide the pot.

P. A. Valentine, brother-in-law of W. Vernon Booth, and through whose negotiations and cash the solution of the A. Booth & Co. difficulties was made possible, arrived in Chicago in the morning, to be present at the transfer of the property.

Valentine at Transfer.

The meeting was held in the office of Winston, Payne & Strawn, and beside Receiver Chalmers and Mr. Valentine there were present Frank C. Letts, president and treasurer of the new company, and legal representative of the receiver, Mr. Valentine, and the creditors.

The transfer was accomplished quickly and Mr. Letts assumed active charge of the new concern. Until he has become familiar with the details of the business he does not expect to make any changes.

The first meeting of the directors of the Booth Fisheries company was held on Friday in New York, at which time these officers and directors were elected: President and treasurer, Frank C. Letts; vice president, Frank O. Wetmore; secretary, E. A. Crosby; directors, E. A. Crosby, Ralph Van Vechten, Herman Waldeck, B. C. Sammons, C. G. Dawes, A. I. Valentine, and S. E. Robertson.

Long Under Advisement.

Two years ago Booth & Co. were indicted for accepting rebates from the Nickle Plate and Lehigh Valley railways. When the case was called for trial a plea of guilty was entered, and Judge Landis took the question of punishment under advisement. He has been pondering the matter ever since.

"I am not sure where the money will come from to pay the fine," he said, "but I presume it will come from the assets, since the company itself is really no more. I believe the government has a prior claim on the assets for the amount of the fine."

COMMERCE ASSOCIATION NEEDS ANOTHER HALF A MILLION.

Extension of Ground Option Brings Joy to Workers, Who Have Already Raised $600,000.

Officers and members of the Chicago Association of Commerce who have been zealously working to raise $1,000,000 in subscriptions to apply for "good faith" on the proposed new building of the association at Washington and La Salle streets, learned with joy last night that the option on the ground, which expired yesterday, has been extended.

Up to yesterday only slightly more than half the sum needed, or about $600,000, had been secured in cash contributions and pledges. Walter D. Moody, general manager of the association, was told by David R. Forgan that he had secured the extension.

Fifteen captains, who represent fifteen large business men of the city, at a meeting in the Great Northern hotel at noon, decided to continue the work another week.

The business welfare of the city will receive a big impetus tomorrow evening when the Chicago Association of Commerce and the board of trade, the two largest commercial organizations of the city, join hands at a banquet in the gold room of the Congress hotel. Richard C. Hall, former president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, will preside as toastmaster.

The speakers will be David R. Forgan, J. A. Bunnell, president of the board of trade; Prof. J. A. Scott, Northwestern university; W. M. Hopkins, transportation department of the board of trade; Prof. Nathaniel Butler, University of Chicago; and Walter D. Moody.

Pennsylvania Lines Stopovers.

On first class tickets reading over Pennsylvania Lines 10 day stopovers, including date of deposit, are now allowed upon notice to conductor at either or all the following cities: Pittsburg, Washington, Baltimore, or Philadelphia, and at Indianapolis and Columbus. Also effective June 1 at Dayton.—Adv.

THINKS TRACY & CO. WILL PAY ABOUT 30 CENTS ON DOLLAR.

Attorney for Broker Estimates Assets at $200,000 Pending Examination of Local Books.

Some progress was made yesterday untangling the affairs of the brokerage firm of Tracy & Co. W. F. Allen, representative of the New York receiver, arrived for a conference with the officers of the American Trust and Savings bank, local receivers, and they went over the books of the Chicago offices.

Adams Goodrich, attorney for Mr. Tracy, said the assets probably would amount to enough to enable the receiver to pay creditors about 30 cents on the dollar.

"It will be the end of the week before we can hope for any definite figures," he said, "as the work on the books will not be completed before that time. It looks to me now as if we would get about $100,000 from the memberships, which are unincumbered, and perhaps an equal amount from odds and ends."

Mr. Allen will be here for several days, probably until the examination of the books is completed.

DECLINES TO NAME RECEIVER.

Judge Persuades Officers to File Bonds to Protect Stockholders in Transfer of Concern.

Judge Ball virtually declined yesterday to name a receiver for the H. W. Dudley Coffee company, a $500,000 corporation, or to enjoin a meeting which is to be held in Augusta, Me., today to ratify the transfer of the business to W. S. Quinby of Boston.

Officials of the company and three stockholders agreed to his suggestion that the defendants file bonds to protect the petitioners against loss in the transfer. The stockholders accused Quinby and the officials of "high finance" methods in the transaction.

John V. Farwell company, holders of a $3,765 judgment against John P. Thomas, asked the Superior court to appoint a receiver for his assets to discover whether or not he has any property.

Swift & Company's

A Good-Night Cup For A Good Night's Rest

Bonano

SOOTHING, refreshing, sound-sleep insuring, BONANO is the best of all bed-time drinks.

It is the one hot drink you can give to the children in safety. They like it and it "agrees" with them—brings peaceful, healthful slumber.

Nature's own nightcap for older folks, too. It contains nothing to harm, everything to help. It is a warm drink that draws the blood to the stomach, aids digestion—giving restful sleep a clear "right-of-way."

Tropic-ripened bananas that have reached their full maturity, dried and roasted to a golden brown—then granulated. Without adulteration, coloring or artificial flavor.

BONANO is as inspiring as coffee, as refreshing as tea, as full of up-building qualities as cocoa or chocolate—yet it never palls upon you.

Try BONANO a week or two. You will enjoy its good effects from the first—you will like it better and better when you find the true health value of the drink that really braces—without letting you down again.

You will enjoy its spicy aroma, its delicious flavor which is not banana-like. You can prepare BONANO just as you prepare coffee. It goes twice as far. Can be easily made to suit each individual taste by boiling it a longer or shorter time or using a larger or smaller quantity than directions call for—just as different people brew coffee differently.

Prepare BONANO as you like it, and you'll like it better than any other drink.

A 25-cent can of BONANO makes 75 cups of the best hot drink you ever tasted. Ask your grocer for BONANO.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

By superior pitching the White Sox defeated the New Yorkers yesterday in the second game of their series, making the third straight victory for the patched up Sullivans. As the score of 2 to 1 indicates, it was a battle of slabmen, and Jim Scott outpitched Mr. Brockett until Manager Sullivan sent a sub hitter in for the Wichita lad. That was in the seventh inning and Frank Smith finished the job of outpitching Brockett.

Mike Welday, who broke into the game by way of an accident to Dougherty's knee, was the graveyard of New York's hopes before the battle was ten minutes old. By one swell catch which robbed Hal Chase of a two or three bagger in the opening inning and was converted into a brilliant double play, Graveyard Mike repulsed the first onset of the enemy. But for him the Highlanders surely would have gained a lead which would have proved hard to overcome.

Welday's Spectacular Catch.

Hemphill was on first by way of a pass with one out when Chase swung viciously on a floater and pounded it on a line high over Purtell's head. There was no one anywhere near it, and Hemphill dug madly for the plate. But Welday dashed across toward the foul line and as the ball was shooting past him, reached two inches beyond the utmost limit and somehow grabbed that ball. The roar was all that told Hemphill of the startling catch and he was then well beyond second base. Welday's steam carried him almost to the bleacher fence before he could stop but he had time, with the help of Tannehill's good relay, to get the ball to first base before Hemphill could get back there.

That catch and Dave Altizer's daring attempt to steal home in the sixth were the features of an otherwise long and tedious scrap. If he had gained the verdict he would have completed the circuit unaided except by luck, for he reached the third corner with no one out by virtue of a scratch three base swat off the lid of the drain in right field. The score being tied at 1 apiece, there was great rejoicing and glee which rapidly disappeared as Purtell was thrown out by Elberfeld without letting Dave home and Tannehill watched a third strike float by.

Dave Tries to Steal Home.

Realizing the apparent hopelessness of getting a helping hand from anybody, Dave conceived the bold idea of stealing home and wiping off the effulgence of Hooper's similar feat in the third Boston game. Sneaking a long lead, Dave made the dash, but Brockett cut his habitual cold molasses delivery in half and pitched a wide one. Atz remained glued to the batsman's box even after Blair gave him a vigorous push. Right there Altizer slid into the tangled mass of feet and toppled both Atz and Blair over on top of him. Apparently David was safe, but Arbiter Perrine waved him out. There was considerable desultory argument, but the decision went.

This in connection with Hooper's successful performance of the same feat brings up a fine point of etiquette which ought to be clearly defined by the umps for future reference. Hooper's success was due wholly to the fact Wagner stuck to his job as batsman and refused to budge even when Owens politely tapped him on the arm and asked to be permitted to touch the runner out. O'Loughlin, who was behind the bat that day, called the runner safe. Perrine yesterday reversed the precedent absolutely by calling the runner out.

The Point Is——

The point is, should politeness and sportsmanship be penalized in baseball and is rudeness and ungentlemanly conduct to be encouraged? That seems to be the only conclusion. Because Blair gave Atz a realistic Bowery shove in an effort to get him out of the way so he could touch a runner, he was patted on the back. Because Owens showed better breeding and more regard for the batsman's toes he was made to look foolish. All arbiters are banded together to obtain great consideration for their own feelings from the players, but Chesterfieldian manners between opposing players apparently don't go. See?

Scott held the Highlanders to four hits during his seven inning term and would have shut them out but for the fact Chase turned one of his passes into a run by reckless base running. He was in several tight spots and pitched himself out of all except one. Brockett was wilder than he was deliberate in his delivery, and this was due to the fact he needed practice between pitches. He gave six free tickets, one of which blossomed into the winning run, and contributed a wild pitch in a timely spot. Only four hits were made off the enemy's procrastinator, but one of them was a double and another a triple.

Scott in Deep Hole.

A slip by Tannehill put Scott in badly in the second. Demmitt led with a single, and would have been forced by Purtell's good play off Elberfeld's grounder, but Lee dropped the ball. The two runners stole third and second in sections, but Scott pulled himself out with the help of Atz's good catch of Laporte's tall fly. Wichita Jim then struck out Austin and retired Blair on a grounder to Altizer.

The third brought the first Sox tally, and two were out before it even sprouted. Hahn was the hero with a clean double over center. A wild pitch on the fourth bad ball given White let Eddie to third, and Welday pulled a single into right scoring the run. Altizer popped out.

The visitors tied that up in their fourth, which Chase started with a walk. Demmitt sacrificed him to second. Scott set Elberfeld down on strikes, but Laporte hit viciously through Purtell, who partly checked the drive. Chase rounded third and tore for home, although Tannehill was right on top of the escaped sphere, and an instant's hesitation by Lee let him beat the ball to the plate. Laporte reached second. Austin beat out a bunt to Atz and stole second, but Blair hit to Scott, retiring the side.

Altizer tried to untie the knot unaided in the sixth after his single had been turned into a three bagger by hitting the sewer cover in right field and bounding away past Demmitt, but his daring deed was not appreciated by Ump Perrine. The break came in the seventh. Atz worked his passage to first and reached second on Sullivan's out. Here Dougherty was sent to bat for Scott and was given a base on balls. Hahn followed with a bounder, which both Chase and Laporte fumbled, letting Atz home. Score:

NOTES OF THE WHITE SOX.

Same foes today and tomorrow.

A week ago half the bugs were willing to take oath those Sox never could win three straight games.

Isbell's shoulder would not thaw out and that gave Altizer another day in which to shine as an all round utility performer.

Purtell gave the Sox a good opening in the fourth with a single to right. Tannehill sacrificed and Atz was given a pass. Sullivan and Scott both struck out.

Altizer opened Chicago's second with a walk, but Austin ate up three grounders in a row from Purtell, Tannehill, and Atz, so Dave went no farther than third.

An hour and five minutes were needed to finish four innings and if the score had been tied up at the end it would not have been possible to play many extra rounds before dark.

Dougherty slipped as he boarded a street car on his way to the park yesterday and wrenched his knee so that Manager Sullivan feared to let him take chances with it. The wrench was not serious, however, and Pat said after the game it would be all right today he thought.

Blair singled with but one out in the seventh. Brockett poked a bunt past Scott in safety, but Tannehill sneaked in and by a perfect pickup and throw retired the pitcher at first. Cree hit hotly between third and short and again Tannehill came to the rescue with a strong throw to Altizer which retired the side and cut off a run.

Only seven men faced Smith in the two innings he pitched. In the eighth two were out when Demmitt soaked out his second single. A spitter escaped Sullivan and let the runner to third. With only one run margin and Elberfeld up there was a chance for trouble, but Shorty flied to Atz. Three Yankees were disposed of in a row in the ninth.

Detroit, Mich., May 24.—Altrock made his first appearance in Washington uniform, and was forced to retire in the third inning. ## DISSENSIONS IN TIGER CAMP.

Veteran Detroit Players Take Exception to Pushing the Youngsters to the Front.

Detroit, Mich., May 24.—[Special.]—There are evidences, aside from the frequency with which games have been dropped in the last ten days, that the old dissensions which made Detroit a sixth place team in 1906 and almost lost it a pennant in the latter days of the race of 1908 have broken out afresh.

It is rumored that some of the old hands are sore at the way Jennings is putting recruits to the front. McIntyre is the subject of much talk in this respect, not on his own account but on that of his chum, Ed Killian. Waivers have been asked and received on Killian because in Speer Jennings has picked up a likely looking left hand pitcher. Speer pitched against the Athletics Saturday and certain Tigers apparently made no effort to play ball. McIntyre was conspicuous in this respect. Schaefer and O'Leary seemed to handle the ball carelessly.

Stanage is the cause of more dissension, it is believed. He has supplanted Schmidt as the regular Tiger catcher. Schmidt's friends are said to be sore, taking it, for an act of retribution for the Coal Hill boy's holdout. But the real reason is that Stanage has caught better ball than Schmidt ever did.

Receives Loving Cup and Punch Bowl from New York Admirers.

New York, May 24.—St. Louis beat New York, 3 to 1, because of costly errors made behind Mathewson and the locals' inability to hit Lush with men on bases. Doyle's misplay on Charles in the seventh gave the visitors two runs, and Konetchy, who tallied in the sixth, reached first on a low throw by Devlin. Manager Bresnahan of St. Louis was presented with a silver loving cup by his New York admirers, and at a banquet given in his honor tonight received a punch bowl. Score:

BY R. W. LARDNER.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 24.—[Special.]—A long drive by Artie Hofman, at present chief slugger of the world's champion Cubs, gave them a victory this afternoon over the Brooklyn Dodgers in the eleventh inning of one of the hardest fought games of the year. Score, 4 to 3.

Nor was Artie's the only home run smash of the day. When the champions looked winners all over with the score 3 to 1 in their favor, and two men out in the ninth inning, Tim Jordan, whose specialty it is to pound them high and far away, lifted one of Brown's fast balls over the fence, driving in Whitey Alperman ahead of him and tying up the count. Brooklyn went wild over Jordan's wallop, and returned to its normal state of sad insignificance only after Hofman had broken up the game with his belated smash.

Heart Disease Battle.

The battle was a heart disease affair from the eighth round on. In the ninth, with two down, Harry Steinfeldt's three base drive, combined with Alperman's miserable and useless throw to catch him at third, gave the Cubs their third tally, one which looked unnecessary at the time. But that it was most important was proven in Brooklyn's half, when, with two down, Alperman redeemed himself for his bad chuck by tripling over Sheckard's head, and Jordan followed with his lift into the street.

On even terms, Nap Rucker and Mordecai Brown started in to fight until darkness for supremacy. The three fingered one became tightness personified when he realized there was a chance of getting trimmed in another extra inning contest. Three Dodgers he fanned in a row in the tenth, and three more died on the feeblest kind of efforts after Hofman had won back the lead. Sheckard, who did not look any too good against Rucker, met one on the nose in the Cubs' part of this final round, but Catterson bagged it after a hard chase. Frank Schulte, who was another weakling against Nap, ended his life with a fly to right. Then Hofman, who had failed to break into the hit column earlier in the day, banged one at a terrific rate over Hummel's head into left center. Catterson made a desperate try to nip it before it fell, but he was short some inches, and the ball hopped past him to the farthest corner of the yard.

Artie Tears Around Circuit.

Artie tore around the sacks like a mad bull and was not more than ten feet from home when Hummel received Burch's despairing throw and relayed it in. By that time Artie was listening to the congratulations of his friends on the bench.

It was a hard game for Rucker to lose, still the Dodgers had no right to win it. Nap was outpitched by the Cub righthander and the champions' support of their standby was perfect, whereas Brooklyn's defensive play was loose to say the least. The way Rucker started it looked as if no team could score off him. He was faster than a bullet and the champs' various and sundry left handed hitters were swinging with their eyes shut, only hopeful of connecting.

Nap's speed was remarkable up to the third inning, when Joe Tinker put a crimp in the crowd's spirit of levity by catching one of the fast man's fastest ones on the nose and sending it to right field for two sacks. In this, the first crisis of the game, the Dodgers blew and began booting them around. Moran's roller was messed by Hummel and Tinker reached third, while Pat nestled on first. Brown shot a ground ball at Alperman, who kicked it around until Tinker had crossed the plate, then recovered in time to get Brownie at first. The inning was wound up quickly, for Evers hit right at Rucker and Pat was caught between second and third. After he was run down, John was doubled trying to get to second.

During these three innings Brown had kept the Brooklynites popping them up or hitting them harmlessly, and only nine had faced him. The Cubs increased their advantage in the fourth, remembering not to start scoring until two were gone. Hofman's drive was knocked down nicely by Jordan, but Tim's throw was low and Artie went all the way to second while Rucker and Berger were pursuing the ball. Steinfeldt here got in his first useful swipe, bringing Artie home with a one baser to left field. Howard walked, but Tinker gave Jordan a chance to bag a difficult foul and distinguish himself.

This was where the Dodgers broke down Brownie's guard for an instant and cut the lead in two. Little Burch opened the home team's half with the first safety off the three fingered one. Howard knocked down Hummel's clout and threw to Tinker in time to force Burch, but Alperman's infield out advanced Al to second, and Jordan, who, by the way, drove in all the runs Brooklyn obtained, scored the shortstopper with a clean drive between Evers and Howard. Hofman caught Lennox's lift to end it.

Jordan Knocks Ball Over Fence.

With the score 2 to 1, the opposing armies battled on in vain until the fateful ninth. In the seventh Howard and Tinker singled in succession with one out, but Pat's fly to Burch was short and Del was double up trying to count from third base. Sheckard was robbed of a single in the eighth by Hummel and Jordan, who combined to make a pretty play of his rapid hopper toward center. The Dodgers had a man on second in the eighth, but he could get no farther. Alperman singled and Jordan sacrificed. Lennox, however, died on a fly to Hofman and Whitey was run down on the lines when Steinfeldt picked up Kustus' hard bounder.

In the champions' ninth Schulte fanned and Bergen tossed out Hofman. Then Steinfeldt hit between Kustus and Catterson for a three bagger, having pulled up at third when Alperman caught Catterson's peg. Nevertheless, Whitey was bound to throw somewhere, so he decided to aim at an occupant of the third base stand. He just missed his target and Steiny loped home. Howard made Alperman's play look all the worse by striking out.

Then after Burch and Hummel had been killed off Alperman tripled over Sheckard and the crowd decided to stick around awhile. Jordan lifted a high fly toward the right field fence. Schulte backed right up against the boards in the effort to nail it, but the wind carried the ball over and the stands became a bedlam. Lennox followed this blow with a single to center, but Moran got Kustus' foul near the stand. Catterson, Bergen and Rucker fell in a row before Brownie in the tenth and then arrived the belated victory. Score:

NOTES OF THE CUBS.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 24.—[Special.]—The Cubs managed to keep up with the pace of the Pirates, who seem to be in a soft spot this week.

It is Manager Chance's plan to give Ed Reulbach another trial Wednesday. Big Ed has been the Dodgers' hoodoo in the past.

Burch's single in the fourth was a scratch. He sent a slow one between Howard and Brown. Neither of them thought he could field the ball in time, so both let the marble alone and raced to cover the bag.

It is seldom the Cubs have had to hit against anything as fast as what Rucker was pitching in the early part of the game. It would have been slow music for any of the champs to get their beans in the way of his fast ones.

Frank Schulte spoiled a good record. This was the fifth ball game his sister has attended. In the other four she has had the pleasure of seeing Frank hit home runs, one to the game. This time he didn't even get to first base.

Benjamin Kinney, a Havana sporting writer, attended the game with President Murphy. He has offered the champions good inducements to visit Cuba at the close of this season and play a series with the best of the island teams. The Cubs probably will accept the proposition, whether they win the title or not.

Sheckard was playing in for Alperman in the ninth, thinking Brown would pitch a fast one to Whitey. But Brownie was forced to throw a nice, new, shiny, white agate, so he thought he'd fool Alperman by curving it. The ball went to the fence, but at that Sheckard's quick return made the play at third base close.

Cornell Entry in Balance.

Ithaca, N. Y., May 24.—[Special.]—Coach Courtney of the Cornell crew today denied the report that he had definitely decided to enter the junior crew, which smashed the Henley record at Philadelphia last Saturday, as a varsity crew against Harvard. He admitted that was a possibility, but said he had not yet made up his mind. The regatta management has secured three tentative courses for the Memorial day regatta to avoid postponement because of weather. One is six miles north of this city, the other between that and the regular course.

HARVARD BREAKS LOSING STREAK.

TRIMS THE TIGERS, 4 TO 1.

Hicks Twirls in Rare Form, the Home Sluggers Failing to Get a Hit.

Princeton, N. J., May 24.—[Special.]—For the first time in thirteen years Harvard beat Princeton at baseball in this town today. Score, 4 to 1.

The Cambridge collegians outclassed the Tigers even in a greater ratio than the final tally would indicate. Hicks, who did the pitching for Harvard, was in rare form. Not a semblance of a hit was made off his delivery, and he held the Tiger batsmen helpless. Dawson, Sides, and Dillon, who usually do some nifty work with the stick, were good only for pop flies. Harvard altogether played snappy ball. They hit hard and rapidly, driving Cunningham from the mound in the fourth inning after securing three runs. Score:

HIGH SCHOOLS IN SEMI-FINAL.

Dates Arranged for Baseball Championship Games—Mixup on the South Side.

On June 2, Crane, the winner in the northern section, will play Austin, which finished second in the western section, at West End ball park.

June 3 was the date set for Englewood, winners in the southern section, to play Lane, the second team in the northern section, at either Normal or Anson's park. Because of complications in the southern section it was decided that Hyde Park and Lake play on Wednesday and the winner of this game play Wendell Phillips for second place. Oak Park, which carried off the honors in the western section, will meet the team which finishes second in the southern section May 31 or June 4.

After these games are played the board of control will hold another meeting for the purpose of arranging dates for the final games. It is the intention of those in charge of high school athletics to hold a drawing between the three teams which win the semi-final contests. The team drawing a bye will meet the winner of the other two teams which drew for the championship.

LANGFORD STOPS ENGLISH FIGHTER

Island Champion, with Advantage in Weight and Reach, Outclassed in Skill.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, May 24.—Sam Langford, the Boston negro, knocked out Ian Hague, champion of England, in the fourth round of a scheduled twenty round fight before the National Sporting club tonight. The battle was for a purse of $9,000 and the English heavyweight title.

There never was such a crowd here as assembled to see this fight. A large proportion of the spectators were Americans. Harry Payne Whitney and the members of the American polo team were early on the scene. Interest was intensified by the bout's bearing on future events in the United States.

There was plenty of money on Langford, Americans backing him liberally at 3 to 1. But supporters of the Yorkshire man were confident of his ability to gain the decision, banking on the English fighter's long reach and greater weight. Before the fight Langford tipped the scales at 158 pounds and Hague at 196 pounds. Hague was four inches taller.

Before the go started Langford objected to the bandages which Hague was wearing, but after a discussion with Referee Corey the American scrapper waived his objection and the fight began.

Hague Tries Body Blows.

Hague evidently had been instructed to play for the American's body, but although he attempted some tremendous blows, they either were wasted or blocked off by the negro, whose skill amounted to more than the Englishman's strength. Hague proved slow throughout the fight. His best work was in the second round, but he did not appear to know how to take advantage of his superior reach and all the time Langford kept jabbing with his left.

Hague tired perceptibly in the third round and lost a great chance when Langford, in swinging with his left, failed to land and left himself unguarded. Langford sent his left home to the Englishman's face frequently and the negro's right eye was closed by a hard right from Hague.

Langford Under a "Pull"?

In the fourth and final round the negro's superior skill and activity was shown in a marked manner. He seemed to be all over the Englishman, who simply took his pounding gamely. The end soon came. Langford sent in three quick jabs with his left, then crossed a terrific right to the point of the chin. Hague went down and was counted out.

Referee Corey, in announcing the verdict, declared Langford champion of the world.

The negro was smiling throughout the go except for a moment in the second round, when Hague sent him to his knees with a right, and gave the spectators the impression that he could have ended the fight earlier if he had so desired. It seemed as if he merely played with his bulky slow opponent for the first three rounds.

The bout between Jimmy Walsh, American, and "Digger" Stanley of London for the bantamweight championship of England was declared a draw. The fight went the full fifteen rounds. The purse was $1,750.

NELSON IS 2 TO 1 FAVORITE.

Champion Is Topheavy Choice for Fight with Dick Hyland—Britt on Way to the Coast.

San Francisco, Cal., May 24.—[Special.]—Corbett's poolrooms today announce Battling Nelson a 2 to 1 favorite over Dick Hyland. These figures fairly reflect the opinion of the fight experts who have watched the two training and know what they have done in the ring. Hyland fights best close in and against a man who dislikes rough work he makes a good showing, but the experts figure Nelson is stronger and will give more than he receives in close milling.

In his last fight with Gans, Nelson developed a half-arm blow to the body which defeated Gans, as well as powerful uppercuts placed with great precision. If Nelson cuts loose at the start the fans believe he will win in ten rounds.

Promoter Cofforth today received a dispatch from Willis Britt, Ketchel's manager, in New York saying he was leaving immediately for San Francisco to arrange the details of the fight between Ketchel and Papke on July 5. As Papke already has agreed to all the details, Coffroth is confident he soon will have the articles signed. This bout will draw the biggest crowd of any fight that could be arranged here.

MEMSIC KNOCKS OUT LITTLE.

Chicago Boy Plants Hook to His Opponent's Jaw Two Minutes After the Gong Sounds.

Memphis, Tenn., May 24.—[Special.]—Hardly before the spectators were settled in their seats, Mike Memsic of Chicago planted a stinging right on Walter Little's jaw in the first round of their scheduled eight round bout tonight at the Phœnix Athletic club. Little tumbled in a heap, but rose at the count of eight to receive a similar jolt that put him to sleep. Including the time taken to count Little out there was less than two minutes of fighting.

Ed Wall, former southern welterweight champion, returned to the ring after several years' absence and was knocked out by Kid Hughes in the second round.

Decker Puts Up Fast Fight.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 24.—[Special.]—George Decker gave Terry Fitzgerald a stiff six round argument at the West End A. C. tonight. Decker was more aggressive and was entitled to the verdict.

Decker and Schumacher Draw.

Baltimore, Md., May 24.—[Special.]—Before the Eureka Athletic club tonight "Dummy" Decker of Baltimore and Al Schumacher fought fifteen rounds to a draw. Decker had an advantage, but it was so slight that the decision was well received.

Gardner to Fight Quill.

Boston, Mass., May 24.—[Special.]—Jimmy Gardner and Tommy Quill were matched tonight to fight for the welterweight championship of the world here on June 8.

"Packey" on Fight Ground.

JEFFRIES TO FIGHT AT HOME.

McIntosh Wants Big Fellow to Scrap Abroad, but Nothing Doing, Says Boilermaker.

Sam Berger, manager of James J. Jeffries, yesterday received a letter from Hugh McIntosh, the Australian fight promoter, who is in England, asking him to refrain from closing a match with Jack Johnson for the world's heavyweight title without first giving him an opportunity to bid for the fight.

Jeffries and Berger both expressed the opinion that McIntosh wanted them to fight in Australia or England. When Jeff signs articles to fight the negro he figures he can make just as much money battling in America as he can in a foreign clime, and asserts the battle must take place in this country.

Jeffries continues his strenuous training at the White Sox ball park every morning. Tomorrow morning he will organize a team composed of Comiskey's utility men and play against a nine organized by James J. Corbett. Jeffries will play first base and Corbett will twirl and play the outfield.

When told of the easy way in which Sam Langford disposed of Ian Hague, the English champion, in their fight yesterday, Jeff showed little surprise and said, "Langford is a good, tough fighter and I am not surprised to hear of his easy win over Hague. The Englishman never was a good fighter and Langford is one of the best fighters in America. I would like to see him fight Johnson, but do not think they will get together."

Jeffries, Berger, and the rest of the sketch will leave the city Sunday afternoon to open a week's engagement at Bayonne, N. J. They are undecided whether they will go abroad before returning to California.

J. Graham was the best of the amateurs, finishing with a score of 116. Jesse Young, considered one of the best amateur shots in the country, had a score of 112. Barto, another crack amateur, killed 110.

GOTCH TO RETIRE FOR A TIME.

After Defeating Olsen the Champ Announces That Hackenschmidt Match Is Canceled.

Omaha, Neb., May 24.—Frank Gotch, world champion wrestler, tonight defeated Charles Olsen of St. Louis at the Auditorium in straight falls, the first in 21:40 and the second in 15 minutes.

Gotch has canceled his match with Hackenschmidt in Melbourne, Australia, for next January and will quit the wrestling game after June 11, at least temporarily.

The champion tonight gave out an interview in which he stated that he would undergo an operation on the nose about the middle of June for an injury received many years ago while playing ball.

Gotch has arranged for matches in Sioux City, Des Moines, and Minneapolis, and after filling these dates he will go directly to Minenapolis for treatment. Two operations will be necessary, one on each side of the nose.

Good Tryout for "German Oak."

Ernest Siegfried, the big German, will get the first real local tryout tonight in a match with Charley Olson, the Indianapolis crack, at the Empire theater. The club will stage three bouts. In the opening event Leo Pardello will meet Jim Galvin. In the semi-windup Dr. B. F. Roller will tackle Charley Cutler.

KETCHEL TO FIGHT O'BRIEN.

Match Clinched for Philadelphia Club for June 9—Weight to Be 160 Pounds at Noon.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 24.—[Special.]—Jack O'Brien and Stanley Ketchel will meet in this city at the National A. C. on Wednesday, June 9. The match had been hanging fire for some time, but today Harry Edwards, business manager of the National A. C., clinched it.

Edwards had all the papers drawn and ready for signing when Willus Britt, Ketchel's manager, passed through the city tonight. He was met by Edwards at the station and the signature was obtained.

The articles call for a six round bout, both men to weigh in at 160 pounds at noon the day of the bout. Both O'Brien and Ketchel have posted a $1,000 forfeit for weight and appearance.

"Knockout" Brown After Coulon.

"Knockout" Brown of New York City contends that he is rightly entitled to a match with Johnny Coulon, the present claimant and recognized holder of the world's bantamweight title. Brown knocked out "Young O'Leary," who fought Coulon to a standstill when the latter was in New York after five rounds of furious fighting. The New Yorker is only in his seventeenth year, but his victims include some of the country's best 115 pounders.

At the Billiard Halls.

At Hicks'—Willie Hoppe, playing his brother Frank, won by a score of 500 to 41, with a high run of 177 and an average of 50.

QUITS AMATEUR CLASS.

Svanberg to Compete Against Two Men at Logan Square Park Tonight.

Alexander Thibeau, one of the best long distance runners in the west, turned professional yesterday in order to compete in the Marathon race at the Sox park on Saturday. Thibeau, who has carried the colors of the First regiment, I. N. G., to victory in many athletic contests, surprised the promoters of the Marathon by offering his entry yesterday.

While glad to land the stocky Indian, Promoter Callahan called his attention to the fact that it would cost him his amateur rating. Thibeau said he had made his decision to compete and intimated he was feeling none too well disposed toward the A. A. U., which body he claimed prevented him from making the London trip last year.

Thibeau claims he had shown far better work in training than Hayes and should have been given the preference over the Irish-American runner. According to his statement the A. A. U. officials allowed him to go ahead with his arrangements until within a few days of the trip, when they notified him they had enough men on the squad. The Indian has run in seventeen Marathons in the west, never finishing lower than fourth. His best time for the twenty-six miles 365 yards is 2:44:22, only a trifle slower than the record.

John Svanberg, the Swedish champion, will run a twelve mile race tonight at Logan Square park against two local runners, "Kid Clipper" and Walter Voss, the two men running six miles each. The race, which will be started at 8 o'clock, will be run by artificial light, an acetylene gas plant having been installed.

Longboat Beats Coley.

Toronto, Ont., May 24.—Tom Longboat had no trouble in disposing of Tom Coley in a twenty mile race at Hanalan's Point tonight. Longboat's time for the twenty miles was 1:55:16.

It all depends on how it breaks. If discretion were the better part of valor we wouldn't have to blow ourselves to erect monuments to heroes.

LOW TRICK PLAYED ACOOSETHE.

Tacks Sprinkled on Marathon Course Lose Race for Indian Against Appleby.

Winnipeg, Manitoba, May 24.—A trick was played on Acoosethe, the Manitoba Indian, tonight in his fifteen mile race with Appleby. Some one sprinkled tacks on the course, and as the Indian ran in moccasins, he gathered them in. He was leading by a lap in the fourth mile when he stopped to pick out the tacks, losing three laps. Appleby, running in rubber shoes, was safe. The Indian gave up in the ninth mile with bleeding feet.

Oxford Crew Cannot Meet Harvard.

Boston, Mass., May 24.—[Special.]—The management of the Harvard crew has received word that it will be impossible to arrange a race with the Oxford varsity crew this year.

FIRST REGIMENT PREPARES TO GUARD AUTO RACE COURSE.

Col. Sanborn Begins Work of Assigning Soldiers and Promises Ample Protection to Spectators.

Col. J. B. Sanborn, commanding the First infantry, Illinois National guard, the regiment selected to guard the Crown Point-Lowell course, on which the races for the Cobe cup and Indiana trophy will be run June 18 and 19, has begun the work of assignments. That the protection afforded spectators will be as absolute as that furnished by the regular soldiers of the French government for the Grand Prix is the prediction of the colonel.

Col. Sanborn has divided the course into forty-one military stations. These have been blue printed so that every commanding officer will have a full working knowledge of the military points for details. These forty-one stations have been grouped into three zones.

Zone No. 1 will include stations 1 to 9 and No. 41. An entire battalion will be detailed to patrol duty here, the zone including the grand stand and the congested streets of the town of Crown Point.

Zone No. 2 also will be in charge of a major with 300 men. It includes the district about and in Lowell and takes in military stations numbered from 22 to 36.

Zone No. 3 includes military stations No. 2 to No. 10—the Cedar lake district—and will require a detail of about 300 men in command of a major.

"The First regiment will move upon the Indiana field the night of June 17," said Col. Sanborn. "A detail to look after baggage will arrive there before the troops. Shelter tents will be carried by each soldier, the cooking ranges, etc., being sent in advance. It will be a good practical test of field equipment. The force will number about 800 men and I expect a full complement of officers. The Chicago Automobile club needs only to proceed with its arrangements and the soldiery will see that no one is injured by the flying automobiles."

Bookmaker McCarty, Chicago, Dead.

Toronto, Ont., May 24.—[Special.]—John McCarty of Chicago, a bookmaker, who had been attending the races at Woodbine, was stricken with apoplexy yesterday while in his room at Hotel Trader. He died early this morning.

TRAVERS MAKES A SPEEDY EXIT.

LOSES TO W. HENDERSON.

Yankee Title Holder Fails to Play Up to His Usual Steady Form.

EDINBURGH, May 24.—Jerome D. Travers, the American amateur golf champion of Montclair, N. J., was eliminated from the British amateur championship contest which opened on the Muirfield course today. He lost his first match to W. A. Henderson of the Royal and Ancient Golf club, 2 and 1. Weather conditions were excellent and a large crowd followed the contest.

Travers failed to play up to the form expected of him. He appeared nervous on starting and lost the first two holes by bad tee shots. The American then pulled himself together and succeeded in getting square at the fifth hole. His weakness from the tee, however, reasserted itself, and he drove in the bunkers at the eighth and ninth holes and could only halve the holes which might have won for America.

The players turned all even, but Travers lost the tenth hole, foozled a drive badly at the twelfth hole, and again became two down. He missed by a yard a putt to win the thirteenth hole, and this finally turned the game against him. Henderson only wanted the halves, which he obtained. The match went to the seventeenth hole, where the British player won.

E. A. Lassen, the title holder, defeated C. A. Palmer, 2 and 1.

Few Entries for Women's Golf.

New York, May 24.—Only sixteen entries have been received for the women's metropolitan golf championship, which begins tomorrow on the links of the Nassau Country club at Glen Cove, L. I. This is the slimmest entry in the history of the contest.

NOTES OF THE GOLFERS.

Secretary S. T. Fulton announced yesterday that the golf season at Midlothian Country club would open formally on May 31 with play for the Ettinger cup, a four ball foursome at thirty-six holes medal play, handicap. A driving contest for men and women also is carded. A mixed foursome will be played on Saturday afternoon and a handicap at eighteen holes.

Professional Gardner announced yesterday he hoped to have the new holes at Exmoor ready for play by July 4.

MANAGER CARR IS ARRESTED.

Leader of Hoosiers Is Made Medium of Test Case by Opponents of Sunday Ball in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 24.—An affidavit was filed in the Criminal court today by Frank F. Accrea, an insurance man, against Charles C. Carr, manager of the Indianapolis baseball club, charging that he was engaged in his usual vocation, that of a professional baseball player, yesterday; that his work was not for charity nor necessity, and that it was against the peace and dignity of the state of Indiana.

A committee of churchmen is supposed to be back of the proceedings. A capias was issued to the sheriff. This action is the beginning of a test of the constitutionality of the recent legislature's act permitting Sunday baseball in Indiana. The bill was fought bitterly.

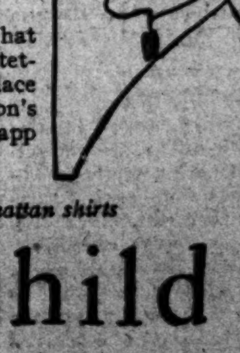
Carr, hearing that a deputy sheriff was in search of him, went to the sheriff's office this afternoon, accompanied by his attorney, was placed formally under arrest, and gave $200 cash bond.

YOU may not want any more clothes than you have now; we don't expect everybody who reads this to come here to buy one of these $20 or $25 suits. But if you can wisely add another suit to your stock, you can most wisely do it now.

Great quality You don't see anywhere else such suits as these at $20 and $25. Hart Schaffner & Marx made them specially for us; carried out our ideas in the quality they are famous for; put some extra value touches into them. They're the best clothes we've ever seen at $20 and $25.

At higher prices If you're inclined to pay more money than those prices, we'd like to have you see what $35, $40, $45, $50 means in clothes here. We've a great stock of such clothes, the greatest in the country; the best clothes made.

At lower prices It's better to buy a $15 suit, if that's your limit, in a store that specializes high quality, than in one where under-prices are the chief consideration. These $15 suits will show you how much better values you can get here.



YOUNG men who are looking for the latest new ideas in smart clothes—college and high school styles, extreme models and patterns, ought to see our special showing; third floor wonderful assortment of styles and fabrics; very swagger, $15 to $30.

Clothes for smaller boys of the most reliable quality at $5 to $20.

SOME of this smart neckwear we're selling at 50 cents looks like a good dollar's worth; it is. Same with this silk lisle hosiery at 50 cents. Manhattan shirts for dress or business at $2 are an exceptional value. Others $1.50 to $5. Special golf shirts $3 to $5.

PEARLS are holding the center of the hat stage, with straws ready to come on. Stetsons here in great variety, $3.50. Only place in town for Stetson's "Special," $5; or Stetson's $8 and $10 stiff hats. We have a Crofut & Knapp hat here at $3 that's a wonder for value.

TUESDAY, MAY 25, 1909.

REMEMBER, however, that Illinois is a great state for marrying.

THIS legislature will collect its pay, just as if it had done something to earn it.

SEE what the United Societies, with the help of the more or less united downstaters, have done to Chicago.

WASHINGTON is looking at Illinois with some curiosity to see whether or not the Hon. Billiam Lorimer can sandbag his way into the United States senate.

NEXT will come a story from some gifted correspondent that the python shot by Mr. Roosevelt was one made of papier-mache expressly for the occasion.

THE public has acquired considerable information lately as to the manner in which some strikes are settled.

UNCLE SHELBY CULLOM is a smooth and genial old gentleman, but he is first of all a United States senator.

ENTHUSIASTIC friends of the Hon. S. Madden will oblige the state's attorney by timing their handshaking a little more judiciously.

IT appears from the testimony that a lot of money has been paid out for having strikes called off, but nobody got it.

ANOTHER health hint: Take a day off occasionally, go out into the woods, and pick wild flowers.

AFTER Mr. Aldrich's tariff bill has passed the conference stage it still will have to pass the presidential inspection stage.

IT is strange that some earnest, high browed member of the legislature has not introduced a bill limiting the height of the heels on women's shoes to four or five inches.

TWENTY million dollars, you see, is too large a sum to be allowed to flow unobstructed into a deep waterway.

ANARCHIST GOLDMAN has an exceedingly hard time in educating the people down to her views.

OUR right little, tight little Blue Island has an official organ that claims to be the official organ of four other suburbs. Can you beat that, you people along the north shore?

TODAY Mr. Hopkins is slated for another supreme effort, which will bring him, it is believed, within nine or possibly eight and one-half votes of the senatorship. There is blood on the moon.

YESTERDAY Mr. Hopkins received ten votes for senator, but he was not making a supreme effort.

EVEN in these days there are giants. It is scarcely necessary to say that we are referring to the Leland Giants.

THE St. Louis Republic speaks of the present session of the Illinois legislature as a "gigantic fizzle." This is premature. The legislature still has several days in which to accomplish something.

IN the Madden case it is apparent that there are several lies out which may be classed as being of the first magnitude.

THERE may be no banks around here where the wild thyme grows, but there are plenty of verdant meads where the wild strawberry grows.

IF Admiral Dewey is satisfied with the condition of the American navy we needn't lose any sleep over it.

ANYHOW, nobody can fence Lake Michigan in and use it as a private and exclusive summer resort.

HEAD THIS OFF.

The law compelling persons bringing suit for personal injuries against municipal corporations to give notice to the latter's clerk or attorney within six months after the occurrence complained of is threatened with destructive amendment. House bill 717, which has reached second reading without reference, and seems to have found favor in the eyes of too many of the members, is framed to defeat this just and highly desirable statute. It provides in effect that it shall not be necessary to allege in any declaration already filed or which hereafter shall be filed in any such cause against a municipality the fact that the notice required by this act has been filed as required, and that an amendment to a declaration already filed shall not be construed as stating a new cause of action. As it is not necessary to prove what is not alleged in the pleadings, the result of this provision would be almost certainly to defeat the object of the present statute.

The selfish interests opposed to the law as it now is are not without influence, as the course thus far of bill 717 proves. They should be promptly met. The present law does no injustice to honest claims. It has saved cities from many dishonest ones during its three years of existence. The legislators who wish to protect the public interest will give bill 717 short shrift when it comes to the final vote.

EXPRESS RATES.

The express companies have had things their own way for a long time. On comparatively small investments of capital they have been getting great returns. The stockholders of some of them have received dividends of handsome amount, extra dividends on occasion, and sometimes a bonus in the shape of additional stock. In the case of one company the stockholders have not been invited to a meeting for many years and do not know as much about affairs as they are now seeking to find out through the courts. But the opinion is general that the express business is an extremely profitable one in every respect.

The profits come from shippers. They are complaining bitterly of increasing charges where the payments made before were sufficient. The traffic director of the Chicago Association of Commerce declares that the express rates out of Chicago have been raised twice during the last year. In some instances they have been virtually doubled. As a result of these complaints from many sides the interstate commerce commission has been asked to investigate. In Illinois the movement is taking the form of a legislative enactment placing express companies under the jurisdiction of the railroad and warehouse commission.

Such legislative action would not be anything new. Express rates are regulated by commission in Indiana, Iowa, and Wisconsin, states in close geographical proximity to Illinois. They are so regulated in Massachusetts, New York, and Minnesota. They ought to be so controlled here. The legislature should not adjourn without passing the bill now before it which makes this provision. The fact that complaints are being made by many leading shippers suggests that there must be reason for inquiry. And the railroad and warehouse commission should be given authority to make such inquiry soon.

THE TIME TO ACT.

THE TRIBUNE has called the attention of its readers to a bill now pending in the legislature to provide for the protection of residence districts from saloons where a majority of the voters do not wish them. In this connection we wish to recall to legislators, and especially to opponents of this bill, the following declaration adopted by the United States Brewers' association at its last annual meeting:

> We also recognize . . . that the maintenance of saloons in resident neighborhoods when they are not desired by the residents is neither profitable nor wise, as the antagonism created by their presence involves greater loss than the sales in such saloons make good.

We assume that the Illinois brewers' interest is supporting this bill in accordance with this sensible pronouncement.

NEW YORK'S SAD PLIGHT.

A few years ago a writer for McClure's investigated Chicago. He found many things which shocked him, and he wrote them up at length. He discovered that this was an easy city for tramps and criminals. He descanted on the then existing alliance between politics, and vice, and crime. He drew a picture which was disagreeable, but which was true in the main. There has been an improvement in many respects since he wrote. Under the present municipal administration Chicago is not the hobo's paradise it once was.

The same writer has now turned his attention to New York City. He makes in the June McClure's certain statements regarding conditions existing there which none of the local papers seems inclined to question. It may be taken for granted, therefore, that the statements are true, and that Tammany rules Manhattan not because a majority of the voters are with it but because it can command the votes of "trained bands of 'repeaters' composed largely of professional criminals." Tammany gets those votes in return for its toleration or protection of crime. This is the plight in which a city with a population of 4,000,000 and an annual expenditure of $150,000,000 now finds itself.

There was a time when Tammany needed no "repeaters." The city was Democratic two to one, and Tammany's control of the liquor interest gave it all the votes it needed to control the party organization. The Jewish and Italian immigration changed the situation. The newcomers, and particularly the Jews, could not be run by the old time saloonkeeping Irish politician. In 1874, owing chiefly to the great racial change, the Republicans elected the mayor. Tammany had to provide new machinery in order to make sure of a majority at the polls.

It has gradually organized the criminal population of New York as professional fraudulent voters at regular elections and at the primaries. It has enlisted the services of the gangs of criminals that sprang up among the Jews and Italians, and gives them protection in return for their votes. It is estimated that in spite of laws to secure honest elections Tammany can cast 50,000 illegal votes, thus dominating the party and the city. But to get them Tammany practically licenses prostitution. It will do nothing to stop the "white slave" trade. The Tammany criminal courts refuse to punish political "dives." One thief is set free out of every three caught. Crime has multiplied because so many criminals are protected.

If none but honest votes were cast New York could emancipate itself and cease to be a crime ridden city. Thus far no laws have been enacted against fraudulent voting which Tammany does not believe it can beat.

HIGH DUTIES AND FRAUD.

The New York custom house is under investigation. Some dishonest employés have been dismissed and others will go. There has been collusion on their part with men who have been smuggling in goods without paying any duty or who in one way or another have defrauded the government of a portion of its dues. False weighing and false invoicing are among the devices which have been resorted to on a grand scale to lower the duties on some kinds of goods.

One conclusion which can safely be drawn from this unpleasant state of affairs is that several of the Dingley law duties are too high. It is well known that an unreasonably high duty or tax is the fruitful parent of dishonesty. The tax of $2 a gallon on distilled spirits was a direct incentive to fraud. While the tax was in force the government got less revenue than it did under the 50 cent tax. When duties on commodities for which there is a steady demand approach the prohibitive point there will always be men who will undertake the illegal, clandestine downward revision of the tariff for their own special benefit. Where the possible profit is large they will manage to find corruptible custom house employés. The chances for dishonest gains under some of the Dingley law duties are great, and the corruption which is now being exposed was an inevitable result.

Both the house and senate are disinclined to reduce many of the high Dingley law duties on articles of general consumption. One reason assigned is that lowering them would involve a loss of revenue. Thus Senator Cullom says, "A reduction of rates, except when they are protective, generally means a loss of revenue." The senator does not take into consideration the nearly prohibitive duties, of which there are many. Their reduction would be followed by increased revenue, not merely because importations would be considerably increased, but because there would be less cheating, for the temptation to defraud the government would not be so great. The man who will run a great risk for a great gain generally concludes that it is better to be honest when the gain is small.

Downward revision of the tariff would benefit the consumers, particularly those who are wage workers. It would promote honesty in the customs service and give the government more revenue.

WHAT ELEVATION HAS DONE.

The results of a decade of track elevation make a splendid showing when brought together. The cost in dollars has been enormous. The gains cannot all be counted in the terms of money. But the commissioner of track elevation has collected a large amount of interesting material as he has attempted the history of the movement for the abolition of the grade crossings in Chicago.

There has been a marked diminution, of course, in the number of crossing accidents. In 1899 the total rate per million of population was 173. In 1908 it was 21. The fatal accidents in the former year were 113, in the latter 20. The total, fatal and nonfatal, of 1899 was 282. In 1908 it was 47. The estimate is made that more than 1,300 deaths have been avoided because of track elevation and more than 2,500 nonfatal accidents.

The saving of the time of street car passengers and pedestrians and others held up by blocked crossings cannot be estimated accurately. But it has been a great feature. The gain to the fire department in quicker time to fires and the attendant saving of property is mentioned. The gain to the railroad companies in connection with better running time, clearer definition of right of way, and fewer damage suits has been of great value.

Each of the dozen benefits enumerated in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE has its special interest. The advantages to the companies, the gains to citizens, the convenience of city administration, the relief of the courts, the opening of new districts to settlement, the improvements which have been encouraged by the permanent arrangement of the tracks, and the removal of unsightly viaducts are some of the things described and discussed in this story of the progress of a decade. Discounting it by half, it still tells a tale that carries with it its own proof that track elevation has been a notable accomplishment for this city.

IN A MINOR KEY.

Tragedy of Dicky.

Old Dicky was a singing bird,
  A musical canary,
And all day long his voice was heard
  In song extemporary.

A household pet was Dicky, too,
  A trusty bird, withal;
When liberated, off he flew,
  But came back at your call.

Alas! Alas! One fatal day
  (Now brace yourself, I beg!)
He sang one loud, triumphant lay—
  And then he laid an egg!

Overrated.

Fair Client—"I want you to sue that woman for $5,000 damages! She stole my husband's affections!"

Lawyer—"But, madam, your husband is well known in this community. I advise you to sue the woman for a smaller sum—say, $25."

Vain Regret.

"I wish I'd seen something of that kind, with a 'Don't buy one' in it, when I was looking around for mine."

Making Light of It.

"A large fleet of German airships," wrote the British editor in 1950, "passed over our town yesterday morning. They cast a gloom over the entire community."

Friendship's Tribute.

Esmeralda—"Mildred has such a speaking countenance!"

Gwendolen—"Yes; it seems to be always saying 'I've never been kissed!'"

Genealogy.

"Who is the so-called father of baseball?" asked the inquisitive caller.

"Mr. Chadwick used to be," said the sporting editor. "At present the title is held, I believe, by Mr. Parent of the Sox."

MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

[Copyright: 1909: By the Brentwood company, all rights reserved.]

As Prince William of Sweden made many friends in this country on the occasion of his visit to the United States a couple of years or so ago, it may be just as well to explain that the duchess of Sodermanland, who, according to a cable dispatch from Stockholm, has just given birth to a son, is his young Russian wife, whom he married at St. Petersburg just a year since.

She is the daughter of Grand Duke Paul and of his first wife, who was the eldest daughter of the king and queen of Greece, and after her mother's tragic death was brought up from infancy by her aunt, the now widowed Grand Duchess Sergius of Russia. She has seen but little of her father. For through his morganatic union with the countess of Hohenfelsen, who is the divorced wife of his former aid de camp, the unsavory Gen. Pistohlkors, he has been virtually estranged from the entire reigning house of Russia, and makes his home at Boulogne-sur-Seine, one of the most charming suburbs of the French capital. Prince William's little son is to bear as his principal name Lennart, or Leonard, an unusual name for a prince of the blood, while he has already been created duke of Smooland.

Another romance of the stage has come to light through the marriage of Mrs. Robert de la Poer Beresford to young Sir Charles Huntington, who only attained his majority a few weeks ago. The new Lady Huntington is a daughter of Daniel O'Sullivan of the Grange, Killarney, rejoices in the Christian name of Delia, and before marrying Lord Decies' brother, the Hon. Robert de la Poer Beresford, in 1899 achieved some note on the stage.

The Hon. Robert, who had acted as a special newspaper correspondent during the war in South Africa, had no money on which to support a wife, gazetted, indeed, as a bankrupt, with the result that the fair Delia was forced to return to the stage, making a hit in "The Girl from Kay's." Last fall she divorced him, after some sensational scenes at the Norfolk hotel at Brighton, and within a fortnight of the decree being made final secured the hand and title of young Sir Charles Huntington, who is reading for the bar and is well off, having a country seat in Lancashire known as Astley bank, while in London his residence is the Clock house on the Thames embankment.

The baronetcy was created about three years ago in favor of Sir Charles' father, who was at the head of a great wall paper syndicate and a liberal contributor to the Conservative party funds.

Another of Lord Decies' brothers, the Hon. Henry Beresford, formerly a captain of the Thirteenth Hussars, likewise has married one of "The Girls from Kay's," who as Kitty Gordon was a great favorite with the theater goers, while the youngest brother, the Hon. William Decies, is married to an American girl, a Miss Florence Miller, daughter of G. L. Miller of Providence, R. I., and now makes his home with her on his ranch at Calgary, Canada. As Lord Decies is without male issue, and none of his brothers have any children, the American born Mrs. William Beresford, out on the Bowness ranch in Alberta, has a fair chance of becoming a peeress of the realm through the succession of her husband to the Irish barony of Decies, which was created at the beginning of the nineteenth century in favor of the first marquis of Waterford's younger brother, who was archbishop of Tuam.

All sorts of complications are cropping up with regard to the magnificent palace Farnese at Rome, where the French embassy has been established for so many years. Ambassador Barrere had completed all the negotiations for the purchase from Prince Alphonse of Bourbon, count of Caserta, and claimant to the throne of Naples, for the sum of 3,000,000 francs. The French government had given its approval, and the entire transaction was regarded as settled when the Italian government stepped in and declared that the count of Caserta had no right whatsoever to sell the palace, and that the Italian crown had certain rights in the property.

It seems that at the beginning of the eighteenth century Dukes Ranuccio and Alexander Farnese found themselves in terrible financial straits and unable to pay the heavy interest on the loans which they and their forbears had been obtaining from the various religious orders at Rome. To save them from absolute ruin the holy seat intervened, paid off the loans to the religious orders, and substituted itself in their place as the principal creditor of the Farneses, forcing the latter to relinquish the duchies of Castro and of Ronciglione, and permitting them to retain the Farnese palace on the condition that the papacy should be considered as holding a species of mortgage on it to the tune of several millions of dollars, and that it should never be sold, or even leased, without the consent of the pontiff.

The Farnese family became merged into the royal house of Bourbon through the marriage of its last survivor, Elizabeth Farnese, to King Philip V. of Spain. Her son, Charles, became king of the two Sicilies and of Naples, and in this way the Farnese rights to the palace passed into the possession of the Neapolitan branch of the royal house of Bourbon. It was occupied by the last king of Naples and by his consort, the heroine of the siege of Gaeta, after the loss of their throne of Naples in 1862 until 1870, and they held royal court there, being treated with sovereign honors by Pius IX.

But when their enemy, the late King Victor Emmanuel, and his troops marched into the Eternal City, and transformed it into the capital of United Italy, the ex-king and ex-queen transferred their abode to Paris, where their life furnished the theme of Alphonse Daudet's best known novel, "The Kings in Exile." On the death of ex-King Francis his rights to the palace went to his half brother and successor, the count of Caserta, who is the actual landlord of the French embassy, and whose attempts to sell the noble pile to the French government for the badly needed sum of 3,000,000 francs has been nipped in the bud by the Italian government.

The law officers of the Italian crown put forward the pretension that in 1870 all the so-called papal domain passed into the possession of the Italian government save the vatican, St. Peter's, the Lateran, the Propaganda Fide, and the castle of San Gandolfo, which were specifically excepted, and that the rights therefore which the holy seat formerly enjoyed with regard to the Farnese palace now are vested in the Italian crown.

The Farnese palace has always been regarded as the grandest and most imposing palace at Rome—infinitely superior in every respect to the quirinal, and represents some of the finest work of Michael Angelo, Bramante, Sangallo, and, above all, Caracci. It was built in the reign of Pope Paul III. of this house of Farnese, which furnished several other popes to Rome, and reigned for several hundred years over Parma and other petty Italian states.

Countess Camilla Hoyos, who is a sister of the widowed Princess Herbert Bismarck, and a granddaughter of the late Robert Whitehead of torpedo invention fame, has jilted Samuel Pepys Cockerell of the foreign office and the marriage, which was to have taken place between them next month, has been declared off. The rupture of the match has created a good deal of stir in London, where both of the young people are well known and popular, Samuel Cockerell especially so. He is something of an athlete, having rowed for two successive years in the annual interuniversity boat race on the Thames for Cambridge.

He belongs to a species of dynasty of foreign office clerks, successive generations of the Cockerell family having flourished at Downing street, where his father, William Acland Cockerell, was for many years the head of the consular department. Countess Camilla Hoyos is a tall, handsome girl with blue eyes and fluffy golden hair, and, as may be expected in a granddaughter of old Robert Whitehead, is something of an heiress.

HEAD OF NEW YORK CENTRAL UPHOLDS RAIL REFORM ACTS.

W. C. Brown Says the Small Shipper Is Entitled to the Same Unit Price as the Big One.

Lincoln, Neb., May 24.—At the annual banquet of the Lincoln Commercial club tonight W. C. Brown, president of the New York Central railroad, made the principal speech. His address was regarded highly significant in that he upheld many recent enactments of congress and rulings of the interstate commerce commission favorable to the shipper as against the carriers.

"We all believed the shippers as well as the railroad," said Mr. Brown, "that it was perfectly legitimate to give a shipper whose business amounted to a thousand cars a year a lower rate than was given to him who shipped but one car in a year. In other words, we all honestly believed that the wholesale and retail principal had a legitimate and legal place in the transportation business of the country as it always has had and still has in all other commercial transactions.

"We know better now. We know that the man who ships little—no matter how little—must be given the same unit price, whether by the hundred pounds or by the car load, as the man that ships much—no matter how much.

"I have said that for a long time it seemed to us surprising that the railroads, or at least some of them, did not recognize any definite rights of the public that they were bound to take into account. As a result of this condition the public rose up in its might and indignation and it is a serious question today whether the pendulum has not swung a great deal too far in the opposite direction."

Mr. Brown then recounted legislation and attempts at legislation which he regarded as an injustice to the roads.

WORLD'S FAIR BOARD WARY.

Directors Decide to Take Legal Advice Before Acting on Proposition to Expend Unclaimed Dividends.

Eighteen directors of the Columbian exposition met yesterday and decided not to expend the unclaimed dividend fund, now amounting to $44,000, without considerable deliberation and legal advice. More time for deliberation was granted to the special committee, headed by Edward B. Butler, to which the question of expending the fund had been referred.

"There are so many legal difficulties connected with spending the money, even on something which would be a permanent improvement for the city," said Mr. Butler.

Seventeen of the original forty-five directors have died and others have moved from Chicago. It was voted to reduce the quorum from fifteen to seven.

It would be interesting to observe how an English audience would receive one of the last scenes in "An Englishman's Home," which had its initial Chicago presentation last evening at Powers'. The American audience—at least, the major portion of the one last night—seemed to regard it as a delectable bit of comedy and paid it the tribute of hearty laughter. It is doubtful, however, if the Britisher would assume quite this attitude toward it. It would be interesting, anyway, to see if he would. But only a visit to London would supply actual information on the point.

The scene in question is amusing, coming as it does at the close of a play, which throughout has placed the Britisher in what to the outside world at least is a ridiculous light. But it is believed that to the Englishman himself the scene might contain an overweighing element of seriousness. For it is a logical conclusion from what has gone before and that conclusion is not a merry one—for the Englishman.

During a dense fog which has rested over England for several days, an invading force—only light attempt is made to hide the fact that the Germans are meant—has landed upon British shores. The home of a Mr. Brown, who is a middle class Englishman, typical in the smug complacency of his consciousness of his own sufficiency and his country's superiority, is surrounded by a number of the attacking soldiers. When the fog lifts the householder discovers the trespassers and orders them from his garden, but instead is made prisoner for a night in his own house. The next morning the soldiers withdrew, after having paid for their keep, and the undisciplined English volunteers, who have merely played at soldiery, are shown trying to protect their country. They take possession of the Brown home, but the foreigners return and attack the place, set the roof on fire with a shell, kill several of the Britishers, and ultimately drive the would-be defenders from the house.

Mr. Brown alone remains to guard his home, the British doggedness of spirit coming forcefully to the fore. The room is in ruins, sparks from the burning roof fall through the shattered ceiling, smoke of powder and wood fills the air, and the sound of the enemy's firing is coming ever closer and closer. The old man hesitates a moment, then throwing off his coat seizes a gun that has been left on the floor, and taking it up examines it.

He presses the trigger and the first bullet shatters a mirror on the opposite wall. Then he hunts for cartridges and finding them fumbles with the unfamiliar weapon until he discovers how it works. He loads it and going to the window fires at the enemy. The first shot brings a reply, and the second calls forth a bullet which sends shattered glass crashing down about him. The third silences the opponent and he rushes back from the window triumphant at having laid his enemy low.

The scene, it is believed, is intended by the playwright to be one of true dramatic seriousness and impressiveness. Certainly the situation is a forceful one, and the action of this man, ignorant in the use of firearms, struggling with the strange weapon and doing his utmost to defend his home, which is falling about his head, should be one of strong appeal and even of pathos to those who were in sympathy with it. But, unfortunately, our American audiences find all that has preceded this scene so laughable that this one earnest moment fails to grip and hold them. The people at Powers' laughed until hissed down by a few more appreciative onlookers.

This is the scene which it would be interesting to observe in its effect upon a British audience. If it is laughed at, then Mr. Du Maurier's play contained no message—that is, no serious message—for the nation to whom it was presented. If the scene was thoughtfully received, then the dramatist doubtless succeeded and sent home the truth which he probably desired. As the play is said to have almost caused a war, it is not unlikely that the full dramatic force and import of this really excellent scene went home to the Britishers.

For Americans, "An Englishman's Home" will be mildly entertaining as a comedy in which the splendid military discipline of the Germans is contrasted in skillfully amusing manner with the hopeless incompetency of the Englishman as a soldier. We will see little of the "meaning" back of the play. It will merely entertain us and it is a question if we will find it sufficiently exciting or engrossing to hold our attention long or win our repeated patronage.

The first of the three short acts moves rather dully, and much of the humor seems far fetched, as English humor is apt to seem. There is no real plot of any tangible quality in the play, the whole being merely a presentment of facts—facts which are amusing in their contrast, and which probably would interest those who pay attention to matters military. But to the general amusement seeker it is not likely the Du Maurier comedy will prove of great potency. It tells no "story," and we as a nation are not keen on soldiery and the defense of any fatherland.

The performance is a good one, the company having been selected with careful attention to the securing of effective English accents and pronunciations, and the obtaining of similarly accurate German twist of English. There is no star rôle in the play, all of the parts being more or less character studies and contributing each its portion to the completeness and naturalness of the comedy and its presentment.

Mr. Hawtrey as Mr. Brown gives the pompous, peppery, self-sure Britisher to the life, and in the difficult last scene where he should grip the audience, if the audience would let itself be gripped, he does all that is possible. Mr. Anderson, as a young Englishman who had some inkling of the need of military training, and was one of the most competent in the horde of undrilled militiamen, plays his rôle with fine skill and sympathy. His face is an expressive one, and in the first act, when he sits listening to comment by Mr. Brown and son unfavorable to all soldiery, he by the look in the eye and by slight movement of facial muscle makes the thoughts in the young man's mind clear to the onlooker. And in the more dramatic scene in the second act he avoids excess and yet does not fall short in emotional intensity. Mr. Graham does well as a talkative, joke loving bank clerk, and Mr. Norton, Mr. Caffrey, Miss Malcolm, and Miss Fraleigh contribute character bits that are neatly finished.

Miss Thorne has the most clearly outlined woman's part. She plays it well and does all that Du Maurier has made it possible for her to do. Mr. Stallard, Mr. Grant, and Mr. Mills are adequate as the leaders of the helpless English military, and Mr. Shannon deserves special mention for excellent work as the color sergeant. The Germans are picturesque, Mr. Benrimo contributing a neatly detailed and completed portrayal of the leader of the invading force, and Mr. Neuendorff, Mr. Adelman, and Mr. Meyer doing admirable work as his assistants.

The piece is faultlessly staged, all details, from the inner furnishings of the home to the pretty English scene visible through the window, being carefully considered and accurate.

CAR MEN DENIED INCREASE

South Side Union May Take Similar Action on August 1.

Unless an agreement between the companies and the union operators is reached by June 1 a general street car strike is expected.

Negotiations for an increase in wages virtually were closed yesterday when John M. Roach, president of the Chicago Railways company, notified the union that he could not grant its request for an advance over the old scale. He intimated, however, that something might occur to alter this decision.

It is said that a strike vote will be taken in the union at its next regular meeting, June 1. June 1.

The agreement of the south side street car men expires Aug. 1, and it is thought they will make the same demands as the north side employés.

Want to Call Off Strike.

The cab drivers' strike developed trouble from an unexpected source when union men met in a North Side livery barn to discuss means of bringing the strike to an immediate close. Members of the teamsters' union persuaded the secessionists to postpone action pending a conference with their leaders.

Ernest Schoberg, a member of the cab drivers' union, who died Sunday night, will be buried today by H. E. Adams, an undertaker at 3734 Archer avenue, who is on the unfair list. Adams declared the widow had employed him and he refused to give up the body to an undertaker who had signed the union agreement.

Widow May Lose Benefit.

It is said Gibbons will refuse to pay the death benefit of $100 to Mrs. Schoberg. Services will be held at 12 o'clock at 52 Greenwald street, Hanson Park, and police will be on hand to prevent trouble.

The Presbyterian ministers adopted resolutions of sympathy with the striking cab drivers. They condemned the practice of holding funerals on Sunday and declared the cab drivers should have a "day off" every week.

The Chicago Typographical union will hold memorial services on Sunday, May 30, at 2 p. m. in the Garrick theater. Twenty-four members of the organization died in the last year.

Seeking 1,000 Women Here.

The state employment bureaus of Missouri and Illinois are arranging to take 1,000 young women from Chicago to work in the garment factories of St. Joseph. It is impossible to secure women enough in that city, though about 5,000 are already employed. The St. Joseph Y. W. C. A. is assisting in the movement.

British Empire Association of Illinois Holds Meeting at Which Addresses Breathe Good Fellowship.

One hundred and fifty members of the British Empire association of Illinois met last evening at the Congress hotel to observe the anniversary of the birth of Queen Victoria. Small silk American and British flags were provided for each guest, the songs were of the international variety, and the speeches breathed good fellowship among English speaking people.

Samuel Insull acted as toastmaster. The Rev. D. F. Fox delivered an eloquent address upon "Victoria—Queen and Mother," in which he said that Queen Victoria's greatness rested upon her genius for goodness. Judge Albert C. Barnes spoke upon "Composite Citizenship." He reminded the diners that they are not alone in this country, but said that everywhere Germans, Norwegians, Italians, and men of other nations are keeping up their traditions.

F. C. Dillard, chief counsel for E. H. Harriman, responded to the toast, "International Peace."

Henry W. Mace, Evanston,
Judge Jesse Holdom,
J. E. Stuart,
Dr. John A. McGill,
James W. Stone,
Walter J. Raymer,
John Crerar,

George E. Sutherland,
Dr. D. R. MacMartin.

State's Attorney Wayman, who was to have been one of the speakers, sent his regrets, stating that the many important matters in connection with the Maden case prevented his attendance.

She formerly was superintendent of the central district of the Bureau of Charities and by personal investigation she made a special study of tramps and beggars. The data she gathered at that time she now intends to use in her forthcoming novel.

CUPID TIES KNOT IN HURRY

MEET ON SUMMER VACATION.

"Would You Like to Go to Europe?" Brings Her Answer, "Yes."

When Cupid learned that a projected trip to Europe within three days by Matthew P. Hyland was not welcome news to the girl he had met on a previous summer's vacation, but to whom he was not engaged, he immediately set out, with a "cast of four," to hurry up the quickest wedding plans Chicago has seen around June time.

The girl was Miss Florence Smith, daughter of Mrs. Henry Strader Smith, 466 East Fiftieth street.

When Hyland asked "How would you like to go along?" there was but one answer, and that answer was "Yes." Tomorrow they sail for Europe.

It was last Thursday evening that this little scene took place. Hyland, who lives at 1007 Park avenue, is one of the active young business men of the city. The other members of the "cast of four" were Miss Harriet Gorman, daughter of J. E. Gorman, well known in railroad circles, and David A. Hack, friend and business associate of Mr. Hyland.

Little Love God's Busy Days.

On Friday Miss Smith and Miss German went shopping. On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Smith were "let in" on the secret. On Saturday morning at 8 o'clock an automobile carried the four young people to St. Ambrose's church, where Father Foley performed the service making Miss Smith the bride of Mr. Hyland. A wedding breakfast followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

On Sunday the remainder of the relatives and close friends were told the news at a breakfast given at Rector's by the groom's brother, Joseph M. Hyland. On Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Hyland started to New York and tomorrow they sail for Europe.

Mr. Hyland met Miss Smith last summer at Lake Delavan, where both were members of parties. There are friends of Mr. Hyland's who claim that with him it was love at first sight; others modify this statement with "he has been most devoted to her ever since."

However, an engagement did not exist between them until the unique dinner proposal of last week. Mr. Hyland is a director in the wholesale millinery firm of D. B. Fisk & Co., his business duties taking him to Europe twice a year.

Room for Sister; She Goes, Too.

It was the impending separation because of one of these trips that proved the climax in the courtship.

At the marriage Miss Forman served as maid of honor and Mr. Hack as best man. After the breakfast Mr. Hyland and Mr. Hack went to their desks, where they spent the day cherishing their secret and trying to think of business.

The news of the wedding came as a distinct surprise to most of the thirty friends and business associates who had been bidden to the announcement breakfast, all of whom accompanied the young people to the train in the afternoon. Mr. Hyland had arranged to take his sister, Miss Frances Hyland, on the summer's trip this year—a plan his sudden wedding did not change—and the three young people will sail together.

Naturally Mr. and Mrs. Hyland, having become engaged, been married, and ready for Europe within two days, have had no time to decide upon a future residence. They will not return until the middle of July. Eventually Mr. Hyland expects to build a home in Wilmette.

Mrs. Mary McGoogle Breaks Engagement with Lee Austin to Become the Bride of Police Prisoner.

Arrest of James Clark on a charge of being a fugitive from justice was caused yesterday by Lee Austin, a sign painter.

Austin and Clark were rivals for the affection of a widow, Mrs. Mary McGoogle, who lives at 6545 Halsted street. During Clark's absence Austin proposed marriage and was accepted. He obtained a license, but Clark came back about that time and prevented the wedding.

When Austin called on his fiancée Clark met him at the door and ejected him from the house. Then Austin informed the police that Clark is wanted in Gary, Ind., on the charge of horse stealing. The police say the widow visited Clark after his arrest and announced she would marry him.

Absent Minded Traveling Man Leaves Young Wife Stranded Here and Y. W. C. A. Gives Her Assistance.

Through the efforts of the Travelers' Aid of the Y. W. C. A. relief came yesterday for the tearful wife of a New York drummer whose husband had started on a commercial tour from New York to Yellowstone park, and had invited her to accompany him as far as Chicago on his journey.

Inadvertently her husband got on the train bound for she knew not where, without telling her good-by, or giving her the return ticket to New York. Her cash on hand at that time was just $2. The Travelers' Aid is designed for the assistance of helpless girls coming to the city in search of employment, and Mrs. Taylor, who meets trains at the Union station, listened to the tearful story, and telegraphed for funds from her people.

The money came, and the young wife started for New York, where she expected to find letters awaiting her from her husband, who, she says: "Writes to me every day." Mrs. Taylor would not tell the young woman's name.

PARENTS OF TRUANT PUPILS ASSESSED $5 FINES BY COURT.

Superintendent of Compulsory Education Renews Campaign to Keep Children at Studies and Out of Trouble.

Twenty cases of parental delinquency will be tried in the Municipal courts during the week as the result of renewed activity on the part of W. A. Bodine, superintendent of compulsory education, against parents who fail to send their children to school regularly. The first result was the trial of two parents, Stephen Sboray, 665 Rockwell street, and Frank Zrescotiske, 796 West Sixteenth street, by Judge Wells at the Maxwell street court yesterday. The court imposed fines of $5 on both defendants. Over twenty warrants have been taken out by Supt. Bodine.

"Experience has shown that the prosecution of parents who fail to keep their children in school is an important aid in the prevention of juvenile crime," said Mr. Bodine. "The records of the Juvenile court show that a large part of the children appearing there have been out of school."

The second edition of a magazine presents annoying and expensive mechanical difficulties which the publisher will avoid unless forced to such action by an exceptional demand.
So that second editions of magazines are very rare.
HAMPTON'S MAGAZINE for June was published on Tuesday, May 18th.
On Friday, May 21st, the stock of the wholesalers and the publisher's reserve stock was sold out entirely.
On Saturday, May 22d, the second edition went to press.

HAMPTON'S
under its present name and policy, has been in existence since October, 1908.
Its growth is the most phenomenal in the history of magazine publishing.
There are more than twenty reasons why June HAMPTON'S is in such great demand. The chief reason:
Maybe Matthews' article on the Water Power Trust.
Maybe Russell's article on the wonderful Watermelon Patch of James J. Hill and his associates.
Maybe Dickson's article on the Unknowable Negro.
Maybe Kauffman's article on finishing schools and "Our Undisciplined Daughters."
Maybe Gilbert K. Chesterton's sparkling essay on "The American Multimillionaire."
Maybe HAMPTON'S wonderful assortment of fiction; the great serial story by Rex Beach; the phenomenally clever detective story by Edwin Balmer and Willaim MacHarg; stories by Charles G. D. Roberts, Parker H. Filmore and others.

BOOMING MARKET IN WHEAT

PATTEN SELLS MAY AND JULY

Coarse Grains on Rampage, with Sharp Advances in All Futures.

New high marks for the crop were established for all wheat futures yesterday, and the closing quotations were at best prices for the season, except for July, which at the finish was just a shade under the top made several weeks ago. Sensational crop reports from Kansas were the main factors and stimulated considerable new buying as well as short covering. Much new buying went into the September and December, and those months were relatively stronger than the other deliveries. Trade was broad and active throughout the session, a hesitating market at start being succeeded by a buoyant tone which prevailed until the close. Closing figures were 2⅛c higher for the May, 1⅛c up for the July, and 2⅛c better for both the deferred months.

Far Off Months Favorites.

The far off deliveries in wheat were the speculative favorites and in the September both Armour and Bartlett-Patten were heavy buyers, the former selling the December at 2c difference and the Bartlett house taking on the December as well as the September. The purchases of the Bartlett-Patten house were estimated at between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 bu of the December and September, while they sold about 1,000,000 bu July and 500,000 bu May. Shorts were accommodated freely in the May, although at slightly higher prices, this month establishing a new high mark for the crop at $1.34¼, or 2⅛c higher than Saturday's close. Commission houses, led by Logan-Bryan and Barrell, were early buyers of the July and September. On the advance there was quite liberal profit taking.

Inglis Report Sensational.

An estimate forwarded by Inglis, the crop expert, that Kansas and Oklahoma together would have but 60,000,000 bu, was the chief bull factor, and while a good many traders were skeptical as to the outlook being so poor, few had the courage to make any opposition to the upward trend of prices. Other estimates sent from the southwest indicated a more optimistic outlook, the average yield estimated being from 75,000,000 to 80,000,000 bu, but these had little effect marketwise. Sentiment was strongly bullish all around the room and the advance in coarse grains had considerable influence in starting wheat upward. Primary receipts were only 358,000 bu, of which Minneapolis had 272 cars. A year ago primary arrivals aggregated 631,000 bu, or nearly double the quantity received yesterday. The visible decreased 1,740,000 bu compared to a decrease of 2,415,000 bu a year ago.

Foreign Marts Not Excited.

Foreign markets failed to show any excitement and were generally lower, although crop reports were no better than recently. Russia reported the drought section still unrelieved, and Italy and Spain, it is reported, will have smaller crops than a year ago. Liverpool closed ⅛@⅜d higher; Paris, ⅛c up; Berlin, ⅛c lower; and Budapest, 3⅛c off. Buenos Aires was unchanged to ⅛c lower. Rains in Hungary were responsible for the break at Budapest.

Domestic crop reports, aside from those mentioned from Kansas, were bearish. Ohio conditions were said to have improved at least ten points in the last few weeks, and the outlook east of the Mississippi is regarded as distinctly more encouraging. In the northwest conditions could hardly be better and a big yield is predicted. Cash demand fair, with sales of 40,000 bu. World's shipments were 9,648,000 bu, and on passage stocks increased 384,000 bu. Deliveries were 35,000 bu.

Farmers Still Dominate Corn.

Reluctance on the part of farmers to sell their corn except when prices are climbing skyward is the big factor in corn, and was much in evidence yesterday. Shorts were obliged to scramble for the offerings, and prices were much higher, net gains for the day being ¼@1⅜c up, the principal upturn being in the May, in which the shortage is evidently larger than expected. Armour was a big buyer, and the big shorts, led by Friedman and Champlin, were on the buying side. The cash market was ⅝@1¼c higher, with elevator concerns buying the corn for delivery on contracts. The shipping demand was light. Primary arrivals were 858,000 bu compared to 640,000 bu a year ago, with local receipts 437 cars, with 534 cars promised for today. Much of the corn is being consigned. Deliveries were 10,000 bu. The visible decreased 166,000 bu and is now only 1,492,000 bu. World's shipments were 4,706,000 bu against 4,423,000 bu a year ago. Sales for shipment were 70,000 bu. Liverpool closed ⅝d off.

Trade in oats was not so broad as on Saturday, but there was still a big volume of trade, and prices continued their upward flight, all months scoring new high marks for the season. Closing figures were ⅝@1⅛c higher, the July being relatively strong, selling up to 55¼c. Reports from Kansas that the crop is standing still were a big factor, but the advance was more largely due to pit conditions than anything else. The cash market was strong and ½@1¼c up, with sales of 150,000 bu. Primary arrivals were 526,000 bu, against 538,000 bu a year ago. Buckley, Marfield, Roberts, and Edwards were big buyers. Peavey was a fair seller. The visible decreased only 3,000 bu. Local arrivals were 153 cars, with 341 cars expected today.

Rye Is in Good Demand.

Rye met with a good demand at strong prices. May closed at 87c asked, July, 83c, nominal, and September, 81c bid. No. 2 sold in store at 87c; No. 3, 83@84c, f. o. b. No. 4 was quoted 78@82c. Receipts, none.

Barley was unchanged to 1c higher. Oats mixers took all of the offerings, as maltsters refused to follow the advance. Malting was quoted 75@76½c; mixing, 75@76½c; and screenings, 60@77c. Receipts were 35 cars.

Flaxseed had a decline of 1c. No. 1 northwestern closed at $1.77½; No. 1 from the northwest, $1.76; and No. 1 southwestern, $1.67½. Receipts, none.

Timothy seed was unchanged. September closed at $4.00; country lots, $2.75@3.80. Clover seed, easy. May closed at 9.60; October, $10.90; and March, $11.15; cash lots, $7.25@9.50.

Reports to Logan-Bryan from John Inglis, their crop expert, who has been making an exhaustive canvass of wheat conditions in the southwest, were sensationally bullish. After stating that the forty counties in the western part of Kansas would be a practical failure, Inglis said:

"Before making any forecast of yields for Kansas, I desired to see central and eastern counties. Today expected to find good wheat, especially along the Kaw, but the same general character prevails all over the state. It is unusual for me to make a preliminary estimate before wheat is headed, but from the few fields which are partially headed, heads are below normal in length, filling is yet in future, but from the general debilitated condition of the plant, fail to see how it can come to a strong, perfect maturity. It will be an expensive crop to gather, as those farmers who are not provided with headers will be at a disadvantage. Little binding twine will be needed for Oklahoma and Kansas. Saw in paper tonight what purported to be an estimate made by the Atchison officials of 60,000,000. It will have to improve more than it gives promise of now if Oklahoma and Kansas make 60,000,000 combined."

Many wheat traders were skeptical in regard to the low estimates being given out in regard to Kansas wheat yield. Hall-Baker of Kansas City estimate the outturn at 80,000,000 bu, and Nicollet, the Kansas City statistician, figures the yield will be from 75,000,000 bu to 80,000,000 bu on present prospects. Simons-Shields of the same place, place the crop at 85,000,000 bu. The trade was skeptical also in regard to the claim that forty counties had been practically abandoned. Some of the large concerns will send their crop experts to Kansas immediately. Snow will leave here for Kansas tonight and send his reports to Bartlett-Patten.

Lyle wired Chapin & Co.: "Found conditions in Ohio greatly improved and wheat growing rapidly under favorable soil conditions. Fields without a showing six weeks ago are now in full stand, six inches high and promising fair crops. Ohio estimate can be raised 10 per cent over a month ago."

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CATTLE.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Taken as a whole, the cattle trade had a fairly active tone and prices remained at a level little changed from last week's closing. There was the usual discrimination against plain heavy beeves, and these had to sell at weak figures, but this unsatisfactory condition was offset by the brisk inquiry for the good to choice handy weight and light steers, and when buyers succeeded in obtaining a little concession in the price of heavy beeves they found it necessary to pay that much more for the more desirable lots. Best beeves on the market sold at $7.20, against $7.15 on last Wednesday, and $7.25 a week ago, while the bulk of the desirable shipping and killing grades cleared at from $6.35@7.00, and a good class of medium weight killers made $5.50@6.25.

Receipts of 20,000 head did not include a large supply of butcher stock, and heavy beef cows and heifers again sold at firm figures, sales being made at up to $6.00@6.50. Plain and medium cows and heifers held steady at the decline enforced late last week, sales being at from $3.75@4.65 for the bulk. Bulls held at a steady level. Calves met with a good inquiry at unchanged figures, with outsiders paying up to $7.00 for small lots of assorted vealers. Stockers and feeders met with a quiet demand at the prices recorded at the close last week. Quotations:

Cattle at six western markets, 86,000, against 43,600 a week ago, 80,000 a year ago, and 37,500 two years ago. Total for 1909 to date, 2,755,000, against 2,685,000 the same period in 1908.

HOGS.

Packers tried to enforce a decline of 5@10c, but shipping orders were unusually urgent and although the receipts of 45,000 head were fully up to expectations salesmen succeeded in getting steady values for the bulk of their offerings. Shippers and speculators opened the market paying steady to 5c lower prices for all offerings, the absence of active bidding by local packers giving the buyers a temporary advantage over the sellers. When packers saw that they could not depress the market, however, they came in and paid the prices established by the outsiders with such freedom that it was not long before salesmen had general values established at a level fully steady with Saturday's best figures.

Prime heavy butcher hogs were sparingly offered and only one load reached $7.50, while the bulk of the choice heavy and medium weight shipping grades cleared at from $7.35@7.45. Prime light hogs sold at from $7.20@7.30 for the bulk. Packers bought their good mixed hogs at from $7.15@7.25, securing better hogs than on Saturday for the same money, and paying $7.30@7.45 for choice heavy packing grades. Pigs were in light supply and good demand at Saturday's prices. Quotations:

Average price of hogs at Chicago, $7.32, against $7.28 Saturday, $7.34 a week ago, $5.37 a year ago, and $6.13 two years ago.

SHEEP.

Sales were made at an advance of 10@25c, with the clipped lambs selling at the maximum gain. Prime wool lambs cleared at an advance of only 10c, but this was sufficient to bring them up to $9.50, the highest level on record. Clipped lambs topped at $8.60, which was 35c higher than on late days last week and 10c better than the previous banner price of the season. Sheep and yearlings made up but a small part of the arrivals of 11,000 head, but they were not so eagerly sought after as the lambs and made an appreciation of only 10@15c in value.

Disappointing receipts and firmer markets in the east were strengthening factors and induced local packers to come out and pay the advanced prices demanded by the salesmen without hesitation. The quality of the offerings was fairly desirable and the bulk of the clipped lambs cleared at from $8.40@8.50. Odd lots of sheep sold at from $6.00@6.75 for ewes and wethers, while yearlings of good quality made $7.00@7.25. Spring lambs were in light supply and more firmly held at a substantial advance in prices, sales being made at from $8.00@9.15. Quotations:

|---|---|
| Clipped wethers | $5.50@6.75 |
| Clipped yearlings | 6.60@7.50 |

Receipts for May 25 were estimated at 2,500 catttle, 14,000 hogs, and 12,000 sheep, against actual arrivals of 1,782 cattle, 9,559 hogs, and 12,011 sheep for Tuesday, May 26, 1908.

ON THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Provisions showed a good deal of strength notwithstanding the liberal run of hogs, and lower early prices at the yards. Receipts here were 47,000, but western points had only 79,300, compared to 114,200 a year ago. Packers bought ribs and lard and toward the end of the session there was a brisk call for pork which caused a late upturn. Final prices were 17½@25c up for pork; 5@7½c better for lard, and 7½@10c up for ribs. Offerings were not large and the serength in the grain list checked any disposition to sell short. Exports of lard last week were larger than a year ago, but less of pork and meats. Liverpool was 6d higher for bacon, unchanged for hams, and 3d up for lard. Shipments from Chicago were 80 cars and receipts 36 cars. Average weights of hogs here last week were 215 lbs, the same as a year ago.

STRAW.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Rye, $9.50@10.50; oat, $6.50@7.50; and wheat, $6.00@6.50.

Groceries.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Firmness prevailed in the market for dried prunes, apricots, and raisins, moderate stocks and a strong speculative and consumptive demand being the principal bullish factors. Increased offerings of peaches from coast operators had a weakening influence on the market for this fruit, but prices were not lowered. Little change was made in the price of canned goods, although the market for all standard brands had a decidedly firm undertone. Cereal prices continued their upward climb.

Sugar and Coffee.

SUGAR.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Firmness pervaded the market for refined sugars and values were rigidly maintained. Following were the ruling prices in wholesale circles, quotations being on 100 lb lots: Standard granulated, beet and cane, $5.14@5.24; cut loaf, H. & E., $6.17; standard powdered, $5.65; extra C, $4.85; canary, $4.65; chemically pure milk sugar, 19c per lb in brl lots.

NEW YORK, May 24.—SUGAR—Raw, steady; fair refining, 3.42@3.45c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3.92@3.95c; molasses sugar, 3.17@3.20c. Refined, steady; crushed, 5.65c; powdered, 5.05c; granulated, 4.95c.

COFFEE.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Offerings met with a quiet demand at unchanged prices. Receipts at Rio and Santos were 4,000 bags each.

NEW YORK, May 24.—COFFEE—Spot, quiet; Rio No. 7, 7⅞@8c; Santos No. 4, 8⅞@9c; mild, quiet; Cordova, 9⅝@12½c. Futures opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 5 points on moderate support from trade bulls, in the absence of important offerings or of any change in the general news. Trading was quiet and the market showed little feature, with the close steady net unchanged to 5 points higher. The French market was unchanged. Sales in the local market were only 8,500 bags, including May at 7.15c, July at 6.60c, and March at 6@6.05c.

Dry Goods.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Prices ceased to be a governing factor in the wholesale dry goods trade, and jobbers said that warmer weather was all that was needed for a general outward movement of seasonable merchandise. Retailers showed little hesitancy in placing orders for goods for later shipment and the volume of advance business contracted for was so large that mill agents were showing a disposition to withdraw their offerings. The consumptive demand for lightweight fabrics was being retarded by the low temperatures, however, and, while having confidence in the future, retail merchants were not anxious to take on any additional stock until present holdings were reduced.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The cotton goods market is firmer and higher on wide print cloths. Bleached goods have been bought freely today by some of the leading jobbers, and all probability of a reduction following the revision in printed goods has passed. Cutters and jobbers are duplicating orders on fall dress goods. The yarn markets hold firm, but trading is still light. The raw silk market is quiet, interest centering on the new crop prices.

Cotton.

NEW YORK, May 24.—COTTON—Spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 11.65c; middling gulf, 11.90c. Sales, 6,300 bales. The market opened barely steady at a decline of 3 to 8 points and soon sold 8 to 11 points net lower under liquidation and local bear pressure. Instead of becoming more active on a scale down the volume of business seemed to diminish. The market steadied during the middle of the day on a renewed demand from Wall street and western bulls, and on covering by recent sellers for a turn. After selling about 1 to 8 points net higher the market became slightly easier owing to the fact offerings of long cotton seemed to increase on the bulges, but was on the whole pretty well sustained with the new crop months generally 2 to 6 points higher at the close. Southern spot markets reported earlier were generally unchanged to 4 points lower. Futures opened steady and closed steady. Quotations:

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 24.—COTTON—Spot, quiet and easy, unchanged; middling, 10⅞c. Sales on the spot, 250 bales, to arrive 400. Futures opened steady at a decline of 3 to 4 points under an accumulation of selling orders over Sunday. The decline was continued until the active months were 5 to 7 points below the level of Saturday's closing, when fresh buying for long account was met. In the afternoon session, the market had a steadier tone on rain in the central belt, the decline of the morning was made up, and a net advance of 7 to 12 points established. On the closing the tone was called steady and prices were 5 to 11 points higher than Saturday's final figures. Futures closed steady:

SANITARY DISTRICT BID LOWEST

Electric Current for Consumptive Hospital Costs Two Cents Per Kilowatt Hour.

The bid of the sanitary district of Chicago for supplying electric current for the new consumptive hospital was accepted by the county board yesterday as the lowest offered, the Commonwealth Edison company being the only other bidder.

IN THE REAL ESTATE WORLD.

A transaction closed in south Michigan avenue yesterday was of more than ordinary interest, both because of the large amount of property involved and the fact that the purchaser was Mrs. Florence Lathrop Page, wife of Thomas Nelson Page, the author.

Mrs. Page acquired through Farnham, Willoughby & Co. 104 feet on Michigan, just north of Twenty-fifth street, and thirty-seven feet on the latter, and, while the consideration is withheld, it is said to be about $120,000.

From J. G. Snydacker Mrs. Page acquired 2449 Michigan avenue, being 25x161 feet; from A. A. Spear 2451, being 24x112 feet; from Mary E. Gilman of Galesburg, Ill., 2453, being 14x112 feet and from Mary E. McCalla 162-164 Twenty-fifth street, 37x99 feet.

At $120,000, the total frontage on Michigan and Twenty-fifth street, 141 feet, sold at the rate of $851 a front foot. The properties are improved with residences, which are not likely to be changed for some time, but Mrs. Page is said to plan the construction of business buildings.

Mrs. Page is the sister of Bryan Lathrop and prior to her marriage was the widow of Henry Field, brother of the late Marshall Field.

Site for Evanston Club.

A new home for the University club of Evanston is involved in a conveyance filed for record from Irwin Rew to the University Clubhouse company. The ground comprises 132x100 feet at Hinman and Church streets, for which no consideration was given. The clubhouse is to be a three story and basement structure and is expected to cost about $75,000.

As part payment for Georgia timber lands, Maynard A. Cheney of Savannah has conveyed to Conway M. Lawrence the property in La Salle street, 116 feet north of Sixty-second street, 211x164 feet, improved with four story factory building occupied by the Fairbanks-Cassady company. The consideration is given as $10, subject to an incumbrance of $46,500, but the property is said to be valued at $85,000.

The property at the northeast corner of Twenty-sixth street and Indiana avenue, 50x125 feet, south front, to which J. Carleton Abbott took title last week for $20,000, has been conveyed by him to Frederick S. Oliver of Oliver & Co.

Buys in State Street.

Jacob Schwabacher and the estate of Henry Schwabacher have conveyed to George L. Walter of Sharpsburg, Pa., 472 State street, 20x100 feet, east front, where the Western Indiana road for some time has been acquiring land in connection with its proposed new Polk street station. A nominal consideration was given, but the purchaser gave back a trust deed for $32,800, five years, at 5 per cent.

Record was made of the purchase by Mrs. Carrie L. Munn, owner of the Wellington hotel, of 454-456 Wabash avenue, 50½x180 feet, for $101,000. Mrs. Munn will improve with a high grade business building. Oliver & Co. were the brokers.

Charles E. Gildersleeve has purchased from the Northwestern Life Insurance company the property at the southeast corner of Oakdale and Evanston avenues, 125x197 feet with brick improvements, for $34,500, giving back a mortgage for $23,800, seven years at 5 per cent.

Ira M. Cobe is trustee in a loan of $100,000 to the Abbott Alkaloidal company, securing thirty-three promissory notes maturing monthly at 6 per cent. It is secured by the property of the company at the southeast corner of East Ravenswood Park and Lawrence avenue, 238x163 feet with improvements.

ASK COMMISSION FOR RELIEF

Produce Men Would Have Railways Unload Shipments Free.

NOT THEIR DUTY, ROADS SAY

Plea of Additional Expense May See Order Abolished Altogether.

Fruit and produce dealers of Chicago who have petitioned the interstate commerce commission to issue an order compelling the railroads to load and unload free of charge carload shipments of butter and eggs and all kinds of produce when shipped in packages, yesterday presented evidence before Special Examiner Brown of the commission to support their contention that an additional and unreasonable expense has been imposed by a rule adopted by the carriers Jan. 1, 1908.

The hearing was based on a complaint filed by Edward G. Davies, representing the Wholesale Fruit and Produce association, against twenty-six railroads. Mr. Davies alleges that prior to Jan. 1, 1908, the roads loaded and unloaded carload shipments and that the rule compelling the shippers to perform this service themselves or pay to have it done only added further to the cost of transportation. Since last September the roads have been unloading shipments of fruits and vegetables free. Davies asks that produce also be included.

Not Their Duty, Railroads Say.

The railroads in their answers to the complaint set up that the loading and unloading is no part of their duty except on less than carlot shipments. They maintain that the practice of furnishing help in loading and unloading grew up in Chicago through competition and the desire to release the equipment rapidly. The rule was adopted, it was declared, for the sake of uniformity.

S. A. Lynde, general attorney for the Chicago and Northwestern, stated that the roads would not only oppose Davies' petition for a broadening of the order applying to fruits and vegetables, but that they would introduce evidence in support of a petition to set aside the order altogether.

Dredge Rate Is Opposed.

Examiner Brown also heard testimony in a complaint brought by the Link-Belt company against the Northwestern and other western roads asking for a reduction of rates. The case hinges on whether the "ladder" on a dredging outfit, a heavy steel beam which supports the buckets, should be classed as structural iron or as machinery parts, which take a much higher rate. The beam in question required two cars to transport and the difference in rate amounted to about $700.

Another case set for hearing is that of the Armour car lines, operating the Fruit Growers' express, against the Southern Pacific company. The Armour company alleges that it was charged $3 a ton for icing from Los Angeles to Yuma City, Ariz., whereas the rate should not have exceeded $1.90, the figure to which it was subsequently lowered by the railroad.

Would Shut Gate to Rivals.

C. W. Bunn, general counsel of the Northern Pacific railway, has petitioned the Circuit court at St. Paul for an injunction restraining the interstate commerce commission from enforcing its order opening the Portland gateway to the Union Pacific and the Northwestern.

The commission ordered the three roads in question to establish by July 1 joint through rates and baggage arrangements so that a passenger from Chicago may travel to the northwest through Portland with equal facility over either the Northwestern and the Harriman lines or the Hill lines.

Robert N. Collyer was yesterday elected chairman of the uniform classification committee, which was selected from representatives of the railroads as requested by the interstate commerce commission to work out a uniform classification of freight rates to take the place of present official, southern, and western classifications.

MAC VEAGH SUIT IS DISMISSED.

Judgment Entered Against Wife of Secretary of the Treasury Set Aside by Agreement of Attorneys.

Judge Uhlir yesterday set aside a judgment for $50, which was entered in his court last week against Mrs. Franklin MacVeagh, wife of the secretary of the treasury. The suit then was dismissed without costs on agreement between Attorney J. C. Carlsson, representing the plaintiff, Louis Lipski, a musician, and Attorney James J. Barbour, representing Mrs. MacVeagh.

Leave was given to Attorney Dennis S. Donahue, who entered the appearance of Mrs. MacVeagh and Mrs. Laura Dainty Pelham, a conductor of social functions, to withdraw the appearance of Mrs. MacVeagh and his own as her attorney. Mrs. MacVeagh never had been served with a summons in the case.

The suit was founded on a claim by Lipski on a contract to furnish an orchestra at Mrs. MacVeagh's home on Dec. 31, 1907.

HIGHER PRICES IN STOCK LIST

Limited Number of Issues Reflect Market Trend.

STEEL IS AGAIN A LEADER.

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

NEW YORK, May 24.—[Special.]—In a limited number of stocks in which anything like activity prevailed today higher prices were made; also where the dullness naturally created heaviness United States Steel was again active and strong, the financial advance in the stock making another new high record. Certain other steel company shares, notably those of the Republic Iron and Steel company, were likewise firm or inclined to rise.

In the railroad group the Hill shares and Erie shares stood out from the rest of this department by reason of their strength and the volume of business done in them. As for the rest of the market, it displayed once more a tendency, so often noted in the past, to lapse into quietude upon the appearance of realizing sales.

Strength in Steel Reflects Trade.

For the strength of steel stocks obvious improvement in business itself is responsible, orders for structural material and wire products having been so heavy for a month or more as to result in the case of the Steel corporation at least in a substantial enlargement in the percentage of the plant capacity now in operation.

Some discussion, entirely unofficial, of the possibility of larger payments by the Burlington, went hand in hand with the advances in Great Northern and Northern Pacific, and an optimistic interview with the chief executive of the Erie helped the stocks of that road in a market way, although the underlying source of strength here is in the much easier financial position of the company.

An interesting happening of the day was the restoration by the Boston and Maine of the 10 per cent salary cuts made on Feb. 14 last.

A restrictive influence was exercised upon the market as a whole by the further rise in wheat prices and heated arguments among crop experts over the probable size of the Kansas harvest. The people of Kansas have seen their wheat crops destroyed so often by experts, only to revive under the beneficent attention of nature, as to regard with considerable fortitude the annual onslaught of the experts.

Easy Money Market Factor.

So easy a money market proposition as the present is, of course, an invitation to corporations of all kinds requiring financing to attend to their needs and in addition to the public offering of Armour 4½ per cent bonds sold to bankers last week, there were announced today the sale of $9,000,000 of bonds of one of the steel corporations' railroads and the coming public sale of $40,000,000 city bonds. Movements in the foreign exchange market have led to the temporary cessation of gold exchangements, which may be renewed at any moment, however, since so far as conditions here are concerned, they are still favorable.

Money on call easy, 1¾@2 per cent; ruling rate, 1¾@2; closing bid, 1½; offered at 1¾. Time loans soft and dull; 60 days, 2@2½ per cent, and 90 days, 2½ per cent; six months, 3@3¼. Prime mercantile paper, 3½@4 per cent. Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8630@4.8635 for 60 day bills and at 4.8775 for demand. Commercial bills, 4.85⅝@4.86⅛. Bar silver, 52⅛c. Mexican dollars, 44c. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds irregular.

IN THE FOREIGN STOCK MARKET.

LONDON, May 24.—Money was in increased demand today and discounts were quiet. Austria secured the bulk of $2,500,000 in gold at a reduction of 1 farthing. On the stock exchange the chief business was the arrangement of the heavy carry over in mines, but transactions for new account were of fair dimensions. Mexican rails, copper shares, and Kaffirs received the most attention at rising prices. Gilt edged securities and home rails drooped for lack of support. Japanese bonds yielded on realizations. American securities were firm in the forenoon. Covering orders, principally for U. S. Steel and Union Pacific, carried values over parity. Later the low priced issues received attention, and with Wall street supporting it fairly, the market closed firm.

IN THE WORLD OF FINANCE

L. A. Goddard Elected President of State Bank of Chicago.

SUCCEEDS LATE MR. HAUGAN.

Many Requests for Underwriting Armour & Co. 4½ Per Cent Bonds.

Directors of the State Bank of Chicago, at a special meeting yesterday, elected L. A. Goddard president and made other changes resulting from the death of H. A. Haugan, the former president. The changes were:

President—L. A. Goddard.
Vice President—Henry A. Haugan.
Assistant cashier—C. Edward Carlson.
Director—H. G. Haugan.

For something over a year Mr. Goddard has been vice president of the bank, having resigned the presidency of the Fort Dearborn National to accept the position. It was understood at the time that he eventually would become president of the institution.

Henry A. Haugan succeeded Mr. Goddard as vice president. He is a son of the late H. A. Haugan and has been an assistant cashier. It has been generally understood he was in training for the head of the institution in the course of time. He is about 30 years old and was taken into the bank by his father, who had reason to feel fully satisfied with the young man's development in the banking business.

C. Edward Carlson was elected an assistant cashier to succeed Henry A. Haugan.

New Director.

H. G. Haugan, a brother of Henry, elected a member of the board of directors to fill the vacancy created by the death of H. A. Haugan, has been associated with his brother and John R. Lindgren both prior to and since the organization of the State bank. He is controller of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, and one of the largest stockholders in the State bank. The assessor's records credit him with the ownership of 674 shares. The bank has been controlled by members of the Haugan family and John R. Lindgren. H. A. Haugan, at the time of his death, controlled 1,049 shares. John R. Lindgren has 1,600 shares, Henry A. Haugan has 100 shares and Oscar Haugan 100 shares.

The bank has grown steadily since its organization in 1891. It now has deposits of $20,300,000. It began with a capital of $500,000, which was subsequently increased to $1,000,000, and it is proposed at a meeting of the stockholders, called for June 8, to increase the capital by an additional $500,000.

Demand for Armour & Co. Bonds.

The demand for Armour & Co. 4½ per cent bonds grew yesterday, and officials of Armour & Co. and banks presumed to have influence were almost besieged by requests for the bonds or for underwriting. The underwriting was all taken on Saturday. Kuhn, Loeb & Co. offered the bonds in New York yesterday at 95½, and on the curb sales were made as high as 97¼. The local banks which were not in on the underwriting and those which were were bidders for bonds from the underwriters at 95½.

The issue has been an unusual success, and will take out of the market a great deal of high grade commercial paper. All packing concerns, from the nature of their business, are large borrowers of money, although they may at the same time carry a number of million dollars in cash balances. It is estimated that there is in Chicago Armour & Co. paper to the amount of at least $10,000,000. All this will be taken up and paid for in cash. Although a good borrower will be removed from the market, Armour & Co. will have their prestige advanced 50 per cent in a financial way. Free from floating indebtedness, the firm will be in stronger position than it has ever been.

Other Packers May Follow.

It is regarded as probable that at least one other of the large packing concerns may put out bonds to take up its commercial paper. While there is no authority for saying it, the guesses are that Morris & Co. will shortly have the matter under consideration.

John Claflin Bullish.

"The underlying conditions are splendid everywhere so far as I am able to judge. It seems to have been discovered in some quarters that there will be little change in tariff rates on the new material of some large manufactories and little or no change on the manufactured products, and these manufacturers are now going ahead to the full capacity of their mills and factories in the production of the various commodities. They were fearful for some time of drastic changes in the tariff, which changes might adversely affect their products, and they hung back and reduced their output as much as possible without shutting down altogether.

"This resulted in surplus stocks of goods which had accumulated during the months of depression succeeding the panic of 1907 being disposed of and becoming used up until there are practically no surplus stocks anywhere. Now the demand is increasing, with restored confidence, and in some quarters merchants are sending orders which the jobbers have been unable to fill because of inability to obtain goods from the factories."

U. S. Express Stockholders.

There has been secured a list of the stockholders of the $10,000,000 capital of the United States Express company. The list contains 1,500 names. The Platt family is credited with owning 25,000 shares, though this is understood to have been recently placed in the name of one of the members of the family, the shares owned by other express companies having been ostensibly taken over. Following is a list, the first ever published, of the larger holders in the company:

Chicago Securities.

Chicago Edison shares again advanced on the local exchange, selling at 119. The stock is now within one point of selling on a 5 per cent basis. The latter concern bought the stock at 119.

The new stock of the Booth Fisheries company was traded in on the local exchange for the first time. The preferred opened at 52 and closed at 55. The buying was credited to Chapin & Co. The common shares were quoted at 10. Old A. Booth & Co., preferred stock, advanced to 1½. It was understood that all the old shareholders would be given an opportunity to participate in some measure in the new stock.

In the bond department there were trades in $25,000 Armour & Co. 4½s at 96⅞. The bonds are not listed on the exchange. Transactions on the New York curb were over $600,000.

BOSTON, Mass., May 24.—[Special.]—Coppers opened strong today, and advanced sharply in the early trading under the lead of Butte Coalition and Parrot. North Butte was heavy from the start, and ended the day with two points decline. There seemed to be good support for it around 57½. Amalgamated was pressed for sale in the late trading, which unsettled the list, and the closing was mixed. Home rails and industrials held firm, though Telephone was off ⅝, to 138⅛. Call loans, 2@3 per cent; call loans, short dates, 3@3½ per cent; time loans, six months, 3½@4 per cent; time money, year, 3½@4½ per cent.

The Bonds will be subject to redemption by the Company, upon not less than twelve weeks' previous notice, at 102½ per cent. and accrued interest, on any interest date as an entirety, and on and after December 1, 1914, in parts of not less than ten per cent. of the amount outstanding.

Bonds in denomination of $1,000 United States Gold of or equal to the present standard of weight and fineness. Coupon Bonds with privilege of registration as to principal, and exchangeable for bonds registered as to both principal and interest. Fully Registered Bonds re-exchangeable for Coupon Bonds. Both principal and interest are payable in New York without deduction for any tax or taxes, which the Company may be required to pay thereon or retain therefrom under any present or future law.

The subscription will be closed at three o'clock P. M. on Wednesday, May 26, 1909, or earlier, the right being reserved to reject any applications and to award a smaller amount than applied for. The undersigned reserve the right to close the subscription at any time without notice.

A first payment of $50 in New York funds per $1,000 Bond subscribed for must accompany all subscriptions. The balance of the amount due on bonds allotted upon subscriptions will be payable in New York funds, on June 17, 1909, at the office of either of the undersigned, when temporary certificates will be delivered, exchangeable for engraved bonds as soon as ready.

If no allotment be made, the first payment will be repaid in full, and if only a portion of the amount applied for be allotted, the balance of the first payment will be applied towards the amount due on June 17, 1909. No interest will be allowed on such first payment. If any further balance remains, such balance will be repaid. Failure to pay the second installment, when due, will render the previous payment liable to forfeiture.

Samuel McRoberts, Esq., Treasurer of Armour & Co., in a letter dated May 20, 1909, writes in part as follows:

"Referring to the $30,000,000 face value of these bonds which we have sold to you, we beg to advise you that they are part of a proposed authorized issue limited to $50,000,000 face value of bonds, to be secured by a first mortgage upon the packing houses (in Chicago, Kansas City, South Omaha, East St. Louis, Sioux City and Fort Worth), glue works, soap works and other factories, the branch houses, warehouses, refrigerating plants and icing stations and the other real estate and buildings and the machinery and other appurtenances thereto, which constitute the "plant" used in the production and distribution of the products of Armour and Company and its auxiliary companies. The aggregate present value of the real property to be mortgaged to secure said bonds, based upon recent appraisals, is upward of $40,000,000. The mortgage is to provide that there shall be no mortgages or other incumbrances upon the refrigerator cars and other rolling stock now owned by the company and by its auxiliary companies including the Armour car lines (present value, $11,698,240), or upon any property substituted therefor or upon any rolling stock purchased from the proceeds of bonds secured by said mortgage.

"The mortgage will further provide that the unencumbered quick assets of the company and its auxiliary companies shall at all times exceed the aggregate debt of the company and its auxiliary companies including the outstanding bonds of said issue. The mortgage is also to contain a covenant that no dividends shall be paid except from earnings made subsequent to the fiscal year ended October 24, 1908.

"It therefore results that in addition to the real property on which the bonds will be a first mortgage, and without including the rolling stock and investments in securities, there must be on hand at all times at least sufficient unincumbered quick assets to liquidate dollar for dollar the entire debt of the Company and its auxiliary companies.

"The proceeds of the bonds which you have purchased will be used in retiring the Company's commercial paper and for additional working capital. Of the $20,000,000 of bonds which are not to be presently issued, $10,000,000 may be used to provide for general improvements and betterments to property subject to the mortgage or for the acquisition of additional property to be subject to the mortgage, and of cars and other equipment and raw materials, supplies and other assets constituting a part of the property used in the Company's business; and $10,000,000 may be used only for future permanent improvements, betterments, extensions and additions to the mortgaged property, the acquisition of additional real estate and the construction and acquisition of additional packing houses, factories, branch houses and other structures, all to become subject to mortgage as a first lien.

"The earnings of Armour and Company and its auxiliary companies applicable to interest charges after charging off liberal amounts for depreciation were at the average rate of over $5,500,000 a year for the three fiscal years ending October 24, 1908, (the new plants at East St. Louis, Fort Worth and Sioux City having been in operation during that period), and for the eight years ended on that date over $4,250,000 per year. The last year was the most successful in the Company's history.

"After paying the bills payable out of the proceeds of the bonds which you have purchased, the position of this Company and its auxiliary companies, based upon conservative appraisal and upon the balance sheet of October 24, 1908, (the close of the last fiscal year) would be as follows:

|---|---|
| Rolling stock | 11,698,240 44 |
| Investments in other companies | 10,471,993 05 |
| Miscellaneous marketable securities | 3,664,057 07 |
| Quick assets (consisting of packing house products, supplies, accounts receivable and cash), after deducting the $2,271,207.14 of current accounts payable | 46,004,976 04 |
| Total assets | $111,869,625 24 |

against which the present issue of $30,000,000 bonds would be the only debt.

"Application will be made for the listing upon the New York Stock Exchange of the $30,000,000 of bonds which you have purchased."

For further information as to this issue of Bonds, reference is made to the letter from Samuel McRoberts, Esq. Treasurer of Armour & Co., referred to above, copies of which can be obtained from either of the undersigned.

BUSINESS PERSONALS.

KNOW THYSELF.
THE KEY TO SUCCESS.

The great questions of life are quickly solved, failure turned to success, sorrow to joy, and want to affluence by possessing and calling into use the power to know one's self.

Every one should ask one's self, is there a force or power within me which I have not properly developed and which I can and should make use of for my own good? This power or knowledge, whether intuitive or acquired, unfolds, reveals, opens, and illumines the path which, if followed, will surely lead its possessor into happiness, success, and full fruition of life's purpose.

REAL ESTATE—FARM LANDS.

FOR SALE—THE CADILLAC TRACT. Within and adjoining the City of Cadillac, is the one best buy in Michigan lands. The soil, climate, rainfall, and natural advantages are exceptionally fine for fruit, stock, and diversified farming, but the superior railway facilities, the dependable and high priced home markets, the good hard roads, the fine schools, churches, and up to date benefits of modern civilization, place my proposition quite in a class by itself.

I own upwards of 16,000 acres, distant one-half to six miles from the City of Cadillac, population over 10,000 live ones, the industrial metropolis of central western Michigan. Cadillac has everything you ought to have, from 82 mills and factories to 14 churches of various denominations. There is generally plenty of work for my settlers who wish to turn an honest penny at times when not employed in developing their properties. Another feature in addition to these advantages [offered by no other dealer in Michigan lands, so far as I know] is that I have placed many thousand acres of my lands under contract to have stumps and roots removed. When this is done they are ready for the plow. I will sell you lands under this stump removing contract at just as low a figure and on as easy terms as others are selling you raw lands from which you will have to remove the stumps yourself. Furthermore, if you wish to remove stumps from your own land, the stump removing contract stipulates that you will be paid $4 per cord for same; as the stumps and roots generally run over six cords per acre—sometimes ten cords—you can see the money to be made. This means just what it says. Investigate. The stumps and roots are used for the manufacture of turpentine, resin, and by products in a factory already erected and operating for this purpose.

It will pay you to write for my booklets, which will give you complete and accurate information. Every word of the descriptive matter I send you is from my own pen, which means that I hold myself personally responsible for the integrity of each statement I make. And remember, brother, your money back if not as represented. Write today to SAMUEL S. THORPE, Owner of the Cadillac Tract, Drawer G1, Cadillac, Mich.

THIS IS AN AGE OF SPECIALISTS.
I am a specialist in my line.

REAL ESTATE—FRUIT LANDS.

FOR SALE—

XVI.

My fruit lands are situated near Palisade, Colo., where developed orchards have sold up to $3,000 and $4,000 an acre, based on their productive returns.

The main line of the D. & R. G. and the Colorado Midland railroads cross my property and I have arranged to have a station on it. There are ten through passenger trains and about twenty freights in daily service. The journey from Chicago is made in less than 48 hours; round trip rates of $30 are in force two days each month. These are material advantages to nonresident investors, who may wish to visit their orchards while having them developed. There is also an advantage in freight rates of 15 to 25 per cent over points more remote.

The Grand River flows through my front yard. It is the largest river in Colorado and can meet all demands for irrigation for all time. I have made my filing for all the water that my lands can possibly require.

The climate is mild in winter, without disagreeable winds, and delightful in summer. The cool nights impart flavor and keeping qualities to the fruit and are destructive to insect life. The dry atmosphere also makes spraying effectual.

An orchard increases in value about $200 an acre each year while growing. When it comes into bearing the returns are $500 to $1,000 an acre each season. Peaches begin to bear the third year and apples the fifth year.

The intending purchaser is losing $200 an acre each year that he delays action. One acre of developed orchard will support a child for life; five acres will support a family, beating most salaries; ten acres will afford independence.

I will develop orchards for nonresidents in the most efficient manner. My references will be found conclusive.

I have for sale a first mortgage loan for $1,000, bearing 8%, on lands undergoing improvement, where a cash payment of over 50% was made at purchase. This is the current rate of interest here. It will be found a safe investment and will yield a nice return. C. M. PAINE, De Beque, Colo.

BANKERS TO THE PEOPLE—YOU CAN borrow money of us in small sums as well as large. Men and women employed—Business Men, too—we will give you the fairest rate in Chicago. LADIES of reputable family may easily borrow on their own name and promise. We will give any new patron the same consideration we have given a host of honorable borrowers of quick and emergency money in our eleven years of the people's banking business, which has culminated in our now occupying new quarters, not only the most commodious but considerately convenient for those desiring to transact a personal business. Close to State-st. stores—heart of business district. We have no "insurance" or "Mercantile connection" or other device or deceit. But straightforward and courteously we offer our services and just terms to any honorable person, with or without security. Tel. Central 7054, or call, private offices [also ladies' room], in connection with banking room, at Seventh Floor, 122 Monroe-st., cor. Clark. WEST & COMPANY.

I APPRECIATE ACCOUNTS OF HONORABLE people [men employed or in business, ladies with allowances from their husbands or incomes from other sources], who want large or small sums, confidentially, with or without security. My location [30 min. from Loop district] and my being the president of a large manufacturing, wholesale, vehicle establishment [Bradstreet's and other agencies show its standing], and not a professional money lender, assures a privacy not possible to those who deal with brokers in downtown office buildings, where money lenders congregate. Professional lenders demand high rates, usually asking so much that the average straightforward citizen realizes that an exorbitant interest for any time is burdensome. My average rate, all charges positively included, is never more than 1, 2, or 3 per cent monthly, depending on risk and amount loaned. Individual waiting rooms. Ask for WILLCOXE, care The Englewood Co., 538-540 E. 63d-st., cor. Greenwood-av. Tel. Hyde Park 4333.

CROWN PIANOS TALK FOR THEMSELVES.

They are boosted by those who own them and are using them.
